FOOTS CREEK NEWS

The Kolster boys reported that last Friday the rain at their place was the heaviest downpour for the longest period that they had ever seen, sending a flood of water down the creek. Two Portland nimrods started from Mrs. Birdseye's place for Curry county Wednesday for deer. They had a tip where there was a place to get the limit in half a day.

last week has removed from our midst one of the most interesting characters on the creek. She and her parrot in the lonely cottage in the woods were always well worth a visit by anyone. Refusing to leave "home" when her son went away to work, with ill health and water-hard to reach, she was often in serious straits. But she loved the little house in the wildwood and made no complaints. Her friends are glad that her struggles are ended and hope that "after life's fitful fever is o'er she sleeps well."

J. B. Short sold a dressed hog to Ed Woodcock Saturday, then made a trip to Grants Pass.
