"Travel to Crater lake this month is fully 20 per cent higher than August last year," said R. W. Price, head of the Crater Lake lodge, when he stopped a few minutes in Medford yesterday while en route from the lake to his headquarters at Ashland. The lodge, he states, is doing a better business this year than it has ever experienced before. He expects to have for the lake again next Monday and return the same day.

Jacksonville enjoyed an escaped convict thrill for a few hours Friday. Jason Hartman, was asked in his front yard early Friday morning, when he was awakened by two men talking and arguing about getting something to eat. One lit a cigarette, and Jason got a good look at his face. Sheriff Jennings, when the incident was reported to him, showed Jason a picture of the escapes, and Jason identified the hungry cigarette smoker as Condit Wilkes. Mr. Hartman offered to let $25 if Wilkes would let a star car be found near Frank Lybe's out of gasoline. The car was licensed to O. P. Mann of this city. The plot began to thicken, when it was explained by the capture of Tom Murray, and the news that Kelley and Wilkes were on the Washington side of the Columbia river.

MAN WITH $50,000 IN CASH SKIPS SPEEDING BAIL

Anthony Stolla of Los Angeles, Cal., forfeited a $250 cash bail yesterday when he failed to appear in Judge Taylor's court to answer to a charge of speeding preferred against him by State Traffic Officer J. J. McMahon. At the time of his arrest near Gold Hill, Stolla it is said, was traveling at a rate of 60 miles per hour. McMahon, who first met the man in Ashland, warned him to keep within the speed limit. To this the Californian retorted that he was in a hurry and would go over the limit until he reached Portland, his destination.

The arrest occurred Wednesday evening about 9 o'clock, at which time the traffic officer brought the man back to this city, where he furnished the necessary bail.

Two guns and over $50,000 in cash and securities, were found in Stolla's possession. He claimed he was speeding because of his hurry to reach Portland to close a business deal. He had three men companions in the car with him.
