SALVATION ARMY THANKS DIST. ATTY. FOR HUT DONATION

The Salvation Army wishes to thank District Attorney N. C. Chaney for his turning over to them of the refreshment stand known as "The Hut" on Crater Lake highway. Mr. Chaney may be assured that the Salvationists will have nothing whatsoever to do with bootleggers or moonshiners; on the contrary, they will endeavor to hand out plenty of "sunshine" to all who stop at this "half-way house" between Medford and Camp Jackson.

Thanks are also due the Elks and Kiwanis who have promised the local corps assistance in connection with what is being done for the guardsmen, and the Pacific Fruit and Produce company for a substantial donation of watermelons—the first such treat the men at the camp received upon arriving in Medford.

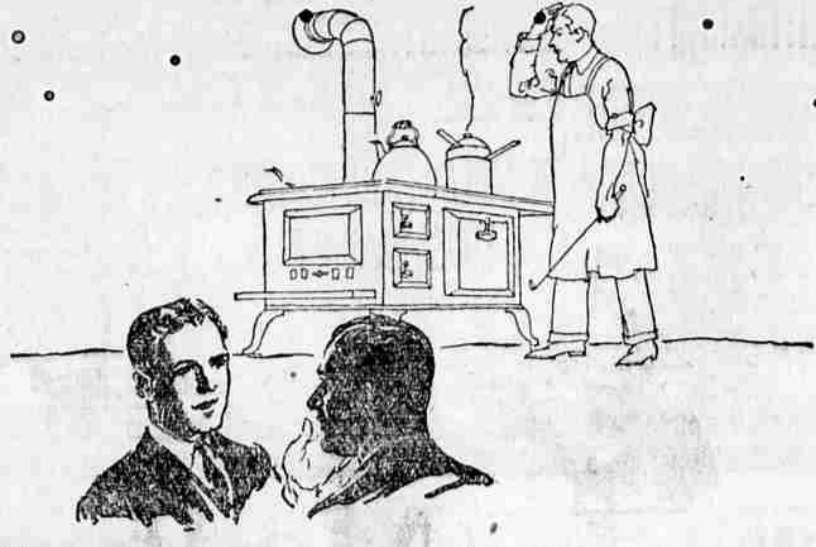

Oregon's National Guardsmen are well fed at Camp Jackson, but like all boys, they naturally like fruit, candy, etc., and especially do they appreciate its being handy while they're writing to the folks at home. The cherries donated yesterday disappeared quickly.

CITY OWNERSHIP OF POWER PLANTS IN U. S. DECLINES

The Oregon Public Utility Information Bureau has received figures compiled from authentic sources which show that less than five per cent of the entire electric power produced in the United States is generated by municipally owned and operated systems.

During the past 40 years a total of 869 American cities and towns have by vote of their taxpayers abandoned or sold for private operation their municipal electric light and power and gas plants.

Except for three notable exceptions, Cleveland, Los Angeles and Seattle, the vast majority of the municipal plants now in operation are located in very small communities, towns and cities of 10,000 population or less. The records also reveal the fact that each year an increasing number of these small public-owned plants are being taken over by private companies for operation. In Oregon, during the past year, two such plants, one at Stayton and one at Seio, have been purchased by private interests and the testimony of business men in these towns is that there has been a marked improvement in service.

If you spent 60 days straight at the kitchen stove

—you'd see why it is that nearly eighteen hundred homes within reach of the Copco lines are now using electric ranges.

Two hours a day, every day in the year, is probably a low estimate of a housewife's time in the kitchen. Sixty full days, in all—and they're worth making easier!

Electrical cooking is easier, and cleaner. It puts an end to dirt and ashes. It means less sweeping of floors, less cleaning of walls, cleaner utensils.

Electrical cooking is tastier. Uniform, controllable heat saves the flavor of dainty foods.

Electrical cooking is economical—surprisingly so. The average cost of electricity for cooking is only about twice the cost of the electric lighting current in the same home. (Actual average figures for your own neighborhood will be shown you upon request.)

Don't pass the next display of electric ranges without just dropping in and asking your dealer more about them—and about the convenient payment terms he is offering.

The Stage

Plot Centers Around Four Flushers.
The central character of "The Show-Off" is an obnoxious but fascinating four-flusher, a glib jolliter, a $32 a week clerk who gives the impression that he has a hundred people under him in his department, who talks about taking out a fifty-thousand dollar life insurance policy, and who wears a toupee and pearl buttoned vest and shoes.

