ATHLETICS HAVE A SMALL CHANCE OF WINNING TITLE

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(A. P.)—Two successive victories over the world champion Senators have rekindled Philadelphia hopes in the American league camp.

The hopes are based on slight mathematical chances, however. Although they are still trailing by seven games, the Athletics have pulled an even break out of the series with the Senators and their lethargy which extended through 12 losing games is ended.

The Macks came out of a free-hitting game yesterday on the long end of a 9 to 7 score, totalling 15 safeties off three Washington hurlers. Four pitchers were used by Philadelphia. Baumgartner finishing as the winning twirler.

In the only other American league game the Yankees bowed before the Red Sox, 5 to 4. Babe Ruth hung up a pair of doubles and two singles in four times at bat and drove in three of the New York runs.

Mark Koenig, recruit from the St. Paul American association, has established himself at short with the Yankees, replacing Peeewe Wanninger.

Pittsburg dropped the final game of a series to the Cubs, 9 to 7, after an 11-inning fray. The setback reduced the lead of the Pirates over the Giants to seven and one-half games. Other clubs in the National league were not scheduled.

BOBBY JONES WILL NEVER BECOME PRO, SPURNS BIG OFFER

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 10.—(A. P.)—Bobby Jones, national amateur golf champion, will never become a professional.

Jones has said so himself, and O. B. Keeler, golf writer who has followed the career of Jones since long before Bobby became famous on the links, tells why.

Keeler writes that recently a well known professional characterized Jones as "the greatest drawing card in the world today," and held that it would be worth $100,000 a year for the champion to turn pro.

"It is surprising to me that so many people who know Bobby wonder he doesn't turn professional," Keeler continued. "A dozen have asked me about it since he returned from Oakland, where Bobby again won the amateur crown."

"This is no inaudible commentary on the profession of golf, which is a thoroughly high class and honorable profession."

But there is a definite something which I fear can never be explained to the public at large, which may well be left inexplicable, that will always keep Bobby Jones true to his own resolve to be an amateur sportsman to the end of the chapter.

"Coming back from Worcester, Bobby told me he had been offered $12,000 for a series of slow motion pictures of famous golfers."

"Well, I told him, 'that's a nice offer and it won't conflict with your amateur standing. Will you take it?'"

"No," said Bobby, "I declined it immediately. I cannot do that sort of thing. I want it not because I'm a writer, but because I'm a golfer."

GOLDEN CHANCE GONE SAYS MACK, BREAKS BLAMED

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—(By the Associated Press)—"Fate and the breaks," in Connie Mack's opinion, have shattered his dream of piloting the Athletics this year back to the high places of baseball and pennant glory that has been beyond his reach for more than a decade.

The two factors, he thinks stepped in without warning to drop the Athletics from the heights to an almost hopeless position in the rear in three weeks.

Mack does not repeat the familiar refrain of the loser—"wait until next year."

"This was our best chance," he said. "I figured this as our year all along. We had only one team to beat, but we couldn't do it. Next year we will have four or five to contend with. Chicago, New York and Detroit all will be in the thick of the fight in 1926."

"My club will be strong again, I hope, but I have lost its biggest opportunity. I thought we were on the high tide until things suddenly turned against us in the west. Our defense, particularly around the infield, faltered a bit and our pitching slumped. These may seem the real causes of our disastrous losing streak, but you know the breaks went against us day after day. Where we had been hitting in the pinch, we knocked into double plays, once into even a triple play. We lost three straight games to St. Louis by one run at the start of our losing stretch and dropped the last two to Washington on Labor day by the same margin. It just seemed that fate was against us."

"We had our full strength on the field at this time, too, so there are no alibis on this score. We had our handcaps, injuries and disappointments earlier in the season, but we surmounted them and kept around the top. Perhaps with our full strength earlier we would have done even better, but that is only a guess.

But Mack is not through. Where a dozen years of disappointment might have discouraged the stoutest heart, it has only inspired him with the determination to carry on until triumph finally perches again on his banners.

'Ten Commandments' Draws Big Crowd

"The Ten Commandments" spread its spectacular stories over the screen of the Hunt's Craterian yesterday, beginning then a four day run at that popular house. The picture has lost nothing in its magnificence since it was last seen here, and seems to have taken on new splendor in the story of the Israelites and their flight from the tyrannies of the Pharaohs in Egypt.

One hardly knows which to commend most, this vivid and splendid pageant, which vivifies the Biblical narrative of the giving of the Tables of the Law to Moses—the climax of the first part of the great picture—or the tense modern story which shows the application of those fundamental laws to the diversified life of today.

The splendors of the Egyptian court, the sweep of the army of refugees, the bacchanalian revelry in the worship of the golden calf, the thunder of Moses' wrath, satisfy DeMille's thirst for spectacle, while the swift drama of the modern tale with its story of two brothers is in direct line with much of his best work.

Theodore Roberts crowned his great career in pictures by his tremendous impersonation of Moses.

Others in this first section of "The Ten Commandments" are Charles De Roche as Pharaoh; James Neill as Aaron and Estelle Taylor as Miriam. In the modern story Elythe Cluett plays the mother, Richard Dix is the good son and Rod La Rocque the man who takes what he wants. Lorraine Joy is the woman both love, Nita Naldi is a Eurasian adventuress, Robert Edison, Charles Ogle, Agnes Ayres, Julia Faye are others in the cast.
