

EAGLE PT. ORCHARD SOLD $125,000

One of the largest recent individual real estate transactions in the county was completed early this week when Robert Hunstock of Los Angeles, Cal., purchased the Butte Creek orchards a short distance above Eagle Point from S. J. Greenwood at a price reported to be $125,000.

The orchard consists of 250 acres of fine Butte creek bottom soil. The greater portion of the acreage is planted to apples and pears. The ranch buildings consist of two residences, a bunkhouse, a packing house, barns and other buildings. The orchard is equipped with a modern water system piped to all buildings. The purchase includes several head of livestock and considerable farming equipment.

Mr. Hunstock will not live on the place, leaving it in charge of a foreman. Before he left today for Los Angeles he arranged for the orchard and buildings to be put in first-class condition. The deal was made through local and Los Angeles real estate companies.

MAN STILL MISSING, SEARCHERS DESPAIR

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Sept. 23.—No trace of Martin Owensby, Merrill rancher, lost on Huckleberry mountain, has been found, according to word received here this morning by the posse which started out in search of the missing man Monday night. Owensby's cabin showed no indication that he had been there recently and because of the severe weather in that section small hope is entertained here that he will be found alive.

It was a week ago tonight that Owensby disappeared and since then a severe snow storm has raged thru the mountains. The fact that Owensby's horse and rifle were found Sunday leads friends of the missing man to believe that he might have fallen over some of the high cliffs of that section.

telephone for officers, while she and her sister carried Gibbs' body into the house. She also stated that the dead man had retired at 8 o'clock and did not take part in the prayer meeting. She denied that she had any plans of divorcing her husband to marry Gibbs at some future time, when asked that question by George M. Roberts, attorney for the defense.

Mrs. V. P. Counts, mother of the two sisters, corroborated the testimony they had given. A. S. Bear, a neighbor, testified that Mrs. Huntley had told him about two weeks ago that she loved Gibbs better than her own husband, as he had always taken a stand by her in domestic troubles. After the witnesses had been disposed of Coroner Conger exhibited a letter found in the dead man's pocket, which read as follows: "You had better look out for the K. K. K. will get you." It was not signed. The envelope had been sent through the mails, as it bore a Medford postmark.

The coroner's jury was composed of the following: William Lyman, foreman; W. L. Miller, J. B. Coan, G. W. Howard, W. E. Barber and C. K.

Webster, Deputy District Attorney. Allison Moulton represented the state in the inquest.

According to the sheriff, Ralph Jennings, Huntley, who is confined at the county jail, has suffered no remorse, and is still in a defiant mood.

The body of the deceased will be shipped today to Powers for burial beside the grave of one of his children. He was born in Coos county July 6, 1897 and was 28 years, 2 months and 3 days of age. He leaves to mourn his loss his mother, Mrs. Emaline Smith of Powers, his father, S. H. Gibbs and stepmother, Mrs. Gibbs, of North Bend, his wife, Cynthia, and three children, besides other relatives.

TAX REDUCTION TO OCCUPY SOLONS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(A. P.)—Tax reduction will have right of way in the house from the day congress convenes, President Coolidge was informed today by Representative Tilson of Connecticut, republican floor leader. Even the appropriation bills will be put aside, he said, in an effort to complete house action on the revenue measure before Christmas. He predicted the bill would be in the hands of the president for signature well in advance of March 15, when the first installments of taxes on 1925 incomes will be due.

The Connecticut representative reiterated that the maximum surtax should be reduced at least to 29 percent and that there should be a scaling down of the inheritance taxes.

Local Bites

Jim Chinnock got his big one Saturday and brought it back to town as proof. He hooked into a fine specimen of a steelhead and managed to get it to shore, the fish weighing 94 pounds. He has entered it in the field and stream steelhead contest. The fish was taken near the Chinnock-Walker cabin at Galice. Dr. Walker also captured a big fish, his tipping the scales at seven pounds.—Grants Pass Courier.

urses as she emerged from the barn door. He threatened to have her arrested together with Gibbs.

Cliff Larkin, a neighbor, who had arrived on the scene, volunteered to go for officers to take charge of Huntley. Mrs. Counts, her mother, called Mrs. Huntley into the house. One of the six children with the mother was detained by the father. A quarrel and then a fight ensued over the baby. Gibbs, who had gone into the house from the barn, was aroused to action, attacking Huntley with his fists.

Mrs. Huntley, speaking in a frank manner, declared she regained consciousness after being choked by her husband, just as she saw the end of the fight. She sent her mother to
