SCHWARTZ CASE STILL PUZZLING INVESTIGATORS

Martinez Police Work On Clue—That Man Killed for Life Insurance Was a New York Laborer—Still No Trace of Schwartz.

MARTINEZ, Cal., Aug. 5.—(A. P.)—Search of a safety deposit box belonging to Charles Henry Schwartz, chemist of the Pacific cellulose company for whom a warrant of murder has been issued in connection with the explosion in the laboratory of the plant which led to the finding of an unidentified body in the partially destroyed room, revealed today that Schwartz had left two unsigned wills.

MARTINEZ, Cal., Aug. 5.—(A. P.)—An unidentified workman from New York City was tentatively accepted by authorities today as the murder victim whose charred body was found in the laboratory of the Pacific cellulose company last week, after an explosion and fire as the result of which Charles Henry Schwartz, Berkeley chemist, is being sought on a warrant charging murder.

Evidence gathered yesterday revealed that Schwartz, who at the time of the explosion was believed to have met his death, had advertised for a helper about the plant and had told employees that he was expecting a man from New York.

Working upon this theory Sheriff R. R. Veale and District Attorney A. B. Tinning hoped to establish the identity of the dead man, whose body was burned beyond recognition and solve the case which is believed to be an insurance hoax plot.

Schwartz carried insurance policies in excess of $100,000, payable to his wife and the cellulose company in which Mrs. Schwartz was heavily interested.

The reappearance yesterday of Joe Rodriguez, Portuguese farm hand, who had been virtually accepted as the dead victim, left the investigators with no clues upon which to work.

Victim Is Described
A description of the man from New York was given officials by Theodore Hendis, who lived near Walnut Creek where the plant was located, and talked closely with that of the dead man in regard to both stature and clothing, pieces of which were found in the laboratory where the crime took place.

Benedis said he picked up the workman in his automobile near Walnut Creek. The man said he was on his way to the "silk plant" to answer an advertisement for work. This occurred a few days before the explosion, Hendis declared.

Pieces of a blanket in which the body of the victim was believed to have been wrapped before the fire, were identified by Hendis as part of the one carried by the workman.

KLAMATH PROHIBITION CASE UP IN AIR PIERCE AT SEA

SALEM, Aug. 5.—Governor Pierce said today that he did not know just where he was "at" relative to the prosecution at Klamath Falls of E. L. Elliot, district attorney of Klamath county; William S. Levens, state prohibition commissioner, and L. L. McBride, one of Levens' agents.

Determined to have the cases sifted to the bottom, the governor yesterday, in response to appeals from Elliot, ordered Attorney General Van Winkle to prosecute the cases to the full extent of the law. Last night Van Winkle called the governor by telephone, said he had received the order, and added:

"I am leaving on my vacation. I will be gone three weeks. I will take up the Klamath county prosecutions when I return. Good bye."

Asked if he was pleased or displeased at Van Winkle's action, the governor good humoredly told newspapermen to use their own judgment about that.

"I have done my duty under the law," he said.

The indictments against the three officials he interpreted as "backwash from the wets. Levens, he said, is at Klamath Falls urging that his case go to trial.

Elliot was indicted in connection with the disposal of some sugar confiscated several months ago in a liquor raid while he was special prosecutor. It developed here today that Elliot had communicated with the attorney general about the sugar, asking if he should destroy it. Van Winkle, says the governor, advised him not to destroy it, but to sell it and give the money to charity if there were no other legal method of using the money.

Levens was indicted on a charge of larceny of a revolver. This was taken from a Mexican whose place was raided by Levens and several county and city officers, Levens, according to his story, informing the Mexican that since he was not an American citizen he had not right to the gun.

CINDERELLA IS FOUND AT LAST BY MILLIONAIRE

18 Year Old Bohemian Girl Only Child of Long Island Janitor, Is Adopted By Edward A. Browning of New York City.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5 (A. P.)—Picked from 12,000 applicants, a dancing blue-eyed Cinderella with flaxen Mary Pickford curls, looked forward today to a paradise far beyond the realm of fairy tales.

