WARMER WEATHER NEEDED BY FRUIT, SAYS CROP REPORT

PORTLAND, Ore., June 18.—The weather has been generally favorable for small grain, except that had some local damage and there was some injury by frost in elevated districts, says the weekly Oregon crop report issued here today by the weather bureau. Winter barley and wheat are ripening slowly. Most fruits need warmer weather. Raspberries and cherries are in market in small quantities. Strawberries are nearly gone in some places, but are still plentiful in others. Later fruiting are sizing well. The first cutting of alfalfa is in the stack in the milder localities and the second crop is starting well, but needs warmer weather. Early potatoes are in market in increasing quantities, planting of late potatoes continues. Some damage was done by frost to potatoes and gardens in elevated districts, and in a few northeastern localities hail was reported. Gardens need warmer weather. Hops are doing well. Flax is making good growth.

U. S. PEAR CROP WILL BE SHORT

CHICAGO, June 18.—(A. P.)—Fruit crops are short. Apples and pears as well as peaches, are expected to be in lighter supply than last season. The shortage of fruit is announced today by the United States government bureau of agricultural economics and is stated to be the effect of a severe winter or of spring frosts in some sections and dry weather in others. Prospect of fewer peaches than last year is especially apparent. The estimated production is slightly more than 47,000,000 bushels; eleven per cent less than in 1924. Decided gains as compared with last season are reported in the peach production of Missouri and California. The California crop of 16,000,000 bushels may prove the largest since 1922.