When he comes to call on his sweetheart, he slaps her father on the back and he calls Mrs. Fisher "Mother" and fills the house with quips and cracks and his self-appreciative guffaw, and though the Fisher family take a lot of hot shots at him, they make no dent.
Much to their disgust, he marries the daughter. Soon he is talking about buying a house and furnishing it on the installment plan.
When Amy's father dies, Aubrey says, "I wonder why your father never liked me? I always tried to be clubby with him."
He borrows an automobile, runs into a street car, breaks a traffic cop's arm and is fined a thousand dollars (which his brother-in-law pays) but it does not faze him a bit.

OREGON HOMEMAKERS INSTITUTE OPENS IN GRANTS PASS JUNE 17

The detailed outline for Miss Cooley's talks on clothing at the southern Oregon Homemakers' Institute in Grants Pass this week follows:
Wednesday, June 17th, 9 to 10:30 a. m. Demonstrations of how the construction lines of garments can enhance or distort the figure. It's hoped that women will bring garments to be discussed.
Thursday, June 18th. The principles of line selection in costumes will be discussed. Friday, June 19th, actual illustrations of the effects of dress and accessory lines, such as beads, etc., will be given.
Any garment from hats to dresses may be brought for consultation on points of fitting or design, at the conference hour from four to five each afternoon.
Miss Helen Kay who will have the other daily morning class, 10:30 to 11:30, is rated in the east as one of the best women in the line of handwork in the country. Her program is as follows:
Wednesday: Lamp shades, all varieties and materials, and all practical.
Thursday: pictures, how to choose them, and hang them.
Friday: dyeing. This is of interest to every housekeeper who wants to either make her old faded curtains look new or desires special color effects.

The Screen

At the Rialto.
"Salome of the Tenements," comes to the Rialto tomorrow for two days, at the head of a big cast which includes Jetta Goudal, French actress, is seen in the title role of this picture, while Godfrey Tearle, brother of Conway Tearle, portrays the leading male characterization.
The story has for its locale the slums of New York City's East Side. From the Ghetto to Fifth Avenue is the rise of Salome, the vivacious girl of the tenements. She has a passion for luxury that carries her from wail to lady.
"So This Is Marriage" closes tonight. A special feature is an insert in natural colors of the Biblical story of David and Bath-Sheba.
A clever Century comedy, "Faging Money," a Hodge Podge, and Peggy Ridley at the organ are additional features on the bill.

Westerners know what a tire should be,

ONE glimpse of California, or Oregon, or Washington, or any Western state proves that the West is the motor ground of America!

California, for instance, leads New York and every other state in registration of passenger automobiles!

A group of successful Akron tire engineers caught a vision of the opportunities in the West. Its vast resources and possibilities for growth appealed to them.

Digging into the facts, they learned that 30 per cent of the nation's tires are used west of the Mississippi. And only 3 per cent were made there!

They transferred their skill and resources to the West.

Their C-T-C Cord today is regarded as one of the three or four really fine tires in America. Nine western states give it a remarkable sale. Farther East its good name is rapidly spreading.

We shall be glad to give you expert information about your tires, and—if you need them—put on C-T-C's—either balloons, semi-balloons, heavy-duty cords or oversize cords!

Plenty of Comedy In Vaudeville Bill

Comedy and lots of it, is the outstanding feature of the Orpheum Jr. Advanced vaudeville at Hunt's Craterian theater Tuesday, special bargain matinee at 2:30 o'clock, and two performances in the evening at 7 and 9 o'clock.
"Gotta Have Meat," presented by Douglas Graves and Co., a playlet based on the flu, has situations and lines that everybody will recall as applicable to his own battle with the disease.
"Mother's Boy" depicts the old homestead with laughs and amusing incidents instead of the usual tears and tragedy. Jerry Mack and Co. present it.
Even the jugglers and acrobats on the bill are comedians. Raymond and Geneva do "Deverous Comedities," and Zenator and Devaro, on the horizontal bar, introduce tonfoleery in a daring manner.
The Harkin Sisters relieve the comedy deluge with a beautiful singing number, "Harmony and Class." The girls' musical repertoire includes both popular and classical numbers, with special scenic effects and beautiful songs.
The playlet portion of the bill is furnished by "Topics of the Day" and a Mack Bennett comedy, F. Wilson Waite, and the Craterian orchestra furnishes the music.
