DEER HUNTER GETS BUCK HALF MILE FROM P. HIGHWAY

FOOTS CREEK, Oct. 2.—Mrs. C. Carr, Harry Carr and wife are working at the Del Rio orchard. Ward McQuat got a deer last week at Champlin's orchard not more than a half mile from the highway. Victor Birdseye got a deer on the Birdseye ranch.

The Koester boys came home from Pleasant creek with three deer. Marion Lance celebrated his first birthday at home by coming to our Sunday school with his new car as well as it would hold.

Mr. Auld and wife of Kansas City arrived last Sunday on Foots Creek to visit their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Lance.

Mrs. Bertha Poyer, her daughter, Mrs. Lester Boling, and the three children climbed over the hill from Birdseye creek to attend our Sunday school. We still have room for more. Mrs. Chamberlain Carr reports that papers have been signed which mean that the Black Channel mine will be a going concern once more. Since Mr. Carr has been overseer of the mine for some years, the report would seem to be reliable.

Harry Vieux and family made a trip to Trail and Prospect on Tuesday. Wm. M. Carle is putting a new roof on his barn. It is a proper expression to say he is "shaking" the barn?

John Stratton came home Monday, having spent the summer in California, visiting the lava beds and other places of interest.

Harry Slevin came home to his ranch Wednesday, having spent the summer in the lumber camps.

Mrs. J. B. Short visited Thursday at the Christ, Biles and Hunzley families on El Oro ranch. Rev. W. A. Smith and wife are guests at the Carle's home. The Lance brothers are working hard to get their many orders of wood delivered before the wet season here sets in.

104 Marriage Licenses
According to the records of the county clerk's office for the quarter ending September 30th, 104 licenses were issued in this county. This total includes June, the favorite month for weddings. During the same three months 19 suits for divorce were filed.

Cook with care.

EDEN PRECINCT

By MARY CAREY.

Work has again been resumed at the Independent Packing house at Phoenix, on Winter Nelles pears, and will continue until all the apples are packed.

H. M. Morrison of North Talent, last Monday purchased a new Ford tractor and began farming in earnest. Mr. Morrison has several small places rented in close proximity to his own. Among them: A. J. Hanley's, Mrs. Laura West's and C. Carey's, beside his small garden tract on the highway.

Mr. Hollis and Mr. Reeder of Medford were out to The Plant Farm Monday, where Mr. Hollis often buys fresh eggs. Mr. Hollis is in very poor health, having recently returned from the hospital in Portland.

Mrs. Effie Taylor spent last Wednesday week ago at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. M. Rader, and on Thursday, they in company with Mr. and Mrs. George Garrett attended the Pioneer Reunion at Ashland.

Mrs. Walter Hughes, who has been spending a couple of weeks visiting with friends and relatives in the valley, left her home in lower California on Sunday.

J. M. Rader sold his cattle last week along with those of Mrs. Owens, and others in the valley, who have first class beef cattle. The buyers were from California.

Miss Marie Miller returned last week from a week's visit with friends in the northern part of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. McCoy of Idaho, who are stopping in Medford, were out to Talent and vicinity one day last week looking for a small place to buy. They say they are well pleased with this valley.

Many of our most public spirited citizens attended the formal opening of the new hotel at Ashland last week and were very enthusiastic over the fine hostelry. Many think it the best between Portland and Frisco.

Phoenix Ladies' Aid met at the manse last Thursday, and a very enjoyable time was had. These meetings are very pleasant socially as well as being a financial help in the church work.

Welborn Beeson this week made an exchange of fifty acres of land just east of Talent, to Lem and Tuss Hughes, taking in some Ashland property, on the deal. By the deal the Hughes boys become owners of some very fine garden and fruit land.

Mrs. M. Rose and Mrs. A. S. Furry, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Barneburg were all in attendance at the reunion at Ashland last week. Mrs. G. C. McClain and daughter Dorothy, were doing trading in Medford on Tuesday of this week.

Miss Nellie Town has been spending a couple of weeks with her sister, Mrs. Clara Smith of Phoenix. Miss Mollie comes from Seattle and has not visited her old home for several years.

We understand that the firm that is now owner of the Suncrest orchard has made investment in several big orchard properties lately, but the deals are not ready for publication as to prices paid.

Welborn Beeson, former Talent resident, was transacting business in Medford last Tuesday.

Lem Hughes of Fern Valley was a Medford business caller last Tuesday. Mr. Hughes has a good apple crop this fall.

Mrs. H. J. Henry of Sunny Cliff orchard was calling on your correspondent for a few minutes Monday. Mrs. Henry entertained a party of friends at her pleasant home Tuesday evening at dinner.

Miss Vivian Stancliff narrowly escaped serious injury, or perhaps being killed when her car was overturned from skidding while attempting to pass a slow moving truck, one evening last week. The accident happened near Voorhees.

Mrs. May Stevens is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. H. Morrison of North Talent. Mrs. Stevens has a son George, at Ashland, and S. S. Stevens is also her son. All of whom she is paying a short visit while here.

I wonder how many of the farmers of the valley are giving due appreciation of the fact that the orchard men have begun to use up all the damaged hay as fertilizer in the orchards. This means that the good hay will bring better prices, because this hay will always bring all it is worth at its neighborhood. This is somewhere in the neighborhood of $12 to $14 per ton. The Suncrest orchard, belonging to Banks company has bought several hundred tons and hauled it to their orchard properties. They have bought several hundred acres of alfalfa land in order to have this kind of fertilizer. Or so I have been told.

WILLOW SPRINGS

R. W. Nichols is having a large hay and horse barn built at the Feldeheimer orchards. W. K. Parker has charge of the work.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. DuBuque are trying out a new radio set and expect to have it installed in their home if it proves satisfactory.

J. S. Miner is seriously ill and confined to his bed with diabetes and sciatica. Mr. Miner has been in poor health for some time.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Collie on September 27, an eight-pound boy. Mr. and Mrs. Collie live in southern California, but Mrs. Collie, who was formerly Lorena Law, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cobb Law, for the past month.

Mrs. W. A. Thompson is teaching in Phoenix and as soon as the car, which she has ordered, arrives, she expects to drive back and forth to her work.

Frank Bonney left Tuesday morning on a business trip to Longview, Wash. His mother accompanied him as far as Woodburn, Ore., where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Phillips of Vallejo, Cal., en route to their home after an auto trip to the Canadian line, were callers at the Birkholz home one day last week. Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Birkholz are sisters-in-law.

REESE CREEK RIPPLETS

John Stille arrived home last week from Dunsmuir, Calif., where he had been helping his brothers out on a contract.

Miss Myrtle Minter left Sunday for Monmouth.

There will be Sunday school next Sunday as usual. Subject "Paul in Athens." Memory verse: "In Him we live, move and have our being." Acts 17:28.

Whitman's Salmagundi

Please don't call it "a box of candy!" It's a trinket chest of metal designed by a famous artist, fit to contain the finest candies made.

Salmagundi, among other things, means a medley of good things. In the Salmagundi are some of the best things made of chocolate, sugar, fruits, nuts and flavors.

Inside the Salmagundi are such delicious new pieces, some of which are found in no other box.

When you select the Salmagundi for a gift you rest assured that the pleasure of the feast will be enhanced by the beauty of the setting.