Of poor Bohemian parents, Mary Louise Spas, 18 years old, becomes the adopted daughter of Edward A. Browning, millionaire rector. She is the girl with the kind disposition and the sunny smile for whom Mr. Browning advertised three weeks ago.

Mary will be the playmate of another foster-child, Dorothy Sunshine Browning, 9, who was lifted in the lap of luxury six years ago. In return, for love and affection of her new father, she is to receive her pick of 40 or 50 frocks, the run of town and country estates, with swimming pools and roof gardens, enter into homes of elite and an education in the most fashionable of girl's finishing schools.

Mary's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Spas of Astoria, L. I. They came from Prague in search of wealth when she was a year old. She is an only child. Their savings were enough for two years of high school, a few piano lessons and some time at a ballet school. Spas is superintendent of a downtown office building. Adoption papers were signed yesterday.

Mary read Mr. Browning's advertisement and walked five miles from her home to his office two days after applications were opened. Mr. Browning interviewed thousands of applicants since she visited him, but none caught his fancy as did she.

She is the third child adopted by the millionaire. The second Marjoria Gloria, is with Mrs. Browning, from whom he obtained a divorce last year in Paris.

FRENCH WOMAN FAILS TO MAKE BRITAIN SHORE

CALAIS, Aug. 5.—(A. P.)—The English channel remains unconquered by woman. The icy waters which have numbed so many swimmers, last night halted Mile Jane Sion of France, when within one and one-quarter miles of her goal on the English coast. Mile. Sion was in the water 13 hours and 30 minutes. She made a gallant effort and came closer to success than any woman who ever tried to negotiate the treacherous 21 miles of the channel between Cape Nez and Dover.

In addition to establishing a record for immersion by women, she came closer to the English shore than any other of the several women who have tried to swim across the channel from France to England.

Determined to accomplish the difficult feat, her courage did not fail, despite the difficulties offered by the perverse tides and the cold water. About 9 p. m. however, she began to feel numbness from the cold, and at 9:40 p. m. she was taken aboard the tug which brought her back to France.

The lack of speed of the French woman, is held to have been a contributing factor to the non-success of her swim, as she was caught by outgoing tides three miles closer to the French shore than had been mapped out by the schedule.

Had she been able to swim nine miles in the first four hours, as she would have touched the English shore about 10 o'clock last night.

From their observations of Mile. Sion's attempt, close followers of these trials for years say that given conditions similar to those which attended yesterday's swim and with the water just a little warmer, Miss Gertrude Edler, the American girl swimmer, who is waiting an opportunity to essay the channel swim, will succeed. James Wolfe, who is training Miss Edler, believes that after four hours' swimming she will be nearer ten miles out than nine.

FRANCE MAKES PUBLIC TERMS OF RIFF PEACE

Recognition of Sultan's Spiritual Authority Demanded—New Boundaries of Riff State Fixed—League to Control.

PAIRS, Aug. 5 (A. P.)—The foreign office denied the authenticity of an account published in Paris today of peace terms alleged to have been offered to Abd-El-Krim, the rebel Moroccan chieftain by France and Spain.

The alleged terms included administrative autonomy for the Riff, Abd-El-Krim's recognition of the spiritual authority of the sultan of Morocco and purported to set boundaries for the Riff state.

In official circles here, the account published is attributed to the Riffian leader himself. Officials admit that the alleged terms are correct as regards an offer of autonomy to the Riff, but the frontiers outlined in the account as well as conditions relative to the Riff army are declared to be imaginary or propaganda.

At the quai d'Orsay the authorship of the document is thought to be part of the Riffian leader's policy aimed to keep up political agitation in France and to present the peace terms in such a light as to make them look unacceptable to the French socialists. This policy, it is stated, also is aimed to raise questions which are likely to cause international difficulties in the settlement of a new regime for the troubled zone of Morocco.

