

Shall We Build a City?

All the Measures on the Ballot to be Voted October 8 Are City Building Measures

They have all been carefully prepared by able, conscientious and reliable men, after a close study of the facts extending over a period of months and in some cases years. Every possible safeguard has been thrown around the expenditure of the money to be raised through these bond issues and every citizen can go to the polls on Thursday and vote "YES" on every measure, with the full consciousness and positive assurance that he or she is voting to make Medford a bigger and better city in which to live.

To build cities men and women must have vision, courage and initiative.

A Bigger and Purer Water Supply Must be Secured or Medford Has About Reached the Limit of Her Growth!

Many manufacturing plants and industrial enterprises require a large volume of water. We cannot invite them to locate here unless we are prepared to supply their needs, and enterprises of this sort bring the capital and payrolls that build great industrial centers.

WITH BIG BUTTE WATER IN LARGE VOLUME AND 100 PERCENT PURE WE CAN INVITE THE WORLD TO COME TO THE ROGUE RIVER VALLEY.

Opportunity

When opportunity winks, embrace her, The courthouse is winking at us, the County Court is winking at us, and the people of Jackson County are winking at us.

The Bond Issue to Build a City Hall to House the County Administration Until Such Time as Permanent Court House Can be Built Should Receive the Approval of Every Legal Voter Within the City Limits.

The removal of the courthouse has become an economic question—one of dollars and cents. It is costing the taxpayers too much in money and loss of time to further indulge their feelings of sentiment towards the historic old town of Jacksonville.

Let Us Build a City!

Medford is geographically situated to become the industrial and commercial center of Southern Oregon and Northern California. She has within her trade circumference vast actual and potential resources. She has a remarkable citizenship—progressive, energetic, resourceful—the best gathered from many lands and countries.

Our action at the polls tomorrow, the 8th of October, will determine whether our dreams are to come true, our hopes realized and our labor and sacrifices rewarded.
