

PARENT-TEACHERS AT REESE CREEK ENJOY A PROGRAM

REESE CREEK, Oct. 15.—The Parent-Teachers held their first meeting at the school house Friday evening, October 15. It was a joint meeting, celebrating Columbus day as well. The teachers had prepared a program, which was greatly enjoyed by the crowded house. Program:

Song—"The Georgia Lullaby" by Mrs. Greb, Mrs. Thurston and Mrs. Helman.

Play, by the school, "When Columbus Discovered America," which was in several acts.

Song, "America," by the school.

The meeting was called to order by the president of the Parent-Teachers, Mrs. Lizzie Jacka, to receive members and plan for the winter's work. Most of the old members paid their dues, and some new members were added. The school yard gets muddy in the winter and needs graveling so badly, so it was decided to have a community meeting on Saturday, October 24, the men coming with their teams, wagons, shovels, etc., to haul gravel and spread it. The ladies will bring lunch and help with the work also, encouraging the men.

Fred Bellows and sons have returned to Reese Creek. They are for the present living in Sam Courtney's house. Fred is working for W. F. Hammel, and the boys will go to school. C. E. Bellows brought his sheep out this week.

W. Jacks and family and Alex Vestal spent Tuesday evening visiting at the C. E. Bellows home.

Arthur Bellows and family have returned this far on their way home from Klamath Falls. They brought Mrs. C. E. Bellows' sister, Mrs. Ora Bellows with them. She will visit for a few days.

Mrs. Brittan of Medford is visiting at her son's home, Earl Brittan, this week.

Mrs. W. Jacks called on Mrs. Humphrey Wednesday afternoon.

The Robertson's had quite an exciting time last week. There was a coyote that would come around where they were husking corn; he was bold and would advance quite close; but when they would take their gun Mr. Coyote was not there, but finally he did come one day too many, and that when the gun was close by and loaded; he did not return to his friends to tell the outcome.

Sunday Edgar Chamberlain and wife, all of Medford, visited at the Vestal home. In the evening the men accompanied by the ladies, went out and cut down a tree with honey. They say it was great sport for the ladies to help dish out the honey, and keep from getting stung by the bees.

Frank Custer's have moved back to their own home.

W. E. Hammond and wife visited at H. Watkins Sunday evening. The memory verse for next Sunday is "Now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; but the greatest of these is love." Come to Sunday school. You will receive a welcome.

There are still a number of auction players who as dealer do not understand what to do with certain types of hands. Most players know when to bid no-trump or one of a suit but every now and then they hold hands that puzzle them. For example, suppose you dealt and held the following hand:

Hearts—A, K, J
Clubs—9, 7, 4, 3
Diamonds—A, K, Q
Spades—8, 5, 4

What would you bid? The only proper bid with this hand is one no-trump and yet the holder of this hand trumps. It is too strong to justify a pass for if you do, there is a very good chance of the hand being passed out. It will also mislead partner as to strength held. Here's another hand:

Hearts—A, K, 4
Clubs—A, 9
Diamonds—J, 6, 3, 2
Spades—A, K, 10, 4

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and passed, A bid one spade, Y one no-trump, B passed and Z bid two hearts. A and Y passed and B bid two spades, Z bid three clubs, A and Y passed and B bid three spades, Z bid four clubs, A doubled, Y redoubled and B bid four spades, Z and A passed, Y doubled, B redoubled and all passed, Y opened the ace of hearts and then led the trey. How should A play the combined hands? After winning the second trick with the king of hearts, A should lead the king of spades. He should then lead a low diamond and win the trick in B's hand with the king. He should then lead a low spade and win the trick with the ace in his own hand. In this particular hand,

Spades—Q, J, 10, 9, 8
Should you bid one no-trump or one spade? This is a very close hand. Personally the writer prefers a spade bid but would not criticize a no-trump. These two hands are indicative of the difficulty that still confronts auction players who have not yet mastered the proper bids of the dealer. The dealer is in a peculiar position for he can always give exact information. For that reason he should strive to bid correctly. To pass under certain circumstances is just as bad as to bid incorrectly. Don't pass sound bids for to do so is just as misleading as an unsound bid. Your partner depends on you as dealer to give exact information both by your bids and your passes, so strive to do so at all times.

