

2 WESTINGHOUSE OFFICIALS GIVEN A COPCO BANQUET

H. D. Shute and A. A. Brown, prominent eastern officials of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, were visitors in this city last night and were entertained at dinner by a group of representatives of the California Oregon Power company.

Mr. Shute is vice-president and manager of sales for the entire Westinghouse organization, numbering over 50,000 employees with headquarters in Pittsburgh, Pa., and Mr. Brown is manager of syndicate operations with office in New York City. Both of these noted visitors were loud in their praise of the aggressive spirit of the west, which is particularly evident in the rapid growth of the electrical industry on the coast.

Mr. Shute complimented the Copco organization upon the exceptional progress made in completing the "Copco Two" project in a space of only a year's time, stating that this big power project was the only one he had in mind that was completed in so short a period.

Mr. Shute spoke at length concerning the evolution of the electrical industry, commenting, particularly upon its competitive youth as regards other industries. This fact was brought home most forcibly by George Westinghouse some 30 years ago when the first alternating current equipment was still in the experimental stage. He predicted a growth of at least 50 per cent in the electrical industry throughout the United States during the next five years with perhaps a still greater advance in the coast states.

Mr. Brown supplemented Mr. Shute's remarks with some interesting sidelights on the power industry as a whole, bringing out the importance of being constantly on the alert to improve even the ultra-modern labor-saving equipment of the present day.

Both of these guests were brought to Medford through the efforts of C. D. Herbert of San Francisco, sales representative of the Westinghouse company. After spending the night here, the party left this morning for Copco, Calif., where they will inspect the new "Copco Two" project before proceeding to Portland, which is their next stop.

NOTED DRAMATIST AND CRITIC TO GIVE A FREE TALK HERE

Clayton Hamilton, noted dramatist, author and critic will lecture under the auspices of the women's clubs of Medford in Hunt's Craterian Thursday afternoon, July 10, at 4:30 o'clock, on "Richard Brinsley Sheridan, His Plays and Place in the Theater."

For some years Mr. Hamilton has been associated with Professor Brander Matthews in Columbia university, New York, and is widely known as a writer and lecturer on matters dramatic. On his present tour of the United States and Canada, Mr. Hamilton has been lecturing in connection with the revival of the old English comedy, the stage in the day of Sheridan and, generally, on dramatic art of the 18th century. His lecture in Medford will anticipate by one week the appearance here of "The Rivals," in which Minnie Maddern Fliske heads the cast. After his engagement in Medford, Mr. Hamilton goes to Eugene to fill a period before the summer session of the University of Oregon. There will be no charge for admittance.

Mr. Hamilton became known some 20 years ago as one of the ablest lecturers in his field. For periods of varying length he was dramatic critic of The Forum, The Bookman, Everybody's Magazine and Vogue. His best known books are "Materials and Methods of Fiction," 1908; "The Theory of the Theater," 1910; "Studies in Stage Craft," 1914; "On the Trail of Stevenson," 1915; "Problems of the Playwright," 1917; "Manual of the Short Story," 1918; "Seen on the Stage," 1920; "Conversations on Contemporary Drama," 1924.

OREGON PIONEERS ELECT OFFICERS

PORTLAND, Ore., July 3.—Bruce Wolverton was elected president of the Oregon Pioneer association at the business session in the reunion Wednesday night.

Other officers are: Mrs. Mary Barlow Wilkins (1852) vice-president; George H. Hiram (1852) re-elected secretary; William M. Ladd (1855) treasurer.

LETTER GIVES CLOSE-UP VIEW OF SANTA BARBARA EARTHQUAKE

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Holmes of this city have received a letter from a relative living in Santa Barbara, Cal., who tells of experiences during and after the temblor.

"It happened at the best time in the morning, before the stores and offices were opened," says the letter. "George was up and in the back yard I had just got out of bed and was combing my hair at the dresser when that never-to-be-forgotten shock was felt, and threw me against the wall and my bedroom cot into a corner. All the furniture fairly danced a shindy over the room. George came to the window and called for me to come out, but I was so awe-stricken I could not find any clothes to put on. I finally hastily slipped on a dress and some shoes and ran out. We felt three very hard shocks. It fairly twisted our house, like it was an insignificant drygoods box. Nearly all my nice china was broken, but will not give me a thought or regret if it is gone. I am so thankful for greater things.

