By George McManus

11-YEAR-OLD SON RESCUES FATHER FROM DROWNING

SHELTON, Wash., Aug. 12.—To the heroism of his 11-year-old son and the desperate efforts of his wife Fred Neimann today owes his life. Neimann was swimming Monday evening in Island Lake, near here, when he was suddenly stricken with cramps. His young son Eugene was close to shore when he noticed his father's plight and swam to his rescue. While the frantic mother watched from the beach the lad struggled shoreward with the unconscious form of his father, then leaped into the family automobile and drove madly for town and a doctor. Applying artificial means of respiration, Mrs. Neimann was rewarded after an hour's fight by seeing the life slowly returning to the body of her husband. His eyes reopened as the son returned with medical aid. Neimann is the proprietor of an automobile firm here.
