

ASHLAND BEATEN BY KLAMATH IN EXCITING CONTEST

ASHLAND, Oct. 12.—The Klamath Pelicans gave the Ashland Hi football squad a warm reception on Saturday afternoon but sent the Ashland team home with the small end of a 12-7 score. This was the first game of the season for Ashland while their adversaries have already had three other contests. Ashland men are light in weight and the absence of veterans seriously cripples the team. Klamath Falls has the strongest team that they have sent out for several years. A number of Ashland folks went to Klamath Falls for the game on Saturday.

Miss Eva Poley was hostess on Saturday night to the members of the sewing club for which she has been advisor. The girls have done splendid work under Miss Poley's guidance and finished a 100 per cent club. Their work in Division II, Sewing, which was exhibited at the county fair was of unusual merit and won the first three awards. The club also fortunately placed at the state fair at Salem and Miss Mary Galey won high point honors on her personal exhibit. The first part of the evening was devoted to games which furnished a lot of fun for the girls who then enjoyed a season of piano music and singing. Miss Poley served ice cream, cake and hot chocolate. The guest list included Misses Letha Miles, Lorraine Sparr, Emily Taylor, Adena Joy, Madeline Stevens, Helen Chaney, Marie Davies, Ellen Galey, Edith Brookmiller, and Mary Galey. Miss Poley was assisted by her niece, Miss Mary Poley and by her mother, Mrs. Josephine Poley.

Mrs. Emma Oeder and Mrs. A. E. Kinney were visitors in Klamath Falls Saturday.

A group of Ashland ladies attended the Southern Oregon College club which met at Medford on Saturday. Those who made the trip were Mesdames F. D. Wagner, Emil Pell, Frank Dickey, M. C. Reid, H. A. Stearns, Willis and the Misses Jarmon, Tarr and Templin.

Mr. and Mrs. Rush intend to make their home in San Francisco.

One hundred sixty-two enthusiastic boys and girls from the 3rd, 4th and 5th grades were enrolled this week in the Week Day School of Religious Education. # Snake Collector STOPS IN MEDFORD

"Non-venomous snakes are harmless. They are just as glad to get away from you as you are from them. It is the fear of these snakes that often spoils the joy of a camping trip," said Prof. Tex A. Schubach, curator of the California snake farm at Berkeley, who is in the city today giving three lectures on state protection of the reptiles and treatment of bites inflicted by poisonous snakes.

The professor operates a farm at Berkeley for the purpose of selling snakes to carnivals, circuses and other attractions. He has over 1000 on the farm and is now bound there to place them in hibernation, doing this by placing them in prepared drawers for the winter. He has been in the business for 25 years past, receiving the inspiration, he said, when he was bitten by a Diamond Back rattler. Ever since he has devoted his time to snake culture.

He is traveling by automobile, arriving here from Salem, where he had attended the state fair. With him he has 120 live snakes, several Gila Monsters and pickled snakes. He exhibits a collection of several hundred fangs extracted from mouths of rattlesnakes.

DUNSMUIR ROAD OPEN 24 HOURS

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Oct. 12.—Reconstruction work now under way on the Pacific highway in the Sacramento canyon between Redding and Dunsmuir has progressed to a point where the state highway is now open to traffic for a period of 24 hours daily. This announcement was made here today by State Highway Engineer R. M. Morton, who stated that the contract with the Nevada Contracting company where the widening and straightening of the highway between Halfway creek and Dog creek is now more than half completed.

Work remaining to be done is largely off the present right of way and for that reason there will be little interference with traffic from now on until the completion of the work.

Closing restrictions are therefore removed and the highway will be open throughout the 24 hours of each day.

OREGON GAS TAX AGAIN ATTACKED

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 12.—Truck companies of Oregon and Washington have filed suits in federal courts here and at Tacoma, attacking the gasoline tax of the respective states. The allegation is made that the tax is unconstitutional because it is in effect a toll upon traffic on highways constructed in part by federal allotments of money.

