ROCK AVALANCHE KILLS COUPLE IN THE HIGH SIERRAS

LOS ANGELES, June 29.—Identity of the woman who was killed last Saturday with John L. Richardson, Los Angeles attorney, by an avalanche in the High Sierras, twenty miles above Kernville, Cal., was established early today as Mrs. Cora Elizabeth DeSilva, wife of Fred de Silva, of Texas.

The bodies of the two victims, who were members of a week end fishing party were found late last night buried beneath tons of rock.

Advices from Porterville, Cal., where the remains were taken, say that the body of Mrs. DeSilva will be shipped to Mountain Home, Ark., where Mr. and Mrs. James Mewse, parents of the dead woman reside.

According to versions of the tragedy by three other members of the party, the two were left fishing in a mountain stream when a heavy rain storm came up.

When the two did not return to camp after five hours their companions went back to the spot where they had left them and found it buried under tons of rock.

Bulk fuel oil when mixed with air is explosive.
