

COURT CALENDAR STARTING OCT. 26 IS MADE PUBLIC

The calendar for the term of the circuit court, commencing Monday, October 26, has been fixed, and is one of the heaviest in years for this county. Notice to lawyers to be ready for trial, when their cases are set, unless dismissed, "or a statutory showing made, and a continuance granted," is contained in the following appendix to the calendar:

"If the attorneys have other conflicting matters, do not expect circuit court matters to be subordinated."

The order in which the cases will be called is as follows:

State of Oregon vs. Jack Durando, liquor.

State of Oregon vs. Willis A. Scott, liquor.

State of Oregon vs. J. S. Wheaton, liquor.

State of Oregon vs. Walter Williams, statutory offense.

State of Oregon vs. H. C. Conway, liquor.

$500,000 TO BE INVESTED

which also has large holdings in northern California, is distinctly a different corporation than the Rogue River Properties, Inc., which operates several thousand acres of orchard and farm land in the valley purchased last summer.

The Suncrest company is operating at present the former Oregon Growers parking house at the end of North Central avenue in connection with the Rogue River Properties company. Next year, it is understood, the latter will operate the parking plant only.

The Hopkin ranch consisting of 40 acres of orchard near Jacksonville and owned by the Suncrest interests was sold to Alfred Carpenter of Pasadena, Calif., because of the fact that it was too far distant from the center of activities at Yonchies. The tract of land, planted to pears, is said to have sold at $20,000. The new owner, a brother of Leonard Carpenter, will shortly reside on his new property and operate same. This real estate transaction was completed and announced yesterday.

The real estate purchases announced today are said to have been completed several weeks ago but as yet the articles of incorporation are still in a state of preparation.

More real estate is changing hands in Medford now than for a long time which is another evidence of the steady growth of the city and two of the recent purchases of down town property means new business structures in the spring.

Hartlett Street Lots Sold

The property just north of Slinger's Dairy & Produce company now used for storage by Gaddis & Dixon, was sold recently by C. A. Knight, representing Vermont investors, to E. M. Wilson, J. F. Lawrence and N. F. Oht. The property has a frontage of 65 feet on North Bartlett and 125 feet on 6th. The owners will either erect a one or two story modern business structure on the lot next spring, the height to be governed by the tenants secured. Several people are figuring with the new owners now.

New Developments Being

The corner north of the new Lumsden building, corner 5th and Bartlett, opposite the high school, was purchased recently by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company from Mrs. Payne and Mrs. Hemstreet, and the company will build a new two or three story building there for their own use next spring. The lot has 100 feet front on both streets. This will extend the business district to 5th street on Bartlett.

Riverside Property Sold

The 12 feet south of Dedic Cafe-teria on South Riverside has been purchased by Mr. Derick from the City of Medford and with the 15 feet between his cafeteria makes a 27 foot frontage on Riverside.

Roland Hubbard has purchased from the City of Medford the 43 foot front on Riverside between the Derick property and the public market and both of these men will erect business structures in the spring.

The city property was sold at $125 a front foot on Riverside and while the price of the other properties are not known it is estimated they were around $125 a front foot.

Herman Beats Tate

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 17.—Tiny Herman, Portland heavyweight, won a decision over Bill Tate, Chicago negro, in the fifth round of what was scheduled as a ten round bout here last night. The referee stopped the fight in the fifth, disqualifying Tate for stalling, and awarded Herman the fight.

Y. M. C. A. DRIVE IN ASHLAND GIVEN STRONG SUPPORT

ASHLAND, Oct. 17.—The drive for Y. M. C. A. funds for the work in the city of Ashland has met with good success. The sum necessary for the year's work has not all been subscribed but enough has been subscribed to assure the committee in charge that hard work and perseverance will secure the necessary amount. Each evening about 18 of the business men of Ashland meet at the Plaza confectionery to discuss plans and to check up on each day's work.