"No doubt you have learned ere this of dear old Santa Barbara's misfortune of being destroyed by earthquake—and presume, it has no doubt been exaggerated. But it was surely bad enough. Never want to experience another one."

The letter states that under orders of the city authorities, people are sleeping on the lawns and that minor quivers are felt all day and night.

SALEM MAY GET A BIG PAPER PLANT

SALEM, Ore., July 3.—That a new manufacturing industry, to be known as the Western Paper Converting company, makers of paper products, will probably establish a factory in Salem, with a capitalization of $200,000 and a plant necessitating the employment of from 150 to 200 persons, became known here today. The choice of locations lies, it is said, between Salem and Vancouver, Wash., but Salem has in its favor certain advantages for the company, one of which is that the Oregon Pulp and Paper company offers to give the new concern a site on Front street.

Mainly interested in the project are E. J. Moseley of Los Angeles, A. D. Alpine of Seattle, and E. A. O'Neill, for some time with the Oregon Pulp and Paper company.

Articles manufactured by the mill will include envelopes, paper boxes and wrappers. Printing machinery for the printing of labels will be installed.

TROUBLE CARS TO AID MOTORISTS IN COPCO 2 CARAVAN

A record attendance is predicted for the big Copco celebration and dedication which takes place at Copco, on the Klamath river, Sunday. Many parties of local people plan to attend this event of importance to the people of southern Oregon. Attendance is not limited to customers and stockholders of the power company, but is open to everybody in this territory.

An interesting program has been prepared starting at 11:30 A. M. and continuing throughout the day. The dedication ceremony will be a departure from the usual drawn-out exercises in which long speeches play a part, and will occupy but a few minutes time. It will be of an allegorical nature. Following the ceremony there will be a big "feed" with an abundance of "good eats." Band concerts by two big bands, tours of inspection through the big new power house and over the entire project, and other items of interest will serve to occupy the time to good advantage until 4 P. M. the hour of departure. Unique bronze medallions will be given as souvenirs of the occasion to each of the guests, to be kept as a memento of the occasion.

This final inspection and dedication will afford visitors an exceptional opportunity to see the big power development in its entirety before the water is turned in. Those who desire will be personally conducted through the big tunnels and through the largest wood stave pipe in the world.

The trip to Copco is a pleasant drive of about three hours over good roads and through some of the scenic spots of southern Oregon and northern California. The route from Hornbrook to Copco follows the picturesque Klamath river and has been plainly marked by Copco signs to avoid any confusion. The road will be patrolled by Copco "trouble cars" to render all possible assistance to visitors who may have tire or engine trouble and no effort will be spared to show the guests a good time after their arrival.

COAL MINERS GIVE OWNERS TERMS OF UNION AGREEMENT

SCRANTON, Pa., July 3.—(A. P.)—The anthracite scale committee today submitted to the anthracite convention for its ratification the following tentative demands for renewal with mine owners of the contract expiring August 31.

A contract for two years; complete recognition of the union, which means adoption of the check-off; ten per cent wage increase for tonnage men and a $1 a day additional for day workers; equalization of day rates; payments on the basis of 2340 pounds ton, where now paid on car basis.

Other demands include: Quicker adjustment of grievances;

Improvement of housing conditions on company property; equalization of colliery work during shutdowns and other matters of technical character. The convention adopted a demand number one which stipulated that the next contract be for two years with complete recognition of the union in the anthracite fields. Union recognition would carry with it the check-off which provides for the collection of union dues at the mill. Some opposition expressed to the check-off feature by a small minority was howled down by the miners as a whole.

Klamath County visitors in the city include Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Howard, Earl Levin and C. Nelson of Klamath Falls, and C. M. Duncan of Merrill.

Loans

When you secure money from this Association on a Real Estate Loan, it is amortized, that is, paid back in small equal payments. As a result, when the time for which the loan is secured has passed, your property is free and clear.

We are prepared to make all good loans on our usual terms, which terms are as good or better than can be had elsewhere. Furthermore, the interest is kept at home to build up our community and promote its welfare and prosperity. Unsafe, exorbitant loans are not desired.

We protect the interests of our members, both borrower and investor.
