

WANTS DIVORCE FROM HUBBY WHO REFUSED TO TALK

Charging that her husband, George L. Corby, a Southern Pacific telegrapher, did not speak to her for nine months, and took her to no place of amusement for four years, Viola May Corby Wednesday filed suit in the circuit court for divorce, charging cruelty.

This is the first divorce suit filed under the new law enacted by the last session of the legislature which provides that a fee of $5 additional be paid by unhappy pairs to cover the expenses of the district attorney appearing in divorce actions, as the law requires. Heretofore, the official was not recompensed. The fee goes into the general fund.

Mrs. Corby further alleges that on June 8 last, her husband ordered her out of the home, and "to stay out."

A decree of divorce, the custody of a minor child, $75 attorney's fees, $60 a month maintenance money for herself and $15 for the care of the child, is sought.

The plaintiff in asking the custody of the child recites, "realizing the affection of the defendant for the child is real, the plaintiff is willing the defendant should be allowed to see the child under certain restrictions."

The court is also requested to give Mrs. Corby the home and household effects. The couple are residents of Ashland and were married in Redding, Cal., May 12, 1912.

'MIKADO' MAKES A BIG HIT, 'DADDY LONG LEGS' NEXT

The largest audience of chautauqua week so far greeted the May Valentine company last night as they presented Sullivan's masterpiece, "The Mikado." The production was regarded as a masterful performance.

So far, "The Mikado" is the finest attraction of the program, although "Daddy Long Legs" Friday night promises to equal or outrival it.

Mrs. Roselt Knapp Breed of Boston, lady humorist, who gave costumed impersonations of various popular characters brought forth roars of laughter from young and old and takes second place to none who have appeared in Medford on the different courses. Such entertainments loosen up the tense muscles and give one a new lease on life.

The Charles Mitchell Mixer company, a trio of classical artists, added their part to the already high class performances. They help to uphold the strongly classical character of the chautauqua by playing the choicest of music. Mrs. Luella Dunbar Mitchell was formerly a Medford school teacher.

This evening the lecture by Oney Fred Sweet promises to be an eye-opener on the labor situation. For years Mr. Sweet was on the staff of one of the large metropolitan dailies, running off each week to try out a job in some new line and then writing the story of his inside experiences for the paper.

The climax of the Chautauqua week will come on Friday night in the presentation of "Daddy Long Legs" by experienced artists who have won reputations on the stage of both Canada and the United States.

Sports NOTED DRIVERS AND FAST CARS FOR LOCAL RACES

Indications point to some splendid auto and motorcycle races at the fair grounds Saturday and Sunday, June 13 and 14, as a number of noted drivers of the northwest have written and wired about the races and signified their intention of taking part. These inquiries came from Seattle, Vancouver, Portland and cities all over Oregon.

Some of these drivers took part in the races here before, know that Medford has one of the fastest dirt tracks on the coast and hangs up good purses.

Ernest L. Scott, the motorcycle man, is doing a lot of work helping to make the races a big success, and reports he has nine fast riders of the motorcycles outside of the county, including some from Seattle and Portland, already lined up to come and has a number of other prospects.

From inquiries made there will be between 10 and 15 fast cars and drivers, besides the local boys, who will participate.

Crowds are expected from all over Oregon and California to attend the races and the entertainments put on by the local committees for the visiting soldiers and the drills, demonstrations and band concerts by the national guard.

Berlenbach and Mike McTigue Rematched

NEW YORK, June 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—Tex Rickard has rematched Paul Berlenbach and Mike McTigue for a fight in August.

Rickard's action, coming soon after Berlenbach had gained the lightweight title in a 15-round bout with McTigue, caused surprise, as it had been expected that Jack Delaney would be the first challenger.

Burke Defeats Busukos

KLAMATH FALLS, June 11.—Henry Burke, Klamath Falls middleweight wrestler, tossed Pete Busukos, former world's welterweight champion, in two straight falls here last night. The men were separated to prevent a fist fight argument just before they went on the mat. Burke took the first fall in nine minutes with a punishing toe hold, and won the second fall in seven minutes with a double arm lock.

