Local and Personal

The public market was light this morning, not even one crate of berries of any kind was on sale and no apricots graced the market counters, but the rest of usual line of home grown truck produce was on hand in plentiful quantity. Next Saturday will see the passing of the cherries from the market and will close the season with the sale of the few remaining Bings and Lamberts, which were grown in the Ashland district or upon the highlands of the valley.

Regarding the special school bond election being held in Ashland the afternoon the Ashland Tidings of Wednesday said: "Although the announcement made yesterday that stockholders in the Lithia Hotel corporation were entitled to vote at the special bond election calling for the issuance of $160,000 in bonds for the construction of a new school building and the remodeling of the old Hawthorne building, word was received this morning from the bond attorneys retained by the board of education, declaring that these stockholders were not entitled to vote. They declared that only holders of property which had been on the 1924 assessment rolls were eligible."

In the city of Portland alone approximately 25,000 tons were sold prior to June first this year. Carbon briquets produce more heat than any other fuel on the market, because they are manufactured from pure carbon, separated free from ground coal or coke, free from ash or clinkers.

Carbon briquets used in furnaces or fireplaces produce better results than any other fuel and also perfect results are obtained in coal staves, wood heaters and ranges. Carbon briquets have no equal for heating and cooking purposes and are economically and clean, but do not conflict carbon briquets with the ordinary coal briquets as they are as different as hard and soft coal.

The mysterious question "Do you love your wife?" has nothing to do whatever with a coming road show or moving picture production. This fact was gleaned when the management of the local theaters were interviewed in regard to this enigmatical question, which is attracting so much interest in the city. Moreover, it is not a publicity scheme for Merrick's famous Motor Inn, according to a statement from Walter Merrick, head of that establishment. In fact these noted users of advertising seem to be as much in the dark as any one.

JUDGE COLVIG TO ATTEND BIRTHDAY OF WAR COMRADE

Judge William Colvig leaves this evening for Hillsboro to celebrate the birthday of J. C. Hartley, an old comrade whom he has not seen for sixty years. Mr. Hartley will be 80 years old tomorrow, and to this birthday celebration the guests must be older than fourscore years to attend.

The judge was once a member of the 1st Oregon Cavalry, Company C, and to this company Mr. Hartley also belonged. At full strength it included 104 members, of which but five remain alive today, and it was while looking over an old roster, that Mrs. A. Blades, daughter of Mr. Hartley, found the judge's name. Immediately she invited him and cautioned him to not make known his coming, as his arrival was to be a surprise to her aged father, a meeting after 60 years separation.

The judge, an ardent baseball fan, intends to leave his friend Saturday morning for Portland, where he will attend the baseball games played between Portland and Salt Lake City and Monday morning he expects to return to Medford.

BAND CONCERT IN PARK TOMORROW BY DOKKIE BAND

Another musical treat is in store for the people of Medford and vicinity, as on tomorrow evening the Crater Lake Temple D. O. K. K. band will give a concert in the city park.

This will be the first band concert in Medford since the close of the Oregon national guard encampment and will be the first of the series of summer concerts in the park by that popular organization, which hopes to get in several weekly concerts before the band leaves to attend the national D. O. K. K. convention next month at Providence, R. I.

The concert will begin at 8 o'clock and will be a mixture of popular and classical numbers.

The Dokkie band is soon to be heard in concert in Klamath Falls, concerning which the Klamath Falls Herald says:

"Klamath Falls is to have another visit from the famous Crater Lake Temple D. O. K. K. band on the 18th of July, at which time that organization will hold its annual ceremonial in this city. In the evening of the same day there will be a big concert, followed by a dance, the music for which will be furnished by this splendid musical unit."

Daily Report on the Crime Wave

STOCKTON, Cal., July 9.—While spectators were looking on from their porches across the street, Charles Rossiter, 78, nearly blind and armed with a toy pistol and with a blue bandanna across his face, held up and robbed Wallace Holmes of $6 here last night.

Rossiter was trailed by his victim, captured and turned over to the police. He was jailed on a charge of robbery.

NEW YORK, July 9.—(A. P.)—Mrs. Margaret Dianco and her 6 year-old daughter, Jennie, were found murdered today in their apartment in an East 34th street tenement house. Their heads had been crushed in and their throats slashed.

Police said that the murderer used a saw-like instrument, which almost severed the heads. The child's body was found at the threshold of the apartment indicating that she had attempted to escape her assailant.

The bodies were found by a man who said he was looking for a furnished room.
