

BRITISH TROOPS OPEN FIRE ON CHINESE MOBS

English Forces Protect Armory in Hankow—Japanese Follow Suit After Shops Are Destroyed—U. S. Missionaries Warned to Leave.

SHANGHAI, June 12.—(A. P.)—Fifteen thousand Chinese mill workers who had struck and later returned to work, walked out again tonight. The recurrence of the strike was considered an immediate result of the sharp disorders at Hankow, interior port, where nearly a dozen have been killed in a series of riots.

Lower outbreaks, principally directed against Japanese on the north Szechuan road were reported to foreign settlement authorities tonight. The shipping tie-up, due to the waterside strike, continued almost complete here tonight.

British Open Fire.
A supplementary report received tonight by the Japanese consulate here from Hankow stated that previous to the use of machine guns by the British today in protecting their armory six rioters in the Japanese concession had been killed.

The report added that all Japanese residing in Chinese territory in Hankow were taking refuge in the Japanese concession, which was being guarded by Japanese volunteers and a naval contingent. Barricades around the British concession, the report said, were being strengthened in anticipation of new attacks by the Chinese.

Battle in Deadlock.
While the gunfire continued today after a night of continuous shooting, neither army gained ground. The defending forces were anxious to attack Honan, but the project could not be promoted, owing to lack of vessels, all of which are held by enemy forces.

Steamers were proceeding to Hong Kong today crowded with refugees from the turmoil here. The movement of exports and imports is practically all as a result of the disturbance. Silk shipments, however, are moving under protection. Observers today reported that additional forces would be necessary for a decisive battle.

If the forces of General Ihsu Chung-Chi, who was reported near Canton with a Russian trained army, arrive in time to join with the forces of Chu Pei-Tak in assisting the attacking forces, the defenders may be driven out of Canton. Otherwise the Yunnanese will continue to hold the city.

Missionaries Warned.
NEW YORK, June 12.—(A. P.)—American missionaries and their families in the Hu-Peh province last week were ordered to return to Hankow immediately, according to a cablegram received today by the Episcopal mission headquarters. The message read:

"Situation serious. Women, children and missionaries have been ordered to this port."
About fifty American missionaries and their families were scattered about the province.

SHANGHAI, June 12.—(A. P.)—The killing of eight Chinese rioters at Hankow by defenders of the British wharf coolies employed by Butterfield and Swire, a British concern. A general strike was called today.

A Sikh watchman injured one worker on Wednesday night. A series of demonstrations followed which came to a climax on the bond yesterday, in a wild outbreak. Mobs marched on the municipal buildings, the British concession, the Japanese concession and attempted to rush into the armory of the British volunteers which was defended by a few men. At first the fire hose was employed without effect.

The riot volunteers fired over the heads of the mob. Finally a machine gun was turned into the rioters killing eight and wounding an unestimated number.

CANTON, June 12.—(A. P.)—Thousands of refugees are passing through the foreign concession here on their way to Hong Kong and safety, the result of a week of civil warfare in Canton.

Hong Kong steamers changed their schedules today, leaving earlier than they might pass between the two ports at the Boca Tigre, the entrance to the Pearl river (Chukiang) before the coming of darkness.

The foreign concession, Shameen, is the only point at which the Kong Kong steamers now can land, all other approaches to Canton being blocked. The second week of fighting, which has been continuous since last Saturday afternoon, found Shameen, which is a separate island, separated from Canton by a narrow strip of water, well protected and its commanding positions fortified. Thus far the combatant armies have not disturbed Shameen, although promiscuous firing in Canton, has killed many non-combatants and injured many more. Several cases of looting in the native city also have been reported.

Military reports today showed few developments in the war situation, one report said the Kwangtung army seeking to capture Canton had broken through the Yunnanese lines with a force of 5000 men.

General Yanghsieh-Men commanding the Yunnanese troops holding Canton, issued another statement in which he declared his loyalty to the Kuomintang (peoples party), the organization of which the late Sun Yat-Sen, was the head and reiterated his refusal to join the faction fostering bolshevism.

