The boat has evidently slowed up the tourist traffic to and through Medford, as only 75 out of the state cars were registered at the local state traffic bureau yesterday, and the remainder at the local hotels were not so heavy as usual. As for weeks past, most of the hotel guests of yesterday and last night were from California.

One of the finest fish caught in Diamond Lake for some time was brought to Medford by M. C. Stone of Long Beach, Calif., who caught the limit in an hour and a half. The largest of the fish, a beautiful rainbow trout, weighed 19 pounds, and was perfectly proportioned. Such a fish was put up by the trout that Mr. Stone caught himself quite fortunate that he succeeded in getting him in the boat. The big fellow was caught near the center of the lake about 9:30 a. m. when the surface of the water was fairly smooth. All of the other fish were caught in the same vicinity. Mr. Stone used a spinner and at the time of the big catch was trolling very slowly, maintaining just enough speed to keep the spinner going.

Word has been received here that the Olsen brothers, heads of the Sunset Smelter, have bought and leased the Millionaire mine on the Willow Springs road on Bluewell hill. This deal has not been confirmed by the Olsen, but it looks like real business and we believe the acquisition of that valuable property would be a great advantage for the smelter. There are several thousand tons of coal already on the dump ready for transportation to the smelter and the same is ready for production on a large scale. This indicates the early opening of the smelter.—Gold Hill News.

Gardening opportunities exist in the Rogue valley for the man who takes advantage of them. If the experience of L. E. Larm of South Eighth street, is any criterion, Mr. Larm last night marketed 600 pounds of tomatoes from his acre patch, receiving 20 cents per pound for his produce. He has already taken off $500 from the acre patch, according to figures at the cooperative association. (The tomatoes are just now coming into full bearing and Mr. Larm will realize a much larger sum. The plants were set out when quite large and came into bearing earlier than the rest of the patches.—Grants Pass Courier.

Joe Wharton made a statement the other day that the steelheads were rising to a fly. But somehow or other there were fishermen who doubted his word, due possibly to their inability to hook any of the big fellows. So last night Joe went out to prove that he was right. He hooked a large one, all right, but that was only a part of the battle and after two leaps into the air, the fish made a wild surge down stream and then jumped once more, shaking the hook from his mouth. Joe had, at least, proven that the fish were rising. Al Letcher went through the riddle a little later and picked up a six pounder. Al had his fish better trained and managed to get him to shore.—Grants Pass Courier.
