The weather was given a variety late last night by a lightning and thunder storm in the city and vicinity, during which a trace of rain fell for a few minutes. About midnight lightning struck the high tension power line in the Hill vicinity, which caused the lights to go out in this city for a short time. The maximum of yesterday, 88.5, was the lowest for over a week past, but the same day a year ago had a maximum of 104. Generally cloudy weather is predicted for Saturday, and a continued mild temperature.

THE HOME OF BREAD LIKE MOTHER MADE

Whether or not a store renders a real service to the community is best determined by its growth. — From a small beginning four years ago we now have the biggest store of its kind in the state.

Service is of two kinds—one that increases costs by getting the goods to you in the most expensive way—the other by the shortest or most direct route. We have chosen the latter, which is the money-saving way. That it has the approval of the public is clearly shown by the fact that on last Saturday we served 2628 customers.
