

NEW RECORD AT RALLY DAY FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL

Rally day last Sunday at the Presbyterian Sunday school set a new high water mark in attendance, the record showing 322 present. Graduating exercises were held for the lower departments of the school. The following graduated from the beginners' department into the primary, and were given diplomas: Junior Patton, Bob Harper, June Williams, Cecil Michael, Delmer Wright, Gage Sanden, Marguerite Chase, Kathleen Dillard, Georgia Webb, Wallace and Geraldine Loomis.

The following were given diplomas for graduation from the primary into the junior department: Nicholas DeWitt, Seth Bullis, Jr., George Mathews, Fred Bosworth, Roger Card, Floyd Loomis, Lloyd Seaman, Ruth D'Albini, Patricia Carlin, Patricia Cole, Katherine Chaney, Hazel Moffat, Marguerite Pennington, Eleanor Todd, Olna Todd, Dora Crawford, Arletta Tyrrell, Helen Patton, Florence Gilford, Margery Paley, Grace Ivanhoe, Gene Houghton.

The school is now filled to overflowing—classes being held in the old manse back of the church, and in the Masonic Temple across Main street. The church was beautifully decorated for the double purpose. Rally Day for the Sunday school and Harvest Sunday for the church under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary society. The special offering, which amounted to almost $50 was harvested from the pear bags which had been distributed by the women the week before and goes to apply on their quota for the year.

All departments of the church are being organized for the fall and winter with every expectation of its being the best year in the church's history.

EDITED BY THE MEDFORD MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION
"I Have Set Watchmen Upon Thy Walls, O Jerusalem." Isa. 62:6.

The Parson and Printer's Ink.
With pleasant anticipation do we inaugurate this new department in the Mail Tribune. We venture into public print for the common good in the community. We believe there is a real place for this column, and that The Sky Pilots' Forum will find that place in the minds of the people as time goes by. We propose to express the thought and sentiment of Christian leadership upon the questions and issues of the day in brief and pertinent form. We desire also to pass on through this medium a gleaming of news matter and otherwise which does not find its way to the desk of the daily press.

Our object is to inform and inspire rather than to criticize or controvert. However we bind ourselves to no rule or regulation with anyone, but shall express our minds as we believe the issue or the occasion requires. We believe that the press may be, as it has often been, a power and force for every form of betterment, second only to the influence of the pulpit itself. We come with no axe to grind, no sectarian interest or taint to promote, no prejudices to excite, no particular hobby to ride, but rather to contribute constructively to all that tends toward personal and civic welfare and righteousness.

Peace Sermons Urged.
Use of Armistice Sunday, November 8, as a day for celebration to advance the cause of world peace, was suggested to the churches in a communication made public recently by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

The letter commended the action of President Coolidge recently in rejecting the plan of the army general staff for holding the national defense test on Armistice Day.

I never killed anything larger than a wasp, and that in self defense.—Dean W. B. Inge. Then he never saw a Louisiana mosquito.

According to the Dearborn Independent, the fathers of more than 11 per cent of the persons listed in Who's Who, are clergymen. Not so bad for the bunch that numbers less than half of one per cent of the whole.

The stingiest man we have heard of lately is the fellow who dropped a rubber nickle in the collection plate and caught it on the rebound.

There is a right way to do everything that ought to be done, and everything that ought to be done can be done when men have the desire and the usefulness to do them.

Shapurji Saklatvala, communist member of the British house of commons, has been refused admission to the United States to attend the Inter-parliamentary Union here next month as a British delegate. This establishes, on the part of Secretary of State

Kellong, a first line of national defense by refusing to admit foreigners who come to this country with the avowed purpose of preaching anarchy or revolutionary overthrow of government. Enemies of American institutions from without, coming with secretive purposes, should be deported as readily.

Officers brought in three boys from one of the communities of the county some nights ago charged with liquor violations. Incidentally we have it from officers present that scores of boys were drinking with a constant string of both boys and girls passing in and out. How long can a public nuisance of the kind be tolerated in Jackson county? There is sufficient vested authority already to take action.

"I look only at the lost pictures, a bad one spoils my eyes," said Huskin. He wasn't speaking of movies, yet spoiling good morals by a diet of bad movies through the cooperation of parents, producers and showmen, is a successful combination of our days.

More and more the Bible as a source from which to draw new and powerful dramas is being employed. Even down in the rottenness of Hollywood, two wonderful pictures have been produced. One "The Ten Commandments," recently shown here, and another, "The Life of Christ," when shown first in California, drew visitors from all over the United States. There are some tremendous effects and settings in both these dramas.

TIME EXTENSION GIVEN PLAINTIFF IN CHURCH FRAGAS

In the suit of the Ashland Baptist church against the First Baptist church, an extension of 15 days to file a reply to the last reply and answer of the defendants, was granted the plaintiffs, upon application of their attorneys, Briggs and Briggs of Ashland, Friday by Circuit Judge C. M. Thomas. The case has been hanging fire since last December.

The defendants, the First Baptist church, in their reply seek damages and rent for seizure of the church last July, ask that the differences between the beliefs of "The Four Squares Gospel" and the established Baptist faith, be set forth in particularity, and uphold the "majority rule" as one of the cardinal points of the Baptist church, each church being self-governing.

The case which has attracted wide attention in northwest church circles, will be heard at the October term of the circuit court, if the legal skirmishing with technicalities that have prevailed so far are ended.

The Ashland Baptist church, followers of the established Baptist faith, have been sustained, in the councils of the church, and in the only tilt in court.
