

LOCAL GRANGES TO PERFECT PLAN FOR AGRICULTURE FAIR

An informal meeting and picnic of Farmers and Grangers of Jackson county was held at the Enterprise Grange hall June 7th.

There were present officers and members of Roxy Ann, Eagle Point, Live Oak Granges, their families and friends, all coming laden with boxes and baskets of provisions which grange ladies know how so well to prepare.

Camp tables were spread for 100 guests under shade trees on the grange grounds.

After the feast, the master of Enterprise grange invited all present into the hall, and calling the meeting to order, welcomed the guests and announced the following impromptu program:

Songs—America, followed by reports by all those present who attended the State Grange at Dallas, which was listened to with much interest and profit. After this all were treated to excellent music by members of the Roxy Ann grange, which was greatly appreciated.

There was then presented a resolution regarding an agriculture fair, which was followed by general discussion of ways and means, led by Worthy Masters Steward and Ward. By resolution it was decided that a committee be appointed from each grange to meet and confer June 17 to perfect plans to be presented July 19th at a general meeting to be held at Eagle Point grange.

In well chosen words the visiting masters on behalf of their members thanked the officers and member of Enterprise grange for a very pleasant time which, was responded to by the master of Enterprise grange, after which by invitation, the visitors were conducted through the new school building.

Attractive Bill for Vaudeville Tonight

Southern songs and melodies are featured in the Orpheum Junior Advanced vaudeville to be presented at Hunt's Craterian this evening. R. H. Varnadore and his Kentucky Ramblers are the lead number on an exceptionally attractive bill. They dance and sing the latest popular songs, and are masters of jazz and syncopation. "On a Moonlight Night" is a rural comedy sketch presented by Bob and Peggy Valentine. The plot revolves about a city shiek and a country lass, and is replete with comedy chatter. A special stage setting adds to the effect.

Harry Garland, an Al Jolson type of comedian offers "Sons and Wiv." He has a pleasing voice, and imitates a dignified colored gentleman to perfection.

The Three Saitos have an acrobatic act labelled "Monday Morning," that is different from the run of tumbling act, and is full of sensational surprises.

Miss Helen Staples, called the "Prima Donna Petite," presents an act of classical and popular songs.

The bill gives promise of being one of the best of the summer season. There will be the usual comedy, and "Topics of the Day," for the photoplay portion of the program, and the Craterian orchestra, conducted by F. Wilson Waite.

SECOND TRIAL IN WALKER INSURANCE CASE IS STARTED

The suit of the A. W. Walker Auto company of this city against the Firemen's Fund Insurance company, for collection of $10,724.77, asserted to be due on insurance policies, as a result of a fire on February 11, 1921, in a warehouse on North Grape street, this city, was started in the circuit court Monday. Circuit Judge Charles M. Thomas on the bench.

The present trial is the second hearing of the case, a verdict in favor of Walker being reversed last April by a decision of the state supreme court, and a rehearing was ordered.

There were 17 cars, a tractor, and a couple of trucks in the warehouse when the fire broke out, the vehicles being the second-hand used car department of the auto firm. Some were burned up, and some were singed and scorched by the flames, the extent of the latter being one of the crucial points in the suit.

The plaintiff holds that the collection of insurance on the policy is due the defendant, and the defense alleges that the value of the cars was over-stated, the year of their make set ahead and the engine numbers changed.

The auto company is represented by Attorneys Gus Newbury and E. E. Kelly, and the insurance concern by Attorney Charles Reames. A. W. Walker was the chief witness, his examination resulting in several sharp interchanges between counsel.

The case is expected to last three or four days.

PAT DAILY AND WALKER ARREST GAME VIOLATORS

Patrick Daily, the special or ranger warden of the state fish and game commission, is back again on duty in this locality for a short time, after having gathered in some violators last week in Douglas county, and Sunday in Josephine county at the Savage Rapids dam.

Daily and Ed Walker, the Douglas county game warden, rounded up Ed Rompler of Roseburg on the charge of having fresh venison in his possession, for which Rompler was fined $300.

Ranger Warden Daily, assisted by his deputy, Roy Parr, game warden of Jackson county, while working in the Savage Rapids dam locality, arrested Cal Allen of Oregon City on the charge of netting fish under the dam, and also captured the net. Allen will have his hearing in Grants Pass tomorrow and it is understood that warrants are out for others on the same charge.

