The Screen

Mix in Typical Role. Tom Mix plays the role of Jim Lassiter in his latest production of "Riders of the Purple Sage." Zane Grey's popular book, Tony, the wonder horse, also plays an important part. The picture begins today at the Grand and is a picturesque romance of the west of 40 years ago. Mix plays the chivalrous, soft spoken cowboy. There are many thrilling episodes in which he displays his superb horsemanship, his skill with the lariat and his quickness in handling a brace of six shooters. Charming Mabel Ballin plays the role of the girl rancher, Marian Nixon, a graceful figure in boy's clothes, Lassiter's niece, Beatrice Burham plays as Lassiter's sister, Harold Goodwin the gallant young cowboy. Other players are Warner Oland, Charles Le Moyne and Wilfred Lucas, Fred Kohler, Charles Newton and Joe Rickson are lesser villains Arthur Morrison, Seesel Anne Johnson and Dawn O'Day.

At Hunt's Craterian. Because his romance with a beautiful girl interferes with his gambling activities Adolphe Menjou gives up affairs of the heart in favor of the card table and the roulette wheel in "Lost-A Wife," which comes to the Hunt's Craterian today for a two days engagement.
