

DEATH SUMMONS PIONEER WOMAN OF JACKSONVILLE

Mary E. Day, a resident of Jacksonville for the past 53 years, passed away at her home in that city Wednesday evening at the age of 84 years. Death came after an illness of 10 weeks. Mrs. Day was born in Boone county, Missouri in 1841 and came to Oregon in 1853 by way of the Shagons River route, and when thirty days out from San Francisco, her mother died leaving her 12 years of age, with two smaller children to care for until they could reach Oregon City where her father, John W. McGhee had a home prepared. On account of the death of the mother the children were placed in Grandmother Brown's boarding school at Forest Grove and were there when the children from the Whitman massacre were placed there. She later attended Willamette University and was a member of the first graduating class of that institution and of which class Lucy Anna Lee was also a member. After graduating she took up teaching. Her first school was in the John Day district. She also taught in the Portland academy, and was on the first staff of teachers of Albany college. She was married at Portland in 1872 to Silas J. Day and came to Jacksonville as a bride by stage. Of the four children born to this union only one, a daughter survives.

Deceased was a member of the Methodist church since she was 13 years of age and has always been a devout member.

Funeral services in charge of Congregational Parson, will be held at the Methodist church in Jacksonville at 2:30 Saturday afternoon in Jacksonville cemetery.

ADVENTISTS MAY TRANSFER COLLEGE TO JACKSONVILLE

One of the most important matters to be decided at the annual Southern Oregon conference of Seventh Day Adventists, which will begin tomorrow at Jacksonville, will be the decision, whether or not a site near Jacksonville is suitable for the location of their college, which was formerly located at Sutherlin.

For the past eight months the local chamber of commerce has worked in conjunction with the Jacksonville chamber in connection with the possible establishment of the college in Jackson county.

Over 100 members will be present from different parts of the southern part of the state, from Eugene, Marshfield, Klamath Falls and Roseburg. The conference proper opens tomorrow night in the old United States hotel and will be open to the general public. Saturday, the religious meeting will be held. Sunday forenoon the delegates will view the college site, which is near Jacksonville and that afternoon they will discuss the question and reach a decision by nightfall.

Eugene, it is said, is also offering a likely site, but according to local members, Jackson county may be given the preference, due to the advantages of the Rogue River valley. The valley, because of its greater size, it is claimed, offers more opportunities for students to be self-supporting.

PAUL M'KEE IS NAMED DELEGATE STATE TAXPAYERS

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 27.—(A. P.)—Denouncing the inheritance tax as socialistic and the state income tax as a foe to the investment of capital, members of the Western State Taxpayers' conference late yesterday passed resolutions against both of these much discussed money-raising measures.

The tax reduction plan of Secretary Mellon was unanimously endorsed while the delegates urged caution against appeals for federal aid.

The conference voted down after a long verbal battle the proposed resolutions opposing tax-exempt securities and reducing the elementary school period from eight to seven years.

Resolutions were based asking that the states pass laws requiring serial bond issues to eliminate the old fashioned and non-working sinking fund.

Formation of Taxpayer's leagues all over the nation was advocated and budgeting of all governmental units urged.

State Treasurer Tom Kay, in the chief address of the afternoon denounced "hidden wealth," saying in part:

"I should say that there is property with a marketable value of at least $500,000,000 in the state of Oregon that is escaping taxation. Devise some means of compelling the assessors to get this on the tax rolls and you will have gone a long way toward solving the problem of excessive taxation."

The following officers were elected: Milbank Johnson, Los Angeles, president; A. C. Ross, Salt Lake, secretary-treasurer; Henry H. Rolapp, Ogden, first vice-president; H. J. Hagerman, New Mexico.

The official state delegates are: Paul B. McKee, Medford, representing Oregon; C. E. Arney, Jr., Seattle; William H. Namy, San Francisco; F. N. Fletcher, Reno; Rudolph Kuehler, Phoenix; N. O. Danford, Casper, Wyo.; George Spaulding, Denver; John Edgerton, Helena, Mont.; E. C. Kierstead, Boise; John T. Smith, Austin, Texas.

The next annual conference will be in Los Angeles.