Interest Increasing Schilling Chef's Name Cake Offer

Suggested names for the Schilling Chef's mystery cake are beginning to arrive and from now on the volume of the chef's mail will continue to increase. The prize offer remains open until 6 o'clock Friday night, and Saturday morning the judges will decide the winners. Another entry coupon appears in the Mail Tribune today, in connection with a repetition of the chef's offer of cash for the best names suggested.

The "Name the Cake" prize offer has aroused a great deal of interest and wherever he goes the chef is besieged with questions relative to the proposition. Several ladies inquired as to whether more than one suggestion could be submitted by a single person. They were advised that, as names were desired, there could be no objection to any person sending in two or three names if they so desired. It often occurred, he explained, that a better name came to mind after a first had been forwarded, and in that case it was perfectly proper to submit the second.

The method of selecting the winners is also a matter of general interest, judging from many questions asked the chef. The judges will not know the name of any person sending a suggestion previous to the award of prizes. Suggested names will be submitted to them by number only, and only the names of prize winners will be published.

Grocers in Medford, Ashland and all towns in this vicinity have been supplied with entry coupons, which may be had for the asking. The recipe for the "Mystery Cake" is printed upon each coupon, and it is not necessary to submit the cake to the judges. Suggest a name for the cake—a name in all that is desired.

MAKE HOUSE TO HOUSE CANVASS TO SECURE AUTOS

The undersigned committee appointed to secure the 600 cars to convey the 2000 Oregon national guardsmen to as near Crater lake as the snow line will permit on June 29, met at the Chamber of Commerce rooms last night and completed the details for securing the remaining needed number of cars:

R. W. Clancy, M. D. Cole, Fort Hubbard, C. C. Lemon, E. C. Gaddis, A. L. Hill, Emil Mohr, J. W. Wakefield, W. J. Warner, Ed M. White, H. L. Walker, Lewis Ulrich, Larry Schade, W. W. Walker, Lee Garlock, Elmer Wilson, Herb Grey, Ralph Pollock, Dick McElhose, Bill Gates, Hank Pace, J. W. Judy, J. W. Jacobs, Seeley Hall, Carl Tengwald, John Orth, Spike Dawson, Fred Scheffel, Bill Young, Ben Moller, Pop Gates, Paul McDonald, Fred Wahl, A. B. Cunningham, Horace Bromley and G. O. Alenderter.

After checking up on the number of cars pledged up to this time, which was found to be 222, the committee decided the plan for procedure was to divide the city into sections and make a house-to-house canvass. This evening at 6:15 o'clock the above listed committeemen, augmented by sufficient public spirited citizens to make it an even 100, will depart from certain given points and by 7:30 hope to have the entire city thoroughly covered and the remaining needed number of cars signed up.

Car owners in the country who might be missed by this committee are respectfully urged to telephone Secretary Boyl of the Chamber of Commerce, or Seeley V. Hall at phone number 75, and turn their cars over to this committee.

Officers and soldiers are already beginning to arrive in the city and there are only a few more days left until the encampment is on, with parades, band concerts, dances, dinners, auto races, etc., and the committeemen say that it is not in keeping with the spirit in which Medford does things to let this, the most important of the entire affair, drag any longer.

C. OF C. PRESIDENT STRONGLY FAVORS ANNUAL PAGEANT

One of the strongest boosters for a pageant this year is Dr. R. W. Clancy, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

"I want it this year," said Dr. Clancy, "and I want it next year, and every one thereafter, for I don't know of any one feature of our community life which has the general appeal, the educational value, or the entertainment features that it has."

"It is just such things as this pageant of ours, that will attract people to southern Oregon, and whatever benefits this region as a whole, benefits Medford also. The cheer of the brightly dollar isn't everything. While our Richards, mines, forests and climate are big features in attracting the homeseeker, yet he also wants to know what kind of a place he is bringing his family to, where it has to offer in the way of schools, churches, and entertainment.

"I am particularly glad that the Fair Board has placed the management of the Pageant entirely in the hands of Messrs. Andrews, Hazlrigg and Stevens. These men have proved themselves highly capable time and again."

"I know that the Chamber of Commerce as a body, wants this big annual festival to be perpetuated, and the way to do that is to make each succeeding pageant a bigger success than the one before."

Any Thomas who doubts the efficacy of applied sanitation will do well to read how Gen. Gomez conquered deadly epidemic diseases in Havana and the Canal Zone.
