GIRL ATHLETES MUST GET REGULAR SLEEP

BERKELEY, Cal.—Training rules for women students at the University of California who are going in for athletics, which the Women's Athletic association says will be enforced rigidly, are:

Eight hours of sleep five nights a week.

Three regular meals a day, with green vegetables on the menu at least once.

A pint of milk at least once a day.

No candy between meals and not more than one cup of coffee or tea a day.

burg is a seething baseball hubbed with its idols returning home to make their stand. Today the fans of the smoky city hope to outdo Washington's tribute to the Senators.

The Pirates figure that the end of the bad breaks has come, pointing to the wonderful stop by Joe Judge in yesterday's game as an instance. The Washington first baseman cut off a Carey hit with men on the bases and just such plays have broken down the Pirate attacks previously. Yesterday they were able to offset ever that turn of fate.

The seventh game, if necessary, will be played in Pittsburgh. If there is a postponement the contest will be played as soon as possible. In other words the players have been to Washington for the last time—at least this year.

Hazen Cuyler's ability to cover ground and remain cool under fire had much to do with Pittsburgh's victory yesterday. There was a ticklish situation in the seventh. One run had been scored and the tying run was on second when Joe Harris, author of a home-run and single in the battle, again came to bat. He lifted a high fly back of first base which Cuyler captured after a long run.

Walter Johnson said before leaving for Pittsburgh that he would be ready to work if called upon should the Pirates win today and tie the series. His right leg is sore but he believes that another day will put him right.

Meadows worked out for some time yesterday and appeared to have sufficient "steam" to his delivery. In case Pittsburgh ties matters, he too, will be ready tomorrow.

OREGON BENEFITTED BY IDAHO DEFEAT

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 13.—With more pep and punch than displayed at any other time this year, the University of Oregon football team went through three solid hours of scrimmage last night. The rumor that some of the veterans in the lineup may be displaced by other candidates seems to have had good effect and things may work out pretty well after all.

Oregon looks a good deal today like she did a year ago. A slow start proving disastrous because of the defeat at the hands of Idaho is now wearing off. With nearly two weeks to go before the California game the team and the fans are getting their old hope back—the hope to win.

MEDFORD ASKED TO MAKE INVESTMENT IN BOY TRAINING

Since September 25th, the people of Medford have been given an opportunity to invest in a program intended to make better future citizens, the Boy Scouts of America.

A boy of scout age—between 12 and 15—has little immediate, but a high prospective value. Physically unformed, mentally untrained, morally undisciplined, he is often more of a problem than a comfort to his elders. Few men, now leaders in the life of our community, showed evidence of their capacity for leadership, when they were 12 to 15 years of age.

But the boy has a tremendous prospective value, a value in proportion to what is put into his training. Just that and no more. What you put into the boy will come out in the man. Hence the boy problem requires for its solution a willingness on the part of someone to make an investment in boys, with no prospect of immediate returns, but with vast dividends, in a heightened manhood, accruing in the future.

The men of 19 or 15 years hence, are the boys of today. They will be what we have made them. Our future mayors, councilmen, business and professional men, are now getting the ideals from us, by which they will then guide their own lives. Are we sufficiently interested in the future of this community to invest in the boyhood of today? Can Medford make a better contribution to the welfare of this community than that of sponsoring an organization which has for its specific object the training of boys in the direction of an efficient manhood? The finance campaign committee will be glad to have your answer.

Dies Ignorant of Son's Death.

FEDERAL COURT OFFICIALS GUESTS AT KIWANIS CLUB

The Kiwanis club was honored Monday at its luncheon in the Holland hotel, by the attendance of six federal court officers, Judge C. E. Wolvorton, United States District Attorney Geo. Neuner, Assistant Attorney J. O. Stearns, Chief Deputy U. S. Marshal H. H. Reed, Deputy Marshal Wells, Deputy U. S. Clerk Brown.

Judge Wolvorton, in a short talk, complimented the Kiwanians on the splendid work they are accomplishing not only in Medford, but all over the state and nation. He also paid a high compliment to the progressiveness of the people of Medford in accomplishing things for the betterment of the community and the people.

Mr. Neuner, who is a Kiwanian, urged all members to study and get better acquainted with the work and devote more time to the "golden rule" as applied to city, state and national affairs, stating that every man owes part of his time to his community, and after all there is wonderful satisfaction in being a "builder," which is the Kiwanian motto—a builder of community welfare as well as of character. He urged all to study the questions before us and have an open discussion of them every day in the year, not merely when they confront us in a serious way.

He said minority rule has overthrown governments and it is a serious problem. He called attention to several instances, one in which only about 50 per cent of the people of this state voted on candidates for a high office and that only about 25 per cent of the people elected that official. He paid his respects to that class of non-voters who stand around and criticize after a minority has voted and branded them a dangerous class. He urged all clubs like Kiwanis, Rotarians, Lions and others to devote more of their time to studying and discussing subjects of importance and then spread the gospel of the Golden Rule every day in the year.