ITALIAN AVIATOR FLIES IN STORM, LANDS AT MANILA

MANILA, Aug. 27.—(A. P.)—Commander Francisco dePinedo, Italian aviator flying from Italy to Japan, dropped down on Manila during a rain storm today after flying from Antimon where he had been held by storms since last Sunday.

The daring adventure of the aviator was prompted by the irritation caused by continued delay at Antimon and his desire to reach Tokyo. He made his way in a storm that continued until he reached Manila.

Commander dePinedo's stay in Manila depends upon weather conditions and the time required to make slight repairs on his plane.

The aviator must await favorable weather on his northward course where typhoons are frequent at this season. An extensive entertainment program has been prepared for the commander, including a dinner with Governor General Wood, luncheon at the Army and Navy club and a reception by Filipino government officials.

Local Briefs

Dr. Fred Grey of Seattle, Wash., northwest field representative of the Congregational board of Sunday schools, has been secured to give a series of five talks to the Southern Oregon Older Girls' conference, to be held in this city during the first week of September. Dr. Grey is especially adapted to this work, and the conference feels very fortunate to have him present at this meeting.

M. H. Crawford, who is touring about the world by automobile, stopped in the city last night while enroute from Los Angeles to Seattle, Wash. While here he attracted considerable attention by the lettering on his car, which gave out the information that he had already visited 74 countries. Mr. Crawford left Bombay, India, January 1st, 1923, and will have completed the circuit about the globe when he returns there sometime next year. The main purpose of the trip is to gather suitable material to write a travel book.

Two carloads of Bartlett pears from the Van Hoovenburg orchard, which were handled through the Guy Corner Fruit company, were sold, according to recent reports, in England and Scotland at good prices. At Glasgow, one carload sold at 12 to 20 shilling per box, because of the ripeness of the fruit, while at Southampton, the other car sold at 22 to 24 shilling per box.

The Copco office building has been flooded the past few days with posters announcing the Forum dance for next Friday evening, August 28, the Fair Grounds Pavilion. The latest poster, one done by Steven Benson, of the accounting department, shows a modern day sheik and sheba dancing on a veranda under Japanese lanterns; the whole picture being in an oval shaped frame, the borders of which are utilized to convey the information that the Night Hawk orchestra will furnish the music for the occasion.

Harry Walther, W. H. Crawford, D. E. Harder and John Carlson who were attending the Western States Tax Payers' conference in Portland, returned home this morning.

HARDWARE STORE ROBBED AGAIN

A second robbery within 10 days occurred last night at the Medford Hardware and Sporting Goods store, when $15 worth of purses were stolen. Two suspects were questioned by local police, but as yet no definite clues have been found.

Last night's robbery is an indirect result of the first, when a large plate glass window was broken by a brick to make easy access to several guns which were taken. The two-foot hole caused by the brick was promptly boarded, but not in such a manner to completely cover it, as a small four inch space near the bottom was left unboarded. Through this hole the thieves inserted an 18-inch wire hook and easily took all purses within reach.

WEDDING BELLS

At one of the most attractive church weddings ever held in Medford, Miss Winifred Clancy was married to Harold M. Dagg of Seattle, Wn., last evening at 8:30 at the Methodist church by Reverend Willard De Yoe.

The wedding took place before an assembled group of 60 or 70 friends and relatives in a veritable bower of flowers. After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Clancy is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Clancy, and was a student at the University of Washington at Seattle, being a junior there last term. In Medford she has been a great favorite in musical and social circles.

Mr. Dagg is well known in Seattle, and was also a student at the University, having graduated last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Dagg left last evening for a honeymoon in southern California and will make their future home in Seattle.

De Yoe, Special business meeting Thursday, August 27th, at 7:30 p. m. Final plans for picnic. By order M. C.

REPUBLICANS WILL EXPEDITE TAX CUT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—(A. P.)—Plans are being perfected by the republican leaders in the senate to expedite action by the finance committee when the tax revision bill reaches it from the house.

Senator Charles republican floor leader, a member of the committee, said today before leaving for his home in Kansas that he intended to return early in October to follow the hearings which will be held by the house ways and means committee beginning October 15. Republican members of the senate committee, he said, planned to follow closely the house committee hearings and house debate so hearings could be begun as soon as the bill reached his committee.
