Twinkling Ankles Again the Fashion In London Society

LONDON, Oct. 13.—(A. P.)—"The twinkling ankles" of years ago are likely to be seen this season. Fashion experts say there will be no plain silk stockings for the society belle who wishes to be up-to-date. They will be adorned with silk embroidery and ribbon flowers in the center of which will twinkle a small mock diamond. Other stockings will have embroidered silk comets, tipped with brilliants in a variety of designs.

ONLY 1 SHOT WAS FIRED BY MURRAY

Three Convict Pals of Accused Murderer Tell Same Story for Defense—Claim Oregon Jones Fired First, While Murray Fired But Once From Behind Tree

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 13.—The defense in the trial of Tom Murray took up the entire morning session of the court with three convict companions of Tom Murray as the principal witnesses. Dale Arthur testified that he was standing in the west corridor of the north window of the prison and saw the break of Murray and his companions across the yard and witnessed the shooting from a window. He said that the first shots were fired by the guards on tower number one at the convicts where they were in the turnkey's office. He said he saw Oregon Jones run out on the steps and fire at tower number one with a rifle but that the only shot he saw Murray fire was one from behind an oak tree in the prison yard at the guard in the tower. This is the shot that the state contends killed Sweeney. As to this part of the escape, all of the convict witnesses testified alike. They all said they saw the break from the windows overlooking the front yard.

WEEKS RESIGNS, DWIGHT DAVIS IS APPOINTED

Secretary of War Forced to Leave Because of Ill Health—Assistant Secretary of War Who Takes His Place Is Only Forty-Seven

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(A. P.)—Dwight F. Davis of Missouri today was appointed secretary of war. He takes the place of John W. Weeks of Massachusetts, whose resignation because of ill health, was formally announced at the White House. The change is effective immediately.

As assistant secretary Mr. Davis has been actual head of the war department since last spring when Mr.

Weeks was sent to New England by his physicians for an operation and a long vacation. In his letter of resignation, the retiring cabinet member said that he became apparent that he must greatly prolong his vacation if he is to completely regain his health. President Coolidge replied that he acceded with great regret to the secretary's insistent request that he be permitted to lay down the official duties he assumed when the Harding administration came into office in 1921. The new secretary, a lawyer and businessman, is in his forty-seventh year and will be the youngest member of the cabinet. He has served in the National Guard and reserve corps, has been an active official of various financial, educational, charitable and recreational organizations and is the donor of the Davis cup, the most celebrated of tennis trophies. In selecting him, President Coolidge followed the recommendation of the republican organization of Missouri and the advice of a powerful group of political associates who contended that the next cabinet place should be allotted to the west or middle-west.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN SPURNS HAMLET, WANTS TO MAKE THE PEOPLE LAUGH

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—(A. P.)—Charlie Chaplin has no ambition to play Hamlet. "I'm too much of a Hamlet in real life," he said when questioned concerning recurring rumors of his desire to play high tragedy. The peak of his ambition is to make people laugh, said the film comedian, who stopped in Chicago between

MONDAY NIGHT WAS COLDEST NIGHT OF SEASON IN MEDFORD

ROSEBURG, Ore., Oct. 13.—The watermelon season was officially ended this morning when growers awoke to find their fields covered with heavy frost. Although the weather bureau did not classify it as a killing frost, yet it was sufficient to kill off the melon vines. There still remains a large surplus of melons on the local market, but this will be exhausted in a few days. The temperature at eight o'clock this morning was 23 degrees, the coldest recorded for the season.

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 13.—Clear, cold and snappy weather greeted Bend residents this morning. The heaviest frost of the season was recorded here last night when the temperature dropped to ten degrees below freezing. The maximum registered yesterday was 44.

Last night and this morning had the coldest weather of the autumn season so far in Medford and vicinity, with quite a frost, at a minimum of 28.5, which killed most of the remaining vegetables and flowers. A light to heavy frost is predicted for here for tonight.

GENERAL STAFF DECLARES AIR VIEWS UNSOUND

Genl. Drum, Assistant Chief of Staff, Denounces Scheme of National Defense—Denies Air Service Discriminated Against by U. S. Army

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(A. P.)—The army general staff presented to the president's air board today a statement in rebuttal to witnesses who have urged sweeping changes in the national defense organization. It denounced as "unsound" the proposed department of national defense, asserted that "direct administration and control" of the army air service actually does rest "in the hands of the chief of the air service," and presented a general denial of charges of mismanagement in the administration of the air service itself.