Hearts—10, 8, 2
Clubs—none
Diamonds—A, K, J, 8, 7, 5
Spades—9, 7, 3, 2

Y : Clubs—none
Z : Diamonds—A, K, J, 8, 7, 5
A : Spades—9, 7, 3, 2

Z failed to follow suit on the second round of spades. A was now in a position where he could count Z's hand very accurately. Y's lead of the ace and trey of hearts and the fact that B held the deuce indicated that Y originally held only two hearts. Therefore Z must have held six hearts. Z's bid and rebid of clubs indicated that he must have held at least five clubs so that his original holding must have been six hearts, five clubs, one spade and one diamond. Therefore, A at the sixth trick should lead a diamond and finesse the jack. Played in this way, AB should make their contract for YZ. AB can only make the ace of hearts and two spade tricks. Play out the hand for practice.

Problem No. 3

Y : Clubs—none
Z : Diamonds—none
A : Spades—K, 9, 5, 3

Spades—10

There are no trumps and Z is in the lead. How can YZ win three of the five tricks against any defense?

Answer to Problem No. 3

Z should lead the jack of spades and A's best play is the queen. If A should play the ace, YZ will win the balance of the tricks. If A allows the jack to hold the trick, AB can only win one trick. When A, therefore, plays the queen of spades, Y should win the trick with the king

"NO PEDDLERS OR AGENTS ALLOWED"

"On several hundred residences," said a local printer today, "in Medford appears this neat metal sign: 'No Peddlers or Agents Allowed,' which is all right and it not only protects the household from being continually bothered by peddlers, but it has a tendency to promote buying at home, as it should, and offers the purchaser protection in the way of a guarantee, as the home merchant will make good everything while the solicitor is here today and tomorrow in some other place. The article of the home merchant in nearly every instance is of a better quality and is as cheap or cheaper as a rule."

"However, peddlers and agents of concerns outside of Medford are soliciting and selling every day to the merchants, professional men, manufacturers, fruit houses, city and county officers letter heads, sales slips, duplicate order blanks, ledgers and other blank books, bookkeeping and adding machines, bill and ledger sheets, fruit labels, fruit wrappers and all other kinds of printing that goes to pay the salaries of printers in other cities. This is done without even thinking about inquiring from some home printer if he could do the work.

"A large majority of the envelopes used by Medford business and professional men are purchased from the government at a price lower than any printer can buy them. The government carries hundreds of tons of these envelopes by parcel post all over the country and does not charge anything for postage, which increases the postal shortage many thousands of dollars each year. If the government was selling goods in opposition to the dry goods, clothing, hardware, drug and other lines of business, as it is in opposition to the printer, producing goods in large quantities and delivering them all over the country free, they would drive many merchants and manufacturers out of business and a great howl would go up from those affected.

"If home protection is good for the merchant, professional man, manufacturer and fruit house, why should it not apply to the printers, who also have thousands of dollars invested and pay taxes the same as other people do?"

"Take a survey of the printing and books in your office. See if it was printed or made at home, and if not resolve to call up some of the home printers the next time you need any thing."

"When a solicitor calls on you tell him patently you give your work to home printers and insist that you can buy anything printed or made from your home town as cheap as they can."

"Why not put a sign in your place of business, 'No Peddlers or Agents Allowed'?"

Matt Moore and Dorothy Devore, Hualto.

"His Majesty, Bunker Bean," a Warner Brothers classic, opened today at the Hualto theater for a two days' engagement.

Bunker Bean is a timid, inconspicuous clerk who is convinced by two fake clairvoyants that he is the reincarnation of Napoleon and an Egyptian king. Filled with the illusion of majesty, he finds himself carried along in a stream of riotously entertaining incidents.

The team of Matt Moore and Dorothy Devore's one of the most popular in pictures, because Moore makes his audience suffer along with him in the misery of his shyness and timidity, and Miss Moore is so wistful and encouraging a foil for him that it is almost impossible to withstand her appeal.

Splendid Western Play, Craterian.

One of the best Western pictures of the year is "A Son of His Father," by Harold Bell Wright, is the new attraction at Hualto's Craterian.

There is never a quiet moment or the least dig in the action, "Big Boy" Morgan, the "son," Nora, the girl who comes to find her brother; Charlie Grey, the sick friend; Holdbrook, the villain; Zoberster, the head-of the smugglers, and all the rest are just such people as one is apt to meet every day.

It is the tale of cattle rustlers and their never ending quarrel with the ranchers. Morgan is a young rancher who has sworn to clear Arizona of those men who over run it. Then little Nora, a young Irish girl, arrives on the scene.

Morgan asks her to stay at his house till her brother returns. He tells her that he has gone to the hills after some cattle. In reality he has joined the smugglers.

A fine cast is headed by Warner Baxter, Bessie Love and Raymond Hatton.

