

MINISTER VICTIM
PECULIAR ACCIDENT
CRATER HIGHWAY

Rev. W. H. Amos of Ashland, Sunday school missionary for the Oregon-terran church in southern Presby-terian church in southern Oregon, came near having a very serious ac-cident Thursday afternoon on the "Crater Lake highway." While return-ing from Prospect, about four miles from Medford, he met a Mr. Hollen-beck of Prospect, returning home from Medford. Mr. Hollenbeck had gotten off into the loose gravel on the side of the road and had his front wheels crimped and was trying his best to get his car out of the loose gravel onto the solid road bed, when suddenly just as Mr. Amos came op-posite him, his car took a sudden spurt crossing the road and smashed directly into Mr. Amos' Franklin car—wrecking the front wheel and fender, running board and upsetting the car into the ditch with Mr. Amos un-derneath.

"Iron Horse" Closes Tonight. The "Iron Horse" closes at Hunt's Craterian tonight. The picture has all the elements that make melodrama attractive to the mass of people. There are vivid romance, many hazards—the building of the first railroad across the continent, that is almost wrecked to further private ends, and the final triumph of the projectors of the cast undertaking.

Medford Star at Craterian. Hunt's Craterian will have a re-markable picture to show its patrons beginning tomorrow matinee when Lulu Vollmer's "Sun-Up," story of South Carolina mountain folk, will be shown.

Lucille La Verne is featured in the picture as she was in the play when it was done in New York, and she is now in London, where she is playing the part of the old mountain woman, Widow Cagle.

"Everyman's Wife," at Rialto. "Everyman's Wife," which opens at the Rialto theater tomorrow, Maurice Flvey has taken a story that might be written about any American family, and it drives home with unrelent-ing force the danger of suspicion.

Will be a splendid cast, including Elaine Hammerstein, Herbert Raw-linson, Dorothy Phillips, Robert Car-ter and Diana Miller, the picture tells the story of a wife who is led to believe that her husband is unfaithful to her. Lefty Flynn steps out into the "Speed Wild," a fast flashing melodrama with a comedy touch. The screen of the Rialto, closing tonight.

ROUND UP CHINKS
IN TONG WARFARE, TO DEPORT MANY

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—(A. P.)—As a result of continued tong mur-ders, 206 Chinese were in the Tombs today awaiting deportation.

Out of 1100 nabbed in two raids this week on Chinatown, those at the Tombs have been unable to produce certificates of registration as re-quired by law for the presence of Chinese in the country. Detectives and agents of the department of jus-tice numbering 100 combed Chinat-own last night and locked up all Chinese who could not produce proper credentials. Two Chinese ten-ements in the Bowery were emptied by the raiders. The number ques-tioned in the federal building totalled some 500. Last Monday night a similar roundup resulted in 600 de-tentions and 134 orders for depor-tations. Of those seized last night, 72 had no credentials.

The latest raid followed more tong murders here and in Pittsburg yester-day. No evidence has come to light that those ordered deported were implicated in the murders, but police and immigration officials are co-operating in an effort to bring the warring tongs to peace.

EXCESSIVE SPEED AT 'MOONED,' HE SAYS.
CURVE, BLAMED IT WITH FLOWER POTS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—(A. P.) Excessive speed of operation in view of the track curvature, was held responsible for the wreck of the Santa Fe passenger train near Sorrento, Cal., on April 28 in a report today by safety inspectors to the inter-state commerce commission. Sixty-eight persons were injured and one em-ployee was killed when the train was derailed.

"Apparently there was no defect in the track or equipment prior to the accident," the report said, "nor did weather conditions have any bearing. The distance the derailed equipment traveled on the sharp curve and up the ascending grade and the manner in which the equipment came to rest led to the conclusion that excessive speed was responsible for the occur-rence of this accident.

Calls from several parts of the dis-trict were sent in to police, telling of visits by the man. He first appeared at a service station and threatened to shoot everyone in the vicinity. Then he went to a hotel and continued his threats. The Clarence Whitten home on Mill street was the third place vis-ited. There the man smashed a flower pot and threatened to shoot the householder.

Maintenance and National Service

NATURE is both the ally and the enemy of the tele- phone. One of her forces, elec- tricity, carries the voice of man afar. Others, as flood, tornado or sleet storm, can cripple com-munication in a large area through their devastating might. Each pair of telephone wires in the Bell System is a pathway for reciprocal speech. When beaten down by the uncontrol- lable forces of nature, that path- way to fifteen million telephones is blocked, and none of the na- tion's voices can pass that way. Reserve materials must be on hand, that storm damage may be repaired without delay. Ade- quate funds must be made avail- able so that the cost of restora- tion may be met. National telephone service is only possible through an or- ganization capable of handling, on a nation-wide basis, the prob- lem of maintenance as well as of operation.