Presented by Brigadier General Hugh A. Drum, assistant chief of staff, the statement, covering 51 typed written pages, was prefaced with the remark that the "war department has considered with painstaking thoroughness and care the various propositions and views presented to the board."

"The main proposals," it added, "have been studied in one form or another before, during, and since the world war, consequently the war department has crystallized its views on air service organization into sane, definite and well thought out policies. These views were concurred in by the chief of air service, Major General Mason M. Patrick."

The "war" in the last sentence of the above quoted paragraph was underscored in the official text of the statement.

Air Views Unsound.

"It is believed," General Drum testified, "that the ideas expressed by the chief of the air service are fundamentally unsound. . . . in his conception of a new national defense doctrine, whereby the theater of operations along our frontier is to be divided into three 'theaters of action,' sea, air and land, each with a separate commander, responsible for national defense in his respective theater."

The general staff also was said to view as "unsound" the proposal for a separate air corps within the army, urged by General Patrick as a step looking to creation of the defense department.

Urging that air units are essential to an army and must be an integral part thereof, General Drum added that "we must not be blinded to the sacrifices of the American doughboy."

"The prance of horses," he continued, "the boom of cannon and whir of airplane propellers cannot replace the dogged determination, 'the will to win,' of the American infantry."

Justice Burnett of State Supreme Ct. Weds Bride of 52

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 13.—Friends of Justice George H. Burnett of the state supreme court were surprised late yesterday when announcement was made that the justice and Frances Lorens Wise were married at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. The wedding took place at the home of Rev. W. C. Kantner, former pastor of the First Congregational church. The ring ceremony was used. Mr. Burnett is 72 years old and his bride is 52.

COCO NUT KING PLEADS FOR END OF MONEY TIPS

Leo Schepp Deluged With Letters from People Who Want His Money—Some Are Aided—Plan Fails as Far as Public Aid Is Concerned.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—Associates of Leo Schepp pleaded today for a cessation of ideas on how the 84 year old philanthropist could distribute his millions.

Last July Mr. Schepp appealed through the Associated Press for "sound concrete and workable ideas" on how he might best distribute his surplus wealth. Whether the ideas he received were either concrete or workable is open to discussion, but in bulk at any rate they were a hundred times greater than was expected by the aged philanthropist who had no idea what forces he was unleashing.

Since the appeal for ideas was made it was said today 100,000 communications originating in virtually every part of the world have been received. Response to Schepp's appeal was instantaneous and still continues. A large clerical force has been engaged in assorting, cataloging and answering the mail which at its peak comprised 5000 letters a day.

Every desire known to the human heart was encompassed in the appeal. An ambitious goat herder of Judea wished to study law. Funds to meet overdue mortgages on homes were asked by scores; dozens of parents sought financial aid to give their children university courses.

Nonagenarian Is Helped

One letter from a nonagenarian in Ohio, stated she expected just one more year of life and would like to enjoy it free from worry. This happened to reach the personal attention of Mr. Schepp and he ordered that a sum adequate for her needs be sent at once. Most of the foreign replies were in the language of the country of origin but some were in labored English. Among the letters was the near verse appeal of Joseph Svoboda of Prague:

"I— young man.
 "The — girl.
 "We love.
 "We labor.
 "We are but poor:
 "$1,000.
 "Marriage.
 "Happiness."

Sergeant Galek tired of Czecho-Slovakian army life, offered to disclose "his discovery of the causes of flood tide and ebb of the ocean," for suitable financial compensation.

As an experiment the attempt to obtain public advice was a failure. Very few of the appeals went beyond the needs and desires of the individual writers in spite of Mr. Schepp's declaration that he sought a method for bringing quick and permanent assistance to the public generally. Those in charge of the court report that less than five per cent were other than out and out personal appeals.

Two Killed When Paris Reds Strike Against Riff War

PARIS, Oct. 13.—(A. P.)—Aside from Paris and its environs, the general strike called by the communists as a protest against the warfare in Morocco, appears to be a failure. In Paris and the suburbs two men were killed and some 30 wounded during fighting yesterday between mobs and the police, but there were no disorders in any of the other large cities where the call of the "Moscowites," as the communists have been nicknamed, was scarcely heeded.

Oregon Supreme Court Decisions

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 13.—The supreme court today ordered a second re-argument in the case of Campbell, appellant, against the city of Eugene, in which the plaintiff seeks to have declared null and void a bond issue of $500,000 for the purpose of constructing a municipal auditorium.

The order was oral and given for the purpose of allowing the second re-argument of the case. The special election on the bond issue was held July 2, 1924, with a majority of 30 votes being cast for the bond authorization.

