

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH IN AUTO ACCIDENT

By F. M. Jones
CENTRAL POINT, July 24.—Al Hermanson narrowly escaped death Thursday afternoon when Jesse Richardson's ice truck which he was driving tipped over at a culvert near the Bill Wright place north of town. Hermanson and a man in a wagon both approached the culvert at the same time and it seems that one or both of them misjudged the other's distance from it; at any rate Hermanson, in order to miss the wagon, ran his truck off the grade, turning it over onto its side and doing considerable damage both to the truck and the driver. The right side of the truck was pretty well smashed and one wheel broken. While Hermanson sustained no broken bones he was quite severely bruised about the legs where one fender struck him, besides several cuts on the arms and head.

Miss Bernice Berger, Mrs. J. B. Hamrick and daughter Florence visited friends in Medford the first of the week.

Mrs. Dolly Love and family spent Sunday taking in the beauties of Crater Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Paxson spent Sunday in the peace and quiet of the mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Willoughby and nephew stopped in town Sunday to see Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Paxson, but were disappointed as the latter were away for the day. The Willoughbys are old friends of the Paxsons, having known them in Butte, Mont., several years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Willoughby are now living in Los Angeles, Calif.

Miss Dorothy Warren returned Wednesday to her home at Merlin. If any more families come to Central Point to locate it will be very difficult indeed to find living quarters as there is hardly an available house in town now; and what will be the result when school starts again in the fall!

F. B. Payne called on F. M. Jones and parents as he was passing thru town from Cottage Grove to Klamath Falls Thursday.

Mrs. May Lewis is employed at Mann's Dept. store in Medford, having but recently been called to the position.

CRATER L. CARAVAN IS PRAISED BY MOTORIST

Undoubtedly automotive dealers of Medford, Ore., had much to do with (and deservedly will reap some business reward from) the fact that a feature of the recent annual encampment of the Oregon National Guard, in that city, was an automobile caravan, arranged by the people of Medford, by which about 2200 National Guardsmen were taken to Crater Lake. These were 487 cars in the caravan, which it is claimed was not only the largest that ever entered a national park, both as to the number of cars and people, but one of the largest of any kind on the Pacific coast.

Medford, being a city of 10,000, feels rather proud of the fact that it could take care of 2200 people in this way, supplying them absolutely free entertainment as well as the cars—Motor West.

OVER 200 PERSONS AT CHURCH PICNIC

The Methodists of the First M. E. church enjoyed a picnic yesterday at the beautiful Elks picnic grounds. Over two hundred kiddies and grown-ups sat down to supper at 6:30 p. m. at a long table in the shade of the alders overlooking the Rogue, and did ample justice to the good things provided.

Ovo. Kunzman, in charge of the entertainment features kept things moving from start to finish, so that no one had a dull moment, and everyone came home wishing that this might be made an annual event.

GOLD BRICKS BEING MANUFACTURED HERE

Henry Callaghan, manager of the Standard Roofing and Supply company of this city, is manufacturing mantle brick, from the tailings of the Opp mine near Jacksonville, and it is estimated that the product runs $2.50 in gold to every 1000 brick. Mr. Callaghan believes this puts Medford on the map as the only city in the country where gold bricks are manufactured legitimately and at a profit.

SAENGERBUND OPENS IN PORTLAND TONIGHT

PORTLAND, Ore., July 24—(A. P.) Representatives of seventeen singing societies of Washington, Idaho and Oregon were here today for the north Pacific saengerbund, which opens here tonight. A second concert will be given tomorrow night and an open air concert will be given Sunday. About 2000 out of town visitors are expected here for the concerts. Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink is to be soloist.

BLAMES LOW PRICE OF FARM PRODUCE FOR DIVORCE SUIT

In a cross-complaint to his wife's divorce suit, filed in the circuit court Thursday, Victor Brown of Kerby, Josephine county, places the blame for domestic storms on "agricultural conditions," and asks that Hester E. Brown be not granted her prayer for a decree of divorce.

Relative to maintenance and suit money, requested by his mate, Brown avers "plaintiff is in good health, and earns as good wages as defendant, and is able to pay the cost of suit and maintenance, as well as defendant."

Brown sets forth that after their marriage, he and his wife went to live on his father's farm and stock ranch near Kerby, Oregon, with the verbal understanding, and that when a mortgage of $5000 and the $10,700 purchase price of the farm was paid, he was "to receive the surplus and the farm and equipment thereof."

The answer says the low price of cows and farm produce has prevented a realization of this, the result being "just a living."

Brown further claims that his wife's actions in leaving him three times, "in due to restlessness and dissatisfaction with farm life," that he was building a separate dwelling when divorce action was filed, and "that my wife is a liberty to come back."

Mrs. Brown, in her suit, charged "cruel and inhuman treatment," and "that she was nothing but a slave or a servant to her mother-in-law," and that she was compelled to do manual labor in the fields.

The Chamber of Commerce office staff and officers have been enjoying a supply of very fine apricots, donated by J. L. Linn of Eagle Point.