Mr. Neuner said there is no place in the universe so near and dear to him and his family as southern Oregon, and no people so progressive or so hospitable.

Although Mr. Neuner has moved to Portland, where the duties of his office call him, he will never lose his love for southern Oregon, where he has spent most of his life and has been highly honored in his profession, in lodge and social circles, as well as politically, and will return to his former home in Roseburg to reside when he has successfully completed his official duties in Portland.

The other guests were Kiwanians, Carl Loveland and Ralph Billings of Ashland and Mr. Wells.

O. Arnsperger received the attendance prize offered by Larry Mann of Heath's drug store.

Aspirin Braces Up Cut Flowers.
Experiments have confirmed the fact that cut flowers may be prevented from fading by giving them an aspirin tablet. The experiments were conducted with chrysanthemums. The treated bloom outlasted the untreated by three days. Flowers which were badly wilted were given fresh water and an aspirin tablet. They revived in two hours, looking as fresh as they did when picked. The leaves, however, remained wilted. The aspirin acts as an antiseptic, interfering with the enzyme which causes the clogging of the stem if its cut surface.

UNITY OF EUROPE IS BEING BUILT IN SWITZERLAND

LOCARNO, Switzerland, Oct. 13.—(A. P.) "It is the unity of Europe which we are building at Locarno," said one of Europe's foreign ministers to the Associated Press today in commenting on the progress of the surety conference.

"You can take it for granted," he continued, "that the question of Germany entering the League of Nations is already settled and as for the nature of the French guarantees for the integrity of Poland and Czechoslovakia, you can say there will be no difficulty as all sides are determined to reach an accord."

The formula for the latter problem is yet to be found but it will take the form of mutual guarantees operating under the League of Nations covenant, whose pertinent articles we will cite instead of brutally talking of direct guarantees.

The correspondent learns from other sources that the Rhine security pact contains no stipulation as to the length of its duration and that there is no present intention to seek revision of the penalty clauses of the league covenant as a result of the gentleman's agreement with Germany. The allied statesmen feel it would be impossible to secure the necessary unanimous approval of the league covenant for such a move. If, therefore, Germany officially approves the League of Nations arrangement with the allies, it is evident she must risk her chance of convincing the council after she has become a member that she is impotent to contribute economic, financial or military help in any league move against a proclaimed aggressor nation.

Under the gentleman's agreement Great Britain, France and Italy, as permanent members of the council of the league express their regrets that Germany can only be called upon in proportion to her means.

SHERMAN CLAY HAVE NEW MEDFORD BRANCH

Sherman Clay & Company have taken over the piano department of Launsbach's Piano store in this city and will operate it as a branch of the Portland store, according to J. M. Howard, representative of Sherman Clay and Co. of Portland. Owing to ill health Herb Launsbach, who formerly handled the Sherman Clay line in southern Oregon, has been forced to retire from business indefinitely and the local store has automatically become a branch of the Portland headquarters of this big firm.

Mr. Howard, who will manage the Medford branch, is enthusiastic over the business outlook in this territory. "We intend to make the Medford store one of the best of our line of branch stores," says Mr. Howard. "The management of Sherman Clay and Company is confident that southern Oregon will prove to be one of their most productive territories and we are fortunate in having much of the pioneering work already done by Mr. Launsbach."

FIRESTONE SALES HIGH IN MEDFORD

All sales records for Firestone tires in this community have been shattered during the first eight months of 1925, it was announced today by F. R. Horn of the Highway Motor company, Firestone dealers in Medford.

"Back of Firestone tires are 25 years of successful tire building experience, in which time the Firestone company has made some of the most important and successful contributions to the tire construction and motor car usefulness," said Mr. Horn. "Chief among these are gum-dipping, an exclusive Firestone manufacturing process, and the development of the full-size balloon tire."

"Gum-dipping is an extra process which impregnates and insulates every strand of cord in the tire with rubber, in addition to coating the cords as is generally done. The results are greater strength, stamina and flexibility."

"Through the use of the gum-dipping process, Firestone was able to develop the full-size balloon years ago, creating a new era in motor car travel. A year ago about 25 per cent of Firestone's production was devoted to balloon tires, while now 75 per cent is devoted to this purpose, and the company has at times been unable to meet the demand."

Genl. Patrick Objects To Madden's Charge

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Major General Mason M. Patrick, army air chief, opposed before the president's air board today a proposal advanced yesterday by Chairman Madden of the house appropriations committee to transfer all aircraft experimental work from the army to private enterprise.

General Patrick took exception to Mr. Madden's testimony that "millions of dollars" had been "squandered" by the army in a "reckless expenditure of funds for experimental work. Much experimental work, he said, is necessary to show what should not be done."
