

3 MORE DIVORCES FILED, BRINGS UP YEAR'S TOTAL TO 42

The ever-increasing list of divorce suits in Jackson county have mounted to 42, with the filing of three divorce suits in the circuit court last week. Charles B. Cowen asks a divorce from Minnie B. Cowen on the grounds of desertion, setting forth they were married November 19, 1909, and alleging that about December 3, 1914, the wife departed and has not returned. Ashland is given as the residence. Lessie Holland has filed suit against Hugh Edward Holland, also of Ashland, alleging incompatibility of temperament, due to 12 years' difference in the ages of the parties, rendering it impossible to longer sail the matrimonial sea together, the complaint asserts. The wife alleges there are pronounced differences in likes and dislikes, that since an illness of typhoid fever the manner of the defendant has changed, and it is charged he is "penurious, surly, mean and morose," "flies into a rage" when asked to buy food and clothing, and refuses to furnish money for an operation, the wife avers, is due to a nervous breakdown "brought about by the turmoil and strife." The complaint further states that the plaintiff gave up contracting in Kentucky to engage in railroad work at Ashland. A decree of divorce and the custody of two sons, aged 18 and 19 years, is sought. Jessiie A. Beery has filed suit against Charles H. Beery, alleging cruel and inhuman treatment in the form of blows, epithets and accusations. Mrs. Beery charges that during an argument May 1, last, at their home, she warned the defendant to desist his accusations and that she "resented their reiteration," and when she walked past a chair wherein the defendant was seated, he "did pinch her, whereupon the plaintiff in self-defense struck." It is also alleged that in January, 1925, the defendant hit the "plaintiff in the face while she was seated," and on June 8, last, "twisted her forearms" in a painful manner, and on July 28, last, ejected her from their home, throwing her clothes in the street. It is also averred that the defendant has the wedding and engagement ring, which he refuses to return. The custody of four minor children, $75 attorney's fees, $40 a month and a decree of divorce is sought.

SEA SERPENT IS ACTUALLY SEEN BY A CANADIAN

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 6.—(Canadian Press.)—John P. Babcock, deputy fish commissioner of British Columbia, today received an official report that a sea serpent, which children in the Queen Charlotte islands, in the Pacific ocean off the province, insisted they saw, was real.

"When I saw the animal going down the inlet," wrote John Van Valkenburg, who made the report, "he was traveling with the tide. He made a slow, wriggling motion, like a land snake employs when swimming at leisure. The head and six or eight feet of the body were above the surface."

"When the serpent submerged its body came up in a long spiral like a rope being dragged over a submerged object. I did not see the tail. The body was round, or a short oval, dark green, almost black on the back, growing lighter underneath, with spots of black. The head was rather long and I saw knobs that I took for eyes and nostrils."

Babcock said that the report "to me bears every mark of sincerity," though "nothing like that is known to science," and he was "at a loss to understand what the Queen Charlotte island people have seen."

Ballagh is a former member of the legislature, in which he served on the fisheries committee of the house. He is now field agent of the Columbia River Packers' association.