PARIS, Aug. 5 (A. P.)—Recognition by Abd-El-Krim of the spiritual authority of the present sultan of Morocco and his successors is a stipulation contained in the first clause of the peace terms recently made to the rebel country's Moroccan leader by France and Spain. These terms, which would be placed under the control of the league of nations, are outlined by the correspondent of the Matin Tatin Spanish Morocco as follows:

First, that Abd-El-Krim recognize the spiritual authority of the sultan of Morocco and his successors.

Second, that France and Spain recognize the administrative authority of the Riffian territory.

Third, that the Riffian state will be allowed a sufficient police force to maintain order, this force to be officered by the French.

Fourth, that the enlarged zones of Ceuta and Melilla become the absolute property of Spain.

K. CITY BUILDING CRASHES, 5 DEAD DOZEN INJURED

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 5 (A. P.)—Firemen digging today in a twisted mass of rubbish and debris recovered two bodies, bringing the total to five persons who lost their lives in the collapse of a three-story brick rooming house yesterday. The dead:

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Holliday, William Banks, negro workman, William Simpson, negro workman. An unidentified carpenter. Nearly a dozen persons were injured.

The building, owned by Joseph C. Cartella, had been leased to John DiSalvo, who was having it remodeled into a cabaret. The weakened condition of the walls and supports, due to the alteration, is believed to have caused the two upper floors to cave in.

The second and third floors of the structure were occupied by tenants. When the crash came, Mr. and Mrs. Holliday were catapulted to the first floor and buried beneath brick and timbers.

ROSEBURG, Aug. 5.—The destruction of the Vaughn Harold sawmill near Glendale, and the starting of three forest fires was reported this afternoon by the Douglas county fire patrol. Fires are reported on brush creek, near Elkton, on Nickle mountain, east of Riddle, and on Middle creek, also out from Riddle. The brush creek fire covers about fifteen acres and the nickle mountain fire 40 acres. No report has been received on the Middle creek fire, which was reported at 12:40 today. It is said to be throwing up considerable smoke, however, indicating that it is of fair size.

TENNESSEE TO CONTINUE FIGHT SAYS GOVERNOR

Chief Executive of Southern State Declares His People Believe Bible Is Inspired and Will Fight to Put Down Evolution Theory.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Aug. 5.—(A. P.)—Governor Austin Peay of Tennessee, in a statement here today announced that the state of Tennessee will employ counsel from this time forward and combat every question that can be raised on appeal of the John T. Scopes case.

The governor and Mrs. Peay left today for Nashville after a six weeks' rest here.

"What the effect of the evolution trial at Dayton will have in the long run, is for the future," the governor said. "Surely it will cause a more widespread investigation of the whole theory of evolution that will go a long way to clarify the atmosphere.

"The reckless teaching of a subject which has been carried on until now and going uncorrected and undigested has been steadily making agnostics and unbelievers among our youth in shocking numbers.

"Ours, from the beginning, has been a Christian nation. Its doom is sealed and its descent toward oblivion well begun whenever we embrace infidelity and agnosticism as a people.

The story writers and sensation mongers who crowded Dayton during the trial as if they were having a Roman holiday, made great sport of it and some of them were literally unjust and unkind to the people whose hospitality they accepted, and of whose noble qualities they knew little or nothing. The fact is they were among a clear-seeing and thinking people who have no superiors in natural intelligence and excellent qualities in the world."

The people of Tennessee, Governor Peay said, know that evolution is and in the very nature of things, must always remain a speculation and a theory. They believe that the Bible is the revealed and inspired word of the Creator of all things and are unwilling for their children to be taught the contrary.

The governor said that there is no federal question in the Scopes case.

"Tennessee is a sovereign state and except as forbidden by the federal constitution, has absolute and exclusive authority to regulate its local concerns and to employ its police powers without any federal interference," he said. "Whether the law, when properly construed, prohibits in our schools the theory of evolution, remains to be seen. It certainly prohibits its teaching as a fact. No state should permit that. In any event, Tennessee would not presume to regulate the schools and methods of instruction in other states and beyond treating with meddling from elsewhere who undertake to tell her how to run her own schools, she will give them no attention."
