

H. S. LINEUP FOR KLAMATH GAME IS ANNOUNCED

The Medford high school went through a lecture by Coach Callison and a hard scrimmage yesterday afternoon and morning, and repeated the dose today, there being no school on account of the teachers' institute. The penchant of the locals to fumble the ball, and improper timing of plays, caused the coach to yell and throw sawdust at the offenders. The team plays Klamath Falls Saturday, Grants Pass at Grants Pass Saturday week.

Coach Callison announced the following men would make the Klamath trip: McFee, center; Neff and Jackson, guards; Morgan and Hubbard, tackles; Singler and Sanders, ends; Herriot, quarter; Williams and Conrad, halves, and Senn, fullback. Substitutes: Putney, guard; Zeek, tackle; Dunn, quarter; Moore, half; Archer, fullback; Kelley, end, and Hughes, center.

James Stevens With Clewiston Company

The first booklets telling of Clewiston, in southern Florida, being promoted by the president of the Celotex company and associates, have been received in Medford. The booklet is a work of art, giving illustrations of the beauties as well as the resources of that section and telling of its hopes and prospects of the future.

Clewiston is located on the beautiful Lake Okeechobee, claimed to be the second largest fresh water lake in the United States, and the Celotex company will invest several million dollars in land and a factory there.

James Stevens, who was formerly a resident of Medford, is with the company in the development of Clewiston. Mrs. Stevens recently left Medford to join her husband.

Father Returns Child; Court Action Halted

The habeas corpus proceedings of Myrtle Mary Helm against William Clyde Helm, for the body of Teola Josephine Helm, aged three years, was dismissed in the circuit court Thursday afternoon. It was alleged that Helm took the child from its home in this city last Saturday night, and placed it with friends north of Central Point, informing the mother that "you'll never see" the child again. Helm returned the child to its mother Wednesday afternoon, before a hearing could be held on the writ.

Great Sport Pictures Showing at Craterian

OBITUARY

DENHAM—James Franklin Denham was born April 19, 1852, in Saline county, Missouri, the son of George W. and Emily Denham. His early life was spent on his father's farm and his education was limited during his growing period, but after attaining manhood he took a course in the Kirksville Normal school, thus receiving quite a finished education. In 1879 Mr. Denham went to Marysville, Cal., where he worked four years, and then to Rockley, Wash., in the Big Bend country, remaining there until 1905. Sixteen years ago he came to Talent and was married in 1910 to Mrs. Cora V. Turner, and to this union one child was born, James Franklin Jr., who is now 14 years of age. There are no other living relatives.