Opinions handed down today include:

John H. Denny versus Watt & Washburn, appellant, appeal from Klamath; suit to recover money. Opinion by Justice Burnett. Judge A. L. Leavitt reversed and case remanded.

Daily Report on the Crime Wave

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 13.—(A. P.)—The mutilated body of Francis Pioletti, 11-year-old nephew of Rev. Louis Pioletti, pastor of the Catholic church of the Redeemer, was found today in the attic on the third floor of a vacant house here.

Discovery of the body was made by Patrolman John Rose. Police expressed the belief that the boy was murdered at another spot and his body transported to the vacant house. The boy was last seen at a Columbus day banquet Monday evening.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Silk valued by the owners at over $250,000 was stolen from the show rooms of S. J. Aronson in Madison Square this morning by four robbers who left the watchman handcuffed and gagged. He was found seven hours later. The silk was hauled away in a truck.

Pirates Purchase Rhyme

PITTSBURG, Oct. 13.—(A. P.) The Pirates were understood today to have closed a deal with San Francisco of the Pacific Coast league for the purchase of Hal Rhyne, star shortstop and Paul Waner, outfielder, at a reported price of $100,000 and three players to be delivered later.

PIERCE FOR BOTH RAIL EXTENSIONS

Governor Appears at R. R. Hearing in Portland and Favors Extension of Both S. P. and Hill Lines Into Klamath County—S. P. Railroad President Flayed

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 13.—(A. P.) Governor Walter M. Pierce took the stand in the rail hearing today as the first witness for the Oregon public service commission as intervenor, and recommended that both the Southern Pacific and Oregon Trunk be allowed to make the extensions for which they have applied. The hearing is being conducted before Charles D. Mahaffie, director of finance of the interstate commerce commission.

The Southern Pacific completed its case this morning. Paul Shoup, executive secretary of the company, testified, telling of the acquisition of the California, Oregon and Eastern (Strahorn) line and of the Nevada, California and Oregon company line. He said that everything will be done by the Southern Pacific to make its control of the Strahorn line satisfactory to Klamath Falls. He said his company will begin standardizing the Nevada-California-Oregon line as soon as the interstate commerce commission gives approval and ratifies the acquisition of the line by the Southern Pacific.

Development Needed

Governor Pierce recited that the Oregon commission had sought to obtain a cross-state line from Crane to Odell and that a line be built south from Bend to open up a large region of the state now without rail transportation. He emphasized the need of development in the territory around Lakeview. He favored standardization of the narrow-gauge road now entering Lakeview from the south and declared that Lakeview should have an outlet to the north, giving connection with markets served by the Northern lines and the Union Pacific.

"Where a single line of railroad is sufficient I do not believe in duplication of construction but I do believe that the vast central Oregon country should have rail competition and that competing companies should have joint user privileges with existing companies."

"At present we are prevented from reaching the eastern markets. We need a cross-state line. Such a line, if built under conditions and safeguards which will permit the owning companies freely and actively to participate in western Oregon tonnage will prove a great boon to the entire state."

SPRUDE SCHEM OPPOSED

"I was surprised to see that President Spruode of the Southern Pacific made a statement that Southern Oregon should be divided into exclusive zones controlled by particular transportation systems. This reminds me of historical scenes when conquering heroes divided the world into sections for the exploitation of different hereditary rulers. As governor of Oregon I am unalterably opposed to the division of the resources of this state into zones for exploitation by any company or persons."

"We are not interested in the railroad controversy but we are interested in development. As governor I wish to state that my investigation convinces me that the timber resources of the state can be made perpetual and that companies should not be allowed to wreck the forests by indiscriminate cutting. There are large agricultural interests that will afford tonnage for railroads in addition to timber in the Klamath country, also other parts of the state, demanding

ELIHU ROOT MAKES TRAMP MINER OF YESTERDAY, MILLIONAIRE TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—(A. P.)—A tramp miner yesterday; today a potential multi-millionaire. This was the prospect faced by George Carson, 59, who received the news yesterday that an action of the United States supreme court, upholding a decision of the United States circuit court of appeals in Carson's favor, made the American Smelting company and other concerns liable for infringement on a smelting process patented by Carson. The concerns must now render an accounting for all profit made from his invention.

The suit revolves around a patent for side feeding of reverberatory furnaces, developed many years ago while Carson was in Denver. His claim was thrown out of a United States district court in Seattle. He interested Rudolph Spreckles, San Francisco capitalist, who retained George W. Wickersham, Elihu Root and Frank W. Hitchcock to represent Carson and the case was won. Carson received the news in bed in a ward at the University of California hospital where he has been ill for several days.