Sees Bolsheviks at British Throat

Bolshevism is rampant in England and seriously threatening the empire, declares Lady Cowan, president of the British Women's Patriotic League, now in New York. She says Communists are insuring trouble in the future by setting up schools to destroy the faith of children in God and the rulers of the country.

W. BARKER PLEADS NOT GUILTY ON LIQUOR CHARGE

When arraigned before Justice J. L. Roe at Jacksonville Saturday afternoon, W. C. Barker and step-daughter, Allie M. Roney, arrested Friday by State Traffic Officers C. P. Talent and J. J. McMahon at the end of North Riverside while in the act of delivering a gallon of alleged moonshine, pleaded not guilty to the charges of possessing and transporting moonshine preferred against them. Their cases were turned over to the grand jury with bonds set at $3000 for Barker and $1000 for Mrs. Roney. The defense attorney, G. M. Roberts, was not present at the hearing.

Jack Finck of Los Angeles, Cal., arrested Friday night by Traffic Officers McMahon and Talent near Phoenix, pleaded guilty before Justice Roe to charges of possessing moonshine and speeding. On such charge he was fined $300 and $50 respectively.

Officers say he was traveling at a rate of 60 miles an hour in a large Hudson car a short time before his arrest, and that he also had a bottle of moonshine.

GOOD WEATHER FOR HARVESTING, SEEDING DELAYED

PORTLAND, Oct. 12.—A very good fall for harvesting, but not much opportunity for fall seeding to date, says F. L. Kent, statistician U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Records of the Portland weather bureau show that the September rainfall at that point was only about three-fourth of the normal, and the absence of October rainfall makes the total precipitation from September 1, to date, but little more than half of the normal.

The September rainfall was very "spotted," and in some parts of western Oregon the soil was in good condition for plowing at the end of September. Some little seeding has been done in the western part of the state, but mostly "disked" in on the stubble fields, and confined for the most part to fall seeded hay crops. In the principal eastern Oregon wheat counties there has been practically no rainfall, and the soil is therefore in poor condition for fall seeding. However, many growers will seed "in the dust" beginning about October 15, unless good rains occur before that date. Should the fall continue dry until very late it is quite probable that considerable acreage, intended for fall seeding, will be held over until spring. The good results obtained from the spring seeding of last fall's winter-killed hay crops, do not appear to have inclined many growers to greater than the usual spring seeding.

The case attracted wide attention among the Indian residents of the reservations, who are said to be divided into two factions over the case. The case is the outgrowth of a fight the two men had over cattle, on the Eggeman ranch.

The civil suit of E. J. Murray, publisher of the Evening Herald of Klamath Falls, against former Klamath county officials, alleging assault and conspiracy to prosecute, was begun this morning, and the jury in the case will be completed this afternoon. Murray asks damages of approximately $50,000.

The suit grew out of a newspaper controversy, and next to the courthouse squabble, was the hottest row in the history of Klamath county. One of the phases of the suit, is the alleged seizure of the newspaper plant.

Don't overburden your stomach—don't humor a false appetite!

WRIGLEYS "after every meal"

"LIVE WIRES"

The degree that a town uses electricity—like the size of its banks—is pretty apt to tell how "live" a town is. It's interesting to note then that the communities we serve have advanced further in the use of electric ranges, washing machines, and other labor-saving equipment—than many of the largest and presumably most advanced cities in the country!

It is a region of "live wires" and of unlimited natural resources and wealth—an up-and-coming one in which to live and grow.

In helping to develop the region this Company sees a real opportunity for service and to that end has created its New Industries Department. The Department is supplying a supplementary Chamber of Commerce type of service to the one California and five Oregon counties within our territory. If you know of anyone whom you believe might come here either to live or take part in our industrial growth, the Department will be glad to help you bring them here.

Or if you are ready to let electricity do the work in your own household, or business—cost information and other data will be supplied at any of our offices.
