"There seems no reason to doubt that athletic activities will compare favorably with those of past years," says the Medford III Times.

Some of the last year's football players are out of the game, a great amount of fresh material turned out for practice and Coach Callison will undoubtedly be able to round into shape a very creditable team by the time the schedule opens.

The Medford team compares favorably with other high school aggregations which have games on the schedule. Marshfield and Roseburg are reported to be the strongest contenders. Roseburg will have many lettermen back and is supposed to have a heavy team.

Grants have having lost most of their first string players, will probably put a team of medium weight on the field. Nothing is known of Klamath Falls or Ashland, though the latter may be expected to have a fighting bunch as usual.

lack on the Oregon State Motor association. This attack was based on reports reaching one direct from Portland (which I now believe to be incorrect) that motorists were being solicited to join the association with the argument that the association would secure the removal of Officers Talent and McMahon. Below attached and to be published with this communication you will find a letter from Joseph E. Dunne, president of the Oregon State Motor association addressed to Officer Charles Talent, Grants Pass Oregon. The letter did not reach Officer Talent until yesterday, and was placed in my hands last night.

I now hasten to publicly retract everything I said about the Oregon State Motor association. "I skin it all back" and hereby tender my application to become a member of the association.

Furthermore, I wish to say that President Dunne or Secretary Brandenberg can come down to southern Oregon with a swelled or any other kind of head, and I will give them the glad hand, for anybody that is Charlie Talent's friend is my friend. Everything else contained in my letter published in The Tribune last Monday still goes.

"Officer Chas. Talent, Grants Pass, Oregon. Dear Officer Talent: The Motor association last night was in session when Chief Rafferty brought the news of your unfortunate conflict with this white slaver and auto thief yesterday.

"We know that underneath that quiet exterior there burns a most sympathetic heart, and we sympathize with you because we know that your burden must be great in the light of the fact that you have been forced to go to extreme means to capture a low grade man.

"We do feel, however, that you have manifested that courage-ousness which we have noted in you these many years, and want to congratulate you upon your courage in being able to face an issue when it is presented to you.

"We believe you are the kind of a citizen that we would like to have on our force in the State of Oregon, and want you to know how much we appreciate the courage you have manifested, and express to you our sympathy in your hour when your burden is great.

"We have asked Chief Rafferty to convey this message to you, but so that there will be no misunderstanding I am writing you personally.

"With my kindest and best wishes, I am truly yours, J. E. DUNNE."
