

FIST FIGHT AT SCHOOL MEETING, PEACE RESTORED

Gossip and rumors were important factors which led to a misunderstanding in the Evans valley school district, which culminated in an impromptu fight last Saturday after a school election in that district, according to the district attorney's office.

The misunderstanding, which dates back to the time the union school house was built several years ago, split the community into two factions, of which the school directors were on one side.

According to the district attorney, the main cause of trouble could be placed to the fact that an error was made by a Grants Pass bank, which left the finances of one school district unaccounted for when it joined the union school. Naturally, the error was later rectified, but in the interim rumors and gossip, it is said, sprung up causing antagonism between the school board and supporters, and those who believed they had been wronged as a result of the error.

After the school election Saturday, following many arguments, a member of the school board was struck in the face by a member of the other faction, the names being held secret by the district attorney's office. The attacker later pleaded guilty in the Gold Hill justice court to a charge of assault and battery, coming to the court voluntarily, with the explanation his temper had gotten the best of him.

District Attorney Chaney says that the school board's intentions had always been good, but had been misinterpreted with the help of unverified rumors and gossip, and that he believes a mutual understanding will soon be brought about among the people in Evans valley.

SMITH CHARGES HYLAN WITH KLAN INTRIGUE

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—(A. P.)—What Governor Smith regards as Mayor Hylan's "blind, obedient subservience to a super-boss," his "secret conference with representatives of the Ku Klux Klan at the 1924 national democratic convention," and his "lack of ability as mayor," are among the governor's reasons for opposing the city's chief executive for a third term.

Crossing the bridge into Brooklyn last night, the governor who had given up his vacation to campaign for State Senator Walker, Tammany designer for mayor, addressed 3000 persons while twice as many clamored for admission.
