3 CONVICTS BELIEVED TO BE IN SOUTH

With No Tangible Clues in Portland, Police Decide Murray, Kelly and Willos Double Tracked to South—Suspects Reported Near Chehalis, Washington.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 21.—Police today are still searching for the man who Wednesday night, representing himself to be Ellsworth Kelly, escaped convict, at the point of a gun forced T. T. Harrell to drive him about the city, but the officers do not connect him in any way with the real fugitives, who shot their way out of the Salem penitentiary more than a week ago.

The hunt for the criminals, as far as Portland is concerned, is at a standstill, with officers lacking a single tangible clue as to the course pursued by the hand trio after their spectacular arrival here Monday night in a commandeered automobile from New Era.

The conviction with police is growing that they doubled back on their route to the south on the same night.

STREETS OF EL PASO DARKENED BY BUGS

EL PASO, Aug. 21.—(A. P.)—El Paso streets again last night were ablaze with lights for the "plague" of crickets which a few weeks ago infested the city apparently had disappeared.

A new "white way" recently established in the city, attracted hordes of the insects and caused many complaints among the inhabitants, so that the city government ordered the lights darkened. Last night, however, the main streets of the city again were lighted, but less brilliantly.

The lighting of the main streets, however, is considered only a test to see if the crickets return.

DISCHARGE OF TAYLOR STIRS MILK FARMERS

Congressional Probe of Secy. Jardine's Action Demanded By Leader of Milk Producers—Action Viewed With Concern, Says Miller.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—(A. P.)—John D. Miller, president of the national co-operative milk producers federation said today a congressional investigation may be asked to determine the causes for the removal from office of Henry D. Taylor, chief of the bureau of agricultural economics.

Dr. Taylor resigned at the request of Secretary of Agriculture Jardine. "We view this action with grave concern," said Mr. Miller, on behalf of his organization, representing between 540,000 and 550,000 milk producers.

"Last winter there were two co-operative marketing bills pending in congress. One was known as the commission bill, being supported by the chairman of the president's agricultural commission. The other was known as the Dickinson bill.

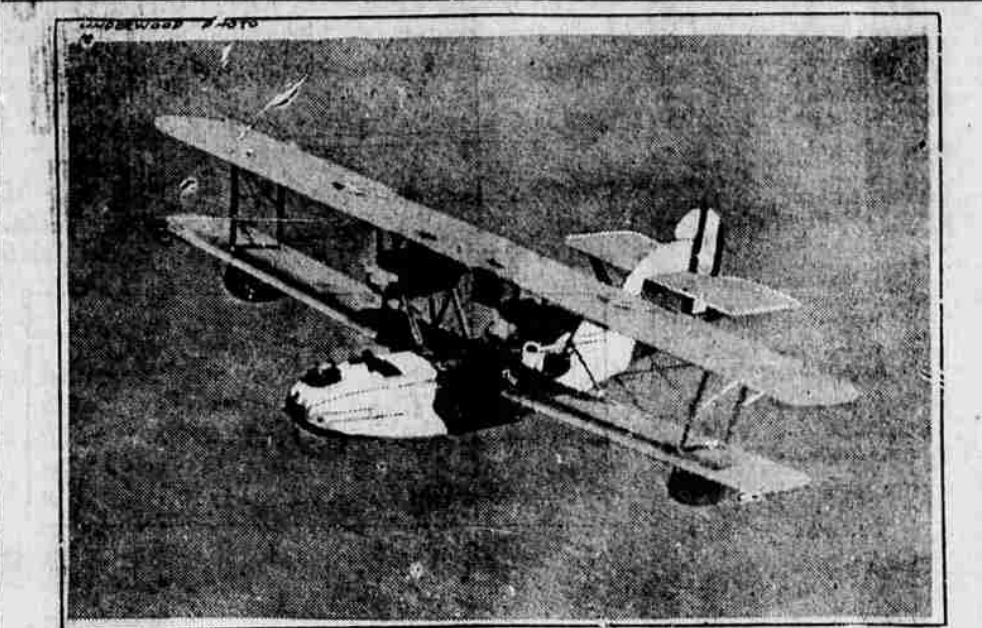

"The commission bill was opposed by substantially all of the co-operative marketing associations of the country. The Dickinson bill was supported by many co-operative associations.

UNCLE TOM TO DO CHARLESTON IN MUSICAL INTERPRETATION OF BOOK

LONDON, Aug. 21.—(A. P.)—The spectacle of old Uncle Tom, who in other days quivered under the lash of Simon Legree, doing the Charleston across the stage to the tune of "Them Cotton Pickin' Blues," is a possibility in the newest edition of Uncle Tom's Cabin, a musical comedy being prepared for English theater goers.

TO RETAIN TEXT BOOKS NOW USED

No Important Changes Contemplated By Commission, Members Declare—Cheaper to Retain Old Books at Advance Than Substitute Entire New Set This Year.

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 21.—Predictions that few changes would be made in the textbooks in use in the schools of the state were made here this noon by members of the state textbook commission, meeting here to solve the problem arising from the refusal of book publishers to furnish books except at an advance in price.

After thoroughly canvassing the books and prices offered by all companies bidding for the textbook contracts, members of the commission said that a comparison of the prices revealed that it would be cheaper to retain the old textbooks, even at the advance in price of from 10 to 30 per cent asked, than to substitute an entire new set of texts.

It is likely, members of the commission intimated, that some substitutions may be made, as they feel that a saving can be effected by substituting modified texts in some subjects.

Formal action to re-establish the texts now in use in the schools as standard for at least another year is expected this afternoon.

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 21.—Textbooks that will be used in the public schools of the state during the next two years will be considerably higher in price than the old books, it was indicated at the meeting of the state textbook commission in session here today.

The morning session was given over to a discussion of books and prices and the hearing of arguments by some forty book salesmen who are being allotted five minutes each to discuss the merits of their books.

Indications were that adoptions will not be made before late afternoon with the possibility that the session will carry over until tomorrow.

Opening of bids and preliminary organization occupied the entire day Thursday. Tentative selections were made of the subjects that will be adopted for the two and four-year periods, but these were being revised today as the commission got down to the work of considering the books available in each subject.

JAPANESE WATCHES 3 MEN STEAL HIS SAFE

SEATTLE, Aug. 21.—K. Yamada, proprietor of a dairy here, early today watched three men load a safe into an automobile truck and depart.

He thought they were moving a trunk from a hotel next door. The box was found in the outskirts of the city tonight of $100 in cash and several hundred dollars in negotiable papers. The safe was Yamada's and was taken from his office.

Tom himself, elimination of Eliza and the famous hounds and ice cake scene, introduction of a new comedy character named Jim Crow, and instead of the pathetic death of the old slave, his triumphant final appearance with a big wedding cake at the marriage of Lucy Rivers.