Thursday night J. E. Tourtelotte, architect, spoke most forcefully at the dinner, telling of his long connection with the organization and sketching the values in manhood that he has seen created by the Y. M. C. A. work. On Friday night talks were given by Messrs. O. P. Carson, John Rigg, A. E. Yount, V. O. N. Smith and Cleo V. Howell. The work of the campaign will finish shortly. Ashland has had a splendid program of work for several years, culminating in the hiring of a part time secretary, Cleo V. Howell, for the past 12 months, who has had general charge of the work. It is hoped that soon Ashland will be able to support a full time secretary who will give his time to boys' classes and club work. Ashland has always been willing to support work for her boys and the response has been splendid. It has been impossible to see all prospective subscribers, and that work will be finished as soon as possible in order to bring the sum up to the necessary amount.

The Mount Ashland chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. A. Stearns on Oak street. There was a good attendance of members who enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Stearns and her helpers. Those who assisted Mrs. Stearns were Mrs. W. E. Blake, Mrs. C. B. Hanson and Miss Carrie Mitchell. The early part of the afternoon was spent on the routine of regular business and in the discussion of the work of various committees. Judge C. B. Watson was to have been the speaker of the afternoon but on account of his trip to California was unable to be present. So he had left a written paper which was read by Mrs. H. C. Galey. The paper, written in Judge Watson's fine English style, was an inspiration to all who heard it. Possibly no one has a better acquaintance with the beauty spots of southern Oregon than Judge Watson, and certainly no one has a finer understanding of the various aspects of nature. Judge Watson some 63 years ago made his first acquaintance with Crater lake.

W. W. Price, proprietor of the Lithia Springs hotel, and Louis Dodge made the trip to Crater lake lodge on Friday afternoon, returning to Ashland on Saturday. Mr. Price is in charge of the Crater lake lodge.

A jolly group of high school girls went to the home of Miss Ellen Galey on Friday night to hold surprise birthday festivities for Miss Ellen in honor of her 14th birthday. The affair was the most complete surprise possible and the evening was spent in jolly games, in music and in happy girlish chat. Late in the evening refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served. Guests of the evening were the Misses Marie Davies, Lorraine Brookmiller, Edith Brookmiller, Dorothy Stevens, Lucile Yoss, Calla Eaton, Letha Miles, Emily Taylor, Nedra Bartlett, Mary Galey and Bobby Dodge.

The Lithians are to have dinner at the Lithia Springs hotel on Saturday night at 6:30. The object of the dinner is to furnish a discussion hour for the consideration of the motor association's proposition to include Ashland in the filming of the scenic wonders of southern Oregon.

Dr. V. S. Geary, county health officer, held ten examinations of infants at the baby clinic at the City Clubhouse on Thursday afternoon. Miss Leah Jennings and Miss Vera Beard assisted him. Next month the clinic will be held from 2 to 5 o'clock on November 19, and it is expected that a number of babies will be registered for examination. Registration should be made at the public library with Miss Blanche Hicks. The public clinic fills a distinct need in the community by many mothers are receiving the best of advice in regard to the care of their children.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Maxey left on Thursday for San Francisco to take Mrs. Maxey's mother, Mrs. A. M. Judy and her grandson, George Judy, to San Francisco. Mrs. Judy and George will make their home at Roseville, Cal., with Mrs. Judy's son, Fred Judy.

Mrs. H. C. Galey was a Medford visitor on Wednesday.

Mrs. M. Bomar has accepted the position of housekeeper of the Lithia Springs hotel. Mrs. Lillian Smith, who formerly held the position, has gone to Portland.

M. E. Real and son, Clifford, are spending the week end at Klamath Falls.

Anson Jacobs, an old-time Ashland resident, is greeting Ashland friends. Mr. Jacobs is at present a resident of Salem.

Stone's Modern Food Shop will soon open for business in the room next to the Citizen's bank. The addition to Ashland's grocery stores is one of a chain of stores that operate throughout Oregon.

The film shown by O. A. C. Saturday afternoon at the teachers' institute at Medford, showed several Ashland boys and girls who were in attendance at O. A. C. summer school last year. The film showed in a most interesting way the possibilities of boys' and girls' club work carried on by the college.