EX-MAYOR GOLD HILL RETURNS TO ENTER BUSINESS

GOLD HILL, Oct. 16.—Ex-Mayor W. H. Miller, who sold out his business and home property here in Gold Hill last summer and left for the north and later located in Salem by buying a home there, has returned to Gold Hill to relocate. He reports that he has sold his home, store, garage business and all his interests there at Salem and is now ready to do business again in Gold Hill. His son, R. Lloyd Miller, who was connected with him in the several Gold Hill businesses before selling out here and was connected with the several business enterprises in Salem, returned last week with his family and are now domiciled at their old home on Fifth avenue North in Gold Hill. It is reported that the Millers will go into business in the near future in Gold Hill, and the senior Miller will commence the immediate construction of dwelling houses for rent and sale on vacant property on the highway street in Riverside addition in Gold Hill.

It is reported that the Kelmar-Vanpet Mining company has taken over the old Hoaring Gimlet mine on Knapp creek, three miles out from Gold Hill, and situated just below the Gold Ridge mine. They propose to sink a shaft several hundred feet deep below the old workings where the free-milling ore runs out into the base ore and then cross-cut into new workings which have evidence of much mineral wealth above and below the east-west workings cutting the property. This property produced over $100,000 in high-grade free milling ore down to the base ore at a depth of less than 95 feet, while the base ore below has never been developed.

Harry Childers has sold part of his home tract on the highway street in Riverside addition to Earl F. Moore, an old-time cement employee, who will build a home on the new possession in the near future. This is the fore-runner of a string of home building which are being planned on these Riverside tracts between the river and the highway for the coming season. It is proposed to open First avenue north through these tracts, thus cutting a street the entire length of Riverside.

Boy Scout troops meet on Friday night at 7:30 as follows: Troop 4, O. L. Cornwell, scoutmaster, at the First Presbyterian church, corner Main and Holley. Troop 5, Ernest DuChane, scoutmaster, at the First Presbyterian church, Holly street entrance. This week each member is pledged to bring a boy of scout age to visit the meeting. Troop 6, Geo. Kunzman, scoutmaster, at the First Methodist church, Laurel and Main. This troop is planning a large attendance at the next court of honor to be held Oct. 29th.

On Saturday night, Oct. 17th a new troop will be formed at the First Baptist church. Any boys twelve years of age or older are welcome to attend. This meeting will be in charge of Cecil A. Cook, scout executive.

On Tuesday nights troops 2 and 3 meet in the Methodist church (South) at Main and Oakdale under the leadership of R. Bill, scoutmaster.

One of the principle features of this winter's activities in scouting will be the organization of men in a scoutmasters training course. The first meeting will be held at Scout Headquarters office and the large adjoining room on Tuesday night at 7:30. This will be an opportunity for the men already in charge of troops to study the scout program and for men interested in the boys of today to learn a program that is most interesting.

What Scouting Is

Scouting is America's accepted program for boy development. Scouting touches all the interests of boy life. Camp craft, wood craft, first aid, life saving, signaling, civility, and handicraft prepare the boy to be of service to himself and others. Stay subjects give him a chance to develop hobbies and furnish a constructive outlet for boy energy.

Scouting is outdoor life, and so health, strength, happiness and practical education.

Scouting builds character through the daily good turn; citizenship through service; health through outdoor fun. Scouting is the community's opportunity to reach the boy for good citizenship.

The scout program reaches every element of boy life regardless of race, creed, class or condition.

Any boy, of any nationality, of any creed, twelve years of age or older, may become a Boy Scout if he promises to keep the scout oaths and laws.

The Boy Scout movement is non-sectarian, non-military, and non-partisan.

The plan is to group a number of boys in a troop, under the leadership of a scoutmaster—a carefully-selected clean, intelligent, boy-loving leader—always a man of sterling character and mature judgment.

The Boy Scout is taught courtesy, honor, humanity, kindness, civility, and service, and to exercise them at home, in school and outside, and learns such practical activities as first aid, life saving, cooking, swimming.

But the real object of this splendid contact between men and boys is character development. The fascinating scout program is but a means to that end.

The Boy Scout must do a "good turn" daily.

Who's Your Barber?

Do you talk of "your barber" as you do your doctor? Many people do, according to the boys at the Highway Barber Shop who say that as a rule when folks find a barber that pleases them, they will go to him regularly for years. When asked as to the oldest customer they recalled some customers that have been on the list for 17 years.

They also say men customers are as particular as women about their work and they make an extra effort to give the best service to all.

C. T. Noe has pleased the people of Medford for 17 years. C. L. Taylor for 16 years and Adam Holman for 2 years.

The Highway Barber Shop is located 50 feet off Main on North Riverside. All equipment is new and modern. Hair cutting for men, women and children are featured by this shop.
