FINAL ARGUMENTS IN SHEEP-CATTLE WAR NEXT WEEK

The hearing of the suit of the Big Butte Horse and Cattle association against Alex Anderson, a sheepman, living near Brownsboro, was concluded before Circuit Judge Charles M. Thomas in the circuit court Tuesday afternoon, and the final arguments in the case will be given the first part of the week by Attorney Evan Reames for the plaintiff and Attorney Don R. Newbury for the defendant.

The final witness for the defense was Anderson, who testified that he started to range sheep on the contested area in 1922, having 600 sheep, and that part of the time the band was on the Stoddard place, private land, and part of the time on what is known as Moffatt flats, a stretch of chapparel, which is public land. The witness also testified that he had received a phone call from a man by the name of Geppert, who "told me to get off or he would put me off."

The witness testified: "This made me kind of mad, and I told him to come down and put me off; I would be waiting for him."

Nothing came of the conversation.

The horse and cattle association contend that the land is exclusively a cattle range and has been for 60 years and that sheep ranging on the same is a detriment.

The defense contend that they had permission of the agent of the owner of the land to graze sheep.

Anderson, questioned about an alleged proposition he made to Gus Nichols of Eagle Point, a stockman and member of the association, that he would remove his sheep if the association would drop the suit, said it was made "to keep down trouble." Nichols, the witness said, referred him to officers of the association. "They want more than the court would possibly give them, so the matter was ended," he concluded.

LOWDEN DECLARES GOV'T OUT OF DATE

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—(A. P.) Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, declared that America's governmental machinery was hopelessly out of date, in an address last night at the University of Chicago.

"The government is moribund with bureaucracy, helpless in its own twining of red tape," said Mr. Lowden.

"Taxation's growing burden has been the only stimulus that has awakened our people into the fearful knowledge that democratic government as America is practicing it, is a failure at the moment."

O. A. C. FRESHMAN IS HURT IN EXPLOSION

CORVALLIS, Ore., Oc. 14.—(A. P.) Charles K. Homan, a freshman at Oregon Agricultural college, registered from Ontario, Oregon, was painfully though not dangerously injured last evening when some apparatus with which he was working in the chemistry laboratory exploded. Flying glass cut deep gashes in his face and punctured the skin on his chest. His eyes and other vital parts escaped injury. The explosion is thought to have been caused by a clogged delivery tube in some oxygen-making apparatus.

The Screen

By Ye Press Agent.

Wright's Tale of Southwest on Screen.

The announcement of Harold Bell Wright's latest novel, "A Son of His Father," is at Hunt's Craterian beginning tomorrow matinee. It is a story of the ever changing west based upon facts gathered by the author near his desert home in Tucson, Ariz. Dealing with the theme of inheritance—that of the good and the bad brought down from father to son—the picture was filmed in the wilderness of the Arizona desert, near the Mexican border. Nora is played by Bessie Love, Warner Baxter plays Big Boy Morgan, Raymond Hatton has the part of Charlie Grey, Walter McGrail that of Holdbrook.

Peters Has Interesting Role.

"Headwinds," co-starring House Peters with Patsy Ruth Miller now playing at the Rialto theater.

The keynote is novelty, for it deals with an unusual situation in an unusual way. For instance, in the story House Peters is cast in the role of a millionaire sportsman who in order to win the love and respect of the girl he loves finds it necessary to kidnap her and spirit her away to sea. As Peter Rosslyn, the wealthy yachtsman, House Peters is seen in a fine role.

Patsy Ruth Miller, who plays the leading feminine role opposite Peters, plays the part of Patricia Van Pelt, the headstrong, impetuous shrew, with whom Peters is in love. Miss Miller, who will be remembered for her work in "The Hunchback of Notre Dame." A strong cast supports the stars.

Shirt Throwing Wife Wins.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—Mrs. Jessie Margaret Rudlong, who threw many of her husband's silk shirts out of the window of his New York apartment wiht notes written on them, has won the litigation with him. He has been denied an order to prevent her from trespassing upon his New York estate.

PARENT-TEACHERS AT WASHINGTON SCHOOL TO MEET

The Washington Parent-Teacher circle will hold its regular monthly meeting October 16 at 8 P. M. at the school. The evening session is planned so that both parents may attend to meet the new superintenednt, E. H. Hedrick, and the teachers of their children. Make an especial effort, fathers and mothers of Washington school, to be present as the committees in charge are bending every effort to give you an enjoyable as well as instructive evening.

The program follows:

Invocation, Rev. D. J. Howe.

"America," audience led by Mrs. F. E. Nichols.

Business session.

Solo dance, Miss Lucille Lowry.

Vocal solo, "In the Garden of My Heart" (Ball), "To a Wild Rose" (McDowell), Mrs. F. E. Nichols.

Piano solo, Miss Roberta Stearns.

Music, group of songs, fifth grade.

Address, E. H. Hedrick.

Light refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

Vaudeville

The Western Manager's association vaudeville bill at Hunt's Craterian tonight offers a wide range of entertainment, including the Empire comedy, with Joe Jenny, and a splendid quartette.

Elizabeth Friedmann's Elida ballet, with Addele Jeanne, present artistic and novelty dancing, with a beautiful scenic backing and costumes. Six beautiful and graceful girls present songs and Oriental dance number.

Arnold and Florence, from the English music halls, sing and talk, and present a humorous act, different from the ordinary run.

Max Trout and Jack Heff, burnt cork comedians, appear as "Two Black Spasms. They offer colored comedy with topical songs and chatter.

"Smoke Pictures and Shadows," by Stuart Darrow is unusual. With smoke the draws pictures and scenes, and with his hands casts shadows.

"Topics of the Day" and a clever comedy comprise the photoplay portion of the program.
