ASHLAND ALSO IN HOT WAVE GRIP, MERCURY AT 100

ASHLAND, Ore., June 26.—One hundred and two degrees in temperature was the official registration on Wednesday. One hundred was recorded Thursday, a slight change for the better, which was quite appreciable. Those living on the hillsides had somewhat the advantage over those in the lower part of the city. However, the whole country is experiencing the same discomfort, which may be some satisfaction.

The Regue River Valley College Women's club held the last meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. F. D. Wagner on Granite street. Mrs. Leiland Mentzer of Medford presided. Mrs. Emil Peil was in charge of the program. In which Miss Lolita Pierson appeared in piano solo and Mrs. Roberta Ward-Bebb in vocal solo, with Miss Marguerite Hammond at the piano. Mrs. Peil reviewed the book the "Unveiled Ladies of Stamboul." During the social hour following, refreshments were served to perhaps 20 ladies.

A pretty home wedding occurred at high noon Wednesday at the Hostwick home in the Valley View neighborhood when Miss Mina Milner became the bride of Everett Hostwick. Mrs. Mabel Rechart was matron of honor and the bridegroom was supported by Harry Wasart. The marriage service was read by the Rev. J. C. Mengler of the Presbyterian church. The bride looked very sweet and dainty in her gown of white crepe de chine and carrying a bouquet of fragrant sweet peas. Following the ceremony an elaborate wedding dinner was served, at which covers were laid for 16 guests, relatives and a few close friends. The bride and bridegroom left immediately for northern points by motor. They will be at home to their friends at the farm home in Valley View. Miss Milner was the complimented guest at a very pleasant affair, a linen shower, given by Mrs. Mabel Rechart, at which many lovely gifts were received by the bride-to-be shortly before her marriage. The best wishes of the community belong to these fine young people.

On July 2 and 3 the Parent-Teacher Institute will be held in Ashland under the leadership of Miss Frances Hays, field secretary of the national association. Mrs. George J. Perkins, president of the state P. T. A., and Mrs. Louis Dodge, state vice-president, will assist. Miss Hays is spending a month in Oregon, one week of which is given Portland and Pendleton and Ashland being each given two-day sessions. Lectures will be given at the normal at assembly hour each morning and the afternoons will be spent from 1:30 to 4 at the Civic clubhouse. A large attendance and much interest was shown last year and an increased interest and attendance is expected this year.

Mrs. Aaron Andrews has been quite ill the past few days but is reported better today. It was voted by the student body to dispense with Saturday sessions at the summer normal. The hours of some of the classes have been changed on account of the warm weather.

Mrs. E. D. Briggs, Mrs. William Meyers, Mrs. F. L. Putnam, Mrs. August Schuerman, Mrs. O. Winter and Mrs. L. Hilty were hostesses Wednesday afternoon at one of the most attractive of social functions honoring Mrs. J. F. Melkie and Mrs. J. F. Rocho, both of whom are guests of friends in the city. The reception was given at the Civic clubhouse, which had been made very lovely in effective arrangement of flowers, with easy chairs and couches giving the home-like touch. In the receiving line with the hostesses were the honor guests, who were greeted by 75 of their friends during the afternoon. After an hour spent in delightful chat, the hostesses announced a program which afforded keen enjoyment and taxed the creative genius of the company. A duet, cello and piano, played by Mrs. H. S. Aikins and her daughter, Miss Rose Aikins, was exceptionally fine. They kindly responded to insistent demand and played a second selection. It has been planned to prepare a newspaper from editorial to advertisements for the complimented guests that they might have the very latest word in current events in the city. To this end Mrs. Schuerman selected a number of the guests to head the different departments, each of whom chose an able staff to assist in their work. A half hour was allowed to fill the various columns. A contest was put on in which the guests decided the name for the journal. Those on the editorial staff were Mrs. Grace E. Andrews, editor; Miss Grace H. Chamberlain, associate editor; Mrs. F. D. Wagner, telegraph editor; Mrs. Gordon MacCracken, personals and locals; Mrs. W. M. Poley, society column; Mrs. L. S. Brown, poets' corner; Mrs. Hal McNair, fashions; Mrs. Charles Robertson, answers to correspondents; Mrs. G. N. Kramer, jokes; Mrs. C. W. Chattin, household hints; Dr. Mattie B. Shaw, advertising department. To permit the guests to share in the news the heads of the departments read the contributions to their columns. After this Mrs. Rocho expressed her appreciation of the pleasure of the afternoon and spoke of the club work in days past and what was now being done by the club. Owing to the lateness of the hour, guests were not permitted the pleasure of hearing from Mrs. Melkie. Both ladies were especially active in the Civic club work when in Ashland.

All were then conducted to the dining room, where the hostesses served the most delicious ices and cakes from a table which was an artistic triumph in its appointments. The centerpiece of lovely blossoms in French arrangement arose from a golden base. Golden butterflies touched flowers and favors and were alight on the beautiful baskets of flowers that formed the effective background. Dull blue candles gave just the relief needed in the brightness. Mrs. Otto Winter and Mrs. E. D. Briggs presided at the table, while Mrs. Putnam, Mrs. Hilty, Mrs. Meyers and Mrs. Schuerman assisted about the rooms. Mrs. Melkie and Mrs. Rocho are making extended visits in the city and are the motif for many pleasant affairs.
