

ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM THE ROGUE RIVER VALLEY

PASTOR IS GIVEN A RECEPTION BY PHOENIX CHURCH

By MARY O. CAREY.
EDEN PRECINCT, Sept. 4.—Again it is our pleasure to report one of those pleasant gatherings for which the people of the Phoenix church is responsible. This is a community get-together supper and prayermeeting. The chief object being to show the appreciation of the good work done by Rev. Morgan and wife during the absence this summer of the regular pastor, Rev. Nelson. As a surprise at the supper was served, Rev. Morgan was called to his feet, and Mr. Young, in well chosen words presented the beautiful electric lamp, a gift from many of the members of the church and admirers of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan. Next Sunday will be Rev. Nelson's first sermon after their return from a summer's absence, and a good sized class of new members to be taken into the church.

A Rev. Mr. Willets of southern California, spent last Sunday and part of Monday with Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Van Dyke. Rev. Willets performed the marriage ceremony for the couple a number of years ago and was happy to visit them at their prosperous dairy ranch on the highway south of Medford.

J. E. Most has sold his timber holdings on Coleman creek to parties who have but lately come into our valley. There are a number of persons who are buying land in the country west of Phoenix.

Mr. Young is now beginning the picking of his D'Anjou pears. Mr. Young has twenty acres of pears, and all varieties have borne heavily this season and are bringing a good price.

Mrs. E. A. Bally of Harlan, Iowa, mother of Mrs. Morgan of Coleman Creek, and two sisters, Mrs. A. E. Lyons and Mrs. Glen Gardner of New Jersey, arrived this week to visit at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rose and their oldest daughter, Jane, went to Crater lake Tuesday, with Mrs. Rose's sister, Mrs. Alice Hay.

Miss Agnes Colver returned last week from a summer's visit in San Francisco with relatives, where she had a most enjoyable time.

Miss Ethel Hagler of Phoenix spent a couple of days with friends in Yreka, last week.

George Chandler and his two sons, and their families, returned Sunday from their visit up into Baker county, and stopped a few hours with Noah Chandler before starting on their way home, near Los Angeles.

Mr. Kanter of Coleman creek is moving his house to a new location in the Fern Valley country.

The residents of Eden Valley are complaining that the bridge which carries the water between the Iman and Wilcox places is unsafe, and that the trucks that have been buying produce of the farmers, no longer care to chance a load on it. This should be looked after and if true, they should have a new one. These people pay their share of taxation, and should not suffer loss of their melon and perishable stuff on account of needed road work.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Bowman and daughter Alice, friends of Prof. Reimer and wife, spent the week end with the Reimers, before leaving for their new home in Portland next week.

Miss Ruth Nye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Nye of Talent left for her school at Winatchee this week.

Miss Lillian Reimer returned to O. A. C. this week, after spending the summer vacation with her parents, Prof. Reimer and wife of the Oregon Experiment station at Talent.

Sam Kozor, secretary of state, was a visitor at the Experiment station one day this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudell are leaving Coleman creek this week for Grants Pass to live.

Parties by the name of James have bought the old Tolbert place in the Coleman creek district.

Mr. Whitman, principal of the Phoenix schools came to Mr. Furry's last Saturday where he will make his home during the school year.

Colver Furry is busy these days, as fruit inspector. It keeps him on the hustle while the loading of the fruit cars is in progress, as well as going the rounds of the packing houses.

Miss Bertha Hayman celebrated her birthday last Sunday, with a dinner at the home of her brother, Bunce and wife. Miss Irene Chandler was one of her guests.

Mrs. M. Rose, and Mrs. Arthur Furry spent last Friday at the home of Mrs. Nell Franklin in Medford.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Eaton of Merced, Calif., and Mrs. Eaton's niece, Miss Fern Clark, and Mrs. Eaton's nephew, Mark Clark, have been spending the past ten days with Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Dopp on the Pacific Highway south of Phoenix.

CORRESPONDENT OF MAIL TRIBUNE IS ATTACKED BY FORD

Lizzie and Mr. FOOT'S CREEK, Sept. 4.—(Special.)—Saturday, late in the afternoon. I determined to try if I could get light from her lamps which had long refused to shine. After I finished my tinkering I cranked her up but could not get an explosion. I turned the switch on the Hot Shot, and one cylinder would fire. Do my best that was all the response I could get. What should I do? It was chore time and it was very doubtful if I could run to a garage on one cylinder even if I had time. How would I be able to get my usual load of kids to Sunday school the next day? Very disconsolately I went in and told my wife who said we would have to drive Sellin and the big wagon.

I took up my milk pail and started to the barn. On the way I got an idea. I suspected my spotlight wires were making a short circuit. I would try. I gave the spot light a turn and grabbed the crank and gave her a yank. The response was startling. It was as though I had waved a red rag in the face of an angry bull. With a mighty roar of the engine, she leaped over the block I had placed before a wheel and started for the open door and a steep down grade to the house.

But I was in the way. I tried to get aside and into the car and stop the fool girl; she seemed bent on mischief. But she came too fast.

couldn't get out of her way. Nor could I hold the dear girl back, though the gear was in neutral. She seemed suddenly to have the power of a locomotive. But instead of shoving me out the door she rammed me and jammed me against the door jamb and did her best to make a job of me. In an instant I saw my wife as a charming widow, setting her cap for a handsome man and a feeling of grief shot through my soul that she hadn't got her new teeth. (Ask Dr. Elliott about it.) That must have given me new strength, for in some way that I know not I escaped from Lizzie's fierce embrace. I was just able to get into the car and quiet the old girl's raving. I hobbled around to the cow and to the house, with the milk, and told wife the story. Then we examined me to see if I needed a doctor or an undertaker. We finally decided I needed neither one. But talk of a bear hug, if I am given my choice, next time I'll take the bear in preference to Lizzie.

Edw. DuFountain and family came home from McCloud, Calif., Saturday riding in a shining Durant car. He was wearing a star in his shirt, being a deputy constable and responsible for good behavior of McCloud people during the night hours, while he also carries the heavy responsibility of guarding the property of the lumber company. As the whole town belongs to them, in addition to the mills and stacks of lumber, the importance of his task is evident. The whole family were in the best of health and appeared as though California was using them very kindly. But Ed hasn't got proud; he greeted his old neighbors just like his former genial self. It was his first day's vacation in seven months, and he returned to his job again Tuesday. Foots Creek people wish him well.

The saw mill on the west fork has had to quit business owing to lack of water for the steam engine. Both families have gone to Gold Hill.

Joe Woodcock is now sawing wood with his drag saw for the Lanco brothers.

Marion Lance came home from near Roxy Ann Sunday to take a look at his property.

Rev. W. H. Amos, S. S. missionary of the Presbyterian church visited our school last Sunday and gave us an excellent address on the "Debt We Owe to Our Fellows." Thirty-eight people were present. Two came from Los Angeles, two from Ashland and three. Mrs. Bertha Payer and two grandchildren, climbed over the mountain from Bridger creek. Next Sunday Rev. Mr. Wilson will speak.

The day school will open next Tuesday. Mrs. James Kershaw will be the teacher again. She has been doing excellent work heretofore. So we confidently look forward for a good school.