The bolshevist secret agents are said to be busy in Canton agitating for a general strike of workers in public services. The strike of Chinese seamen is reported spreading.

The Kwangtung army leaders have threatened to bomb the city from the air. The fighting at present is extremely serious.

MOVIE ACTOR IN OREGON DROWNED

MARSHFIELD, Ore., June 12.—R. D. Jones, a Hollywood actor, doubling for a star in the Famous Players-Lasky company here filming "The Ancient Highway," was drowned in the Columbia river near Sugarloaf dam, four miles above Myrtle Point at noon today. Jones was shooting rapids in a canoe for a picture to precede release of a log drive. The canoe overturned in the rapids and Jones disappeared.

TELLS THRILLING STORY OF RESCUE RACING BALLOON

BRUSSELS, June 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—Until proof to the contrary is forthcoming the Belgian Aero club is abiding by its decision that Veenstra, pilot of the balloon Prince Leopold, won the Gordon Bennett balloon race.

Veenstra's original telegram reported his landing on Cape Torinana, about 50 miles from Corunna, Spain, more than 800 miles from the starting field. An unsigned telegram from Corunna said last night the balloon had alighted in the sea off the Spanish coast, which would disqualify Veenstra as Wade T. Van Orman, American pilot, was disqualified by coming down in the water off Ushant light France.

The efforts of the Aero club officials to communicate with Veenstra to clear up the mystery have proved unavailing.

Leon de la Rocca, pilot of the Spanish balloon Esperio, has returned to Brussels and tells a remarkable story of adventure in which he and his aide, Pontan Lopez Jesus, were saved by the American steamer Sacandaga near the Isle of Wight, in the English channel.

The Esperio was driven over the channel toward the Atlantic Monday, with scant hope of reaching the Isle of Wight or the English shore, and passed several ships which apparently did not recognize her distress signals.

At last the aeroplant sighted the Sacandaga which, although going in the opposite direction, reversed and offered assistance. Wishing to save his balloon, De la Rocca threw out a floating anchor and tried to keep the basket a few yards above water until he and his companion could be taken off and the gas bag retrieved.

Disaster threatened when the steamer approached, as gas from the balloon was sucked into the funnel of the Sacandaga and ignited. The flames penetrated to the fire room, creating a panic among the stokehold crew, who rushed on deck. Several men were injured.

Meanwhile De la Rocca lost his balance and fell. His feet caught in the cordage of the balloon and he was hanging head down when a sailor reached him and cut the ropes.

The American captain and crew took the aeroplant to London.

West, 162nd infantry; Lieutenant Colonel James S. Gay, Jr.; Lieutenant Colonel Alvin C. Baker; Lieutenant Colonel William S. Gilbert; Major Thomas E. Riley; Major A. W. Cleary; Major Clarence McMurray; Major Joel C. Booth; Major W. G. Scott.

P. O. KLAMATH INDIAN AGENCY IS ROBBED, BUT LITTLE TAKEN

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., June 12.—Robbers who attempted to break open the safe in the Klamath agency postoffice during the night evidently were frightened away, according to Superintendent Fred A. Baker, in a report of the attempted robbery this afternoon.

Entrance to the building was gained by taking out a pane of glass in a rear window. The robbers wrecked the cash register and procured about $3 in small change. They also took a shotgun and several boxes of shells as well as several articles from the general merchandise store in which the postoffice is housed.

The safe knob was knocked off, but the safe was not opened. Postmaster Cyril Elliott said over long distance telephone this afternoon. Drills, files, a hammer and other safe-wrecking tools were left as though a hurried escape had taken place.

A postoffice inspector is now en route to Klamath agency from Medford to take up the investigation.

A phone message was received here this morning by Postoffice Inspector G. E. Hougen from the Klamath Indian agency stating that some time during the night the Agency postoffice had been entered by burglars, who took some money and stamps from the office, but were unsuccessful in their efforts to blow the safe.

Postoffice Inspector Hougen left this forenoon on the Klamath Falls stage, enroute to the Agency, to make an investigation. The telephone message he received did not state how much money or stamps were taken.
