

PARENT-TEACHERS MEET AGAIN IN ASHLAND, JULY 1

ASHLAND, June 8.—Ashland will again have the Parent-Teachers Institute under the supervision of Miss Frances Hays, nationally known leader in P. T. A. work. In last year's institute, Miss Hays was assisted by Mrs. Hill, former state president, and Mrs. Perkins, present state president of P. T. A. There were many women in attendance last summer and a large representation of interested women are expected to be present at the coming one, which will be held July 1, 2, and 3. The sessions will be held in the Civic club house and committees have been appointed by the P. T. A. council to make all necessary arrangements. There are six institutes being held in the state, Portland and Pendleton have three days; Monmouth two, and Eugene and Roseburg each have one day.

W. J. Fullerton and family of Victorville are among the recent arrivals in Ashland. They are here through the efforts of the land settlement representative, Arthur Foster.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Turner have returned from a vacation trip of a number of weeks. Both are looking especially well. Mr. Turner was very ill for a long time in the winter, and the change has been most beneficial.

Miss Gertrude Haan, Miss Edna Goheen and the Misses Ruth Sims and Dorothy Abbott who have been spending the past week at Bandon, returned yesterday. The weather seemed made to order for the rains came at night, giving them the day time for sightseeing, fishing and all the amusements that belong to a seaside resort. They report the trip made with no untoward happenings to mar their pleasure.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Bolton of Twin Falls, Idaho are in Ashland for an extended visit at the Methodist parsonage. They arrived recently. Mr. and Mrs. Bolton are the parents of Mrs. Chaney. They are anticipating a delightful vacation, and expect to see the various and varied attractions in the vicinity of Ashland before their return.

Mrs. J. M. Ross and Mrs. J. L. Harner are hostesses at the regular meeting of the Wednesday club, which occurs June 8th at 2:30 o'clock in the parlors of the Presbyterian church. The membership and their friends are cordially invited to come to the meeting and enjoy a pleasant afternoon.

Among a number of programs planned for Children's day, there will be special exercises commemorative of the day at the Presbyterian church at the Sunday school hour from 9:45 until 11. Songs, readings, group exercises or playlets will fill the hour. The offering will be used to establish Sunday schools in destitute places.

Mrs. Florence Studebaker expected to leave Sunday evening for the north, visiting a number of places en route to Chicago, where she will visit her father; thence on to Greensboro, N. Carolina. Mrs. Studebaker has spent some time with her friends in Ashland. She was a resident here many years and enjoyed meeting those with whom she was associated for so long.

N. S. Harrison and his sister, Mrs. C. H. Pierce have been spending the past week in San Francisco, a business trip. They arrived home Saturday.

Capt. and Mrs. Moore who have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Moore's mother, Mrs. Anna McCarthy, have gone to Camp Lewis, where Capt. Moore who is military instructor at Berkeley, will act as training teacher there for a time.

A family reunion will be held when the different members of the family of Dr. E. B. South arrive in Ashland.

Dale South of Port Arthur has already arrived. Mrs. O. Finch of Greenville, Mich., Charles Smith of Alligan, Mich., Mrs. Fisher of Albany, Mrs. Eden of Bandon, and Mrs. Spade of Lewiston, Idaho, will arrive soon, making this gathering a very real reunion.

From friends we learn that Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Robertson who left a fortnight ago for an auto trip, are in Newport and enjoying their stay very much. Mrs. Robertson has been quite ill for a long time but was greatly improved before their departure, and this vacation outing is expected to completely restore her health.

It is planned to send at least five representatives of the senior C. E. to Portland from the Presbyterian church, to attend the International C. E. convention which convenes July 4 to 14. The money to defray the expenses of the delegates being subscribed this morning. Other C. E. societies will also be well represented.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Peron with Mrs. Thelma are in San Francisco this week with relatives and friends. Mrs. Emma Geder and daughter, Miss Linda Geder have gone to Portland for a sojourn of several weeks. They expect to enjoy the Rose carnival while there.

Little Hugh Page is spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Wallis at their ranch at Wagner Springs. He is enjoying his taste of real country life.

Joe and Collins Hartley of Phoenix have been spending the past week the guests of their relatives, the Foley family on B street.