LaGrande Wins From Kelso

CRATER ROAD CLOSED TO OUTSIDE TRAFFIC ON 2 DAYS OF TRIP

The transportation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, in charge of the transporting of the 3000 Oregon national guardsmen to Crater lake and back on Saturday and Sunday, June 10 and 21, respectively, request local citizens who do not go on this important trip with their cars, to please refrain from using the Crater lake highway on those days, from a standpoint of safety first, importance, if they can possibly avoid it.

This notice is in keeping with advice from Sergeant J. J. McMahon, deputy state traffic officer, whose instructions are for one way traffic only, and cars that are on this highway these two days will be allowed to travel only if properly marked with an official guard car sign, which is being furnished to the cars to be in the caravan, and providing they are proceeding toward Crater lake on the 20th and toward Medford on the 21st.

BUS DRIVER GETS JAIL SENTENCE

J. O. Pierce, former Gold Hill school bus driver, found guilty of driving an auto while intoxicated by a jury after 27 hours' deliberation, was sentenced last week to serve six months in the county jail and pay a fine of $500. This is the first sentence, it is believed, passed in the state under the provisions of the so-called "drunken driver" act passed by the last legislature. Pierce was granted a stay of execution in serving his sentence "to put up his hay," which expires Monday. The case attracted considerable attention in Gold Hill, where Pierce is well known.

WARREN CONSTRUCTION CO. GETS CONTRACT FOR BUILDING LAKE ROADS

The Warren Construction Co. was the lowest bidder for the construction of 20 miles of hardsurfaced road leading from the south and west entrances of Crater Lake National park to the rim of the lake. The bid, which totaled $259,440.00, was the lowest of the four submitted. The other three were submitted by the Young & Baker, Smith & Schell and J. C. Cochran construction companies.

Activities will commence just as soon as national park authorities at Washington pass a favorable decision on the bid, and at present it is not known just how long that will be.

DR. ESTELLA WARNER TO SPEAK AT G. PASS

Dr. Estella Ford Warner is said to know more than anyone else in this state about what can be accomplished in improving the health of a community. She is medical director of the Marion County Health demonstration, where they are putting into practice the most advanced ideas of public health. As the former director of the department of Child Hygiene of the State Board of Health, she can advise us on the care and health of our children.

Dr. Warner is scheduled to speak on "Health" each day at 2 p. m. at the Homemakers Institute next week in Grants Pass. There will also be an opportunity at the conference house, $30 to $9 each morning for a private consultation over individual problems.

Tomorrow Last Day Chef Prize Coupons

The offer of the Schilling Chef, of $25 for a name for his "Mystery Cake," expires Friday night at six o'clock. All names suggested, to receive consideration by the judges must be in the hands of the chef by that time.

The judges, Mrs. A. B. Cunningham, Mrs. Jonas Wold and Mrs. E. N. Viljo, will meet at the Hotel Medford Saturday morning to select the winners, and following their decision checks will be mailed to the successful entrants by the chef and the winners' names published.

MILITARY SCHOOL HEAD SKIPS OUT AFTER DEFALCATION

HILLSBORO, Ore., June 11.—Local officers who hold a warrant against Harry Johnson, superintendent of the Oregon Military academy at Orenco, near here, charging issuance of worthless checks, believe he is headed for Victoria, B. C. The exact amount of the alleged bad checks and unpaid bills alleged to have been left has not been ascertained. One irregularity of the checks turned in was that they were dated 1925. Persons cashing them failed to notice the wrong date.

Johnson dropped out of sight about ten days ago leaving the forty young boys at the academy without supervision and almost without food.

The plight of the boys was discovered when Carl Hawkins, one of the boys in the school, was hurt by the explosion of a cartridge with which he was playing. Part of one of his fingers was blown off.