The Kiwanis club entertained a number of prospective members at the regular luncheon on Friday. The meeting was opened by music led by J. H. Hardy and G. A. Briscoe spoke of the purpose and aims of Kiwanis. The Kiwanis quartette, composed of Jim Miles, Billy Briggs, R. L. Burdick and Bert Miller, sang two numbers. Guests who were honored by the club were Clyde Malone, Millard Grubb,

MINING NEWS OF SOUTHWESTERN OREGON

Edited by Southwestern Oregon Mining Bureau.

Oregon Mining Survey Organized. By P. S. Woodin.

The members of the Oregon Mining Survey met in the executive offices of the governor at Salem on the 14th instant for organization, which was effected by the election of William W. Elmer of Portland as chairman, George R. Weigand of Baker as vice-president, and P. S. Woodin of Grants Pass, as secretary. Dean Charles E. Newton of Corvallis is ex-officio director of the body, charged with the duty of carrying out recommendations made by the advisory members. President Kerr of the Oregon Agricultural College is the fifth member of the survey, acting ex-officio. President Kerr was absent because of illness. The meeting was attended by Senators Ed W. Miller, the sponsor of the bill creating the mining survey, and in the absence of Governor Pierce, that official was represented by his secretary.

The survey spent the day in a consideration of plans for its future activity. All members were a unit in regarding potentialities of the mining industry as greater than those of any other group of individuals in the state, and much concern was expressed that the primary act of the survey be broad enough to supply a basis for a "stupendous structure" hereafter to be erected.

Dean Newton having reported on the condition of the equipment and certain merchandise having been purchased by the former bureau of mines, stated that in order to salvage articles of considerable value which may be gained from a small amount of money and it was decided to ask the emergency board for the sum of $1000 to take care of immediate necessary expenses. In view of the appropriations by the last legislature of nearly $600,000 for the single industry of agriculture in this state, the request would seem to be extremely modest.

The survey recommended the establishment of an organization in the northwestern region similar to the Southwestern Oregon Mining Bureau which unifies mining matters in the six southwestern counties of the state. Mr. Weigand reported on the enormous volume of non-metals in the east central part of the state, some comprehension of the extent of which may be gained from the fact that the Spreckles concern of San Francisco, which owns deposits of sodium, etc., in that locality, when the question of a trans-state railroad permit was before the Interstate Commerce commission, agreed to build 38 miles of standard gauge track at its own expense and guarantee 600 tons of freight shipments a day. Several other matters were determined upon, among which was complete quadrangulation through the United States geological survey, the location of permanent investigation centers in southwestern and northeastern Oregon through the United States bureau of mines, the protection of the rights of the prospector where jeopardized by the recent proposed long term lease favored by the cattle interests, and the classification and regulation of ore bodies and their development.

The present active interest in mining development and the straightforward publicity given by the Southwestern Oregon Mining Bureau to the resources and their development in that section, have resulted in an increase in the registration at the School of Mines at Corvallis of 100 per cent over last year. The Southwestern Pacific, and the other roads which are prospecting the state of Oregon at present, are making extensive inquiries into the value of the ore bodies in this state. In both metallic and non-metallic large sums are being spent for development, and the survey is gravely concerned that whatever is done at this initial stage be well done so that the future of the mining industry may be free of the difficulties that have characterized it during the past 20 years. Frequent meetings will be held in various parts of the state, and the survey hopes and expects to be of very great service to the commonwealth responsible for its erection.

Department sections were well attended, and during a brief business session it was announced that the "School Masters' Club" had been revived and that a meeting would soon be held at Central Point.

Teachers' said Dean Sheldon of the University of Oregon, who presented the last address of the afternoon, "are more moral on an average and more sympathetic than other classes of people."

"Teaching is a good training," he went on to say, "for other lines of work, providing one quits early enough."

Among prejudices he found against teachers was the fact that many think the individual teacher to be "dimicky," "russy" and "details," well set in her ways, and "impractical and visionary."

According to the general consensus of opinion the institute held this year is one of the most successful on record both in attendance and payment of dues, the latter being 100 per cent.

GRANTS PASS, Oct. 16.—The bureau has received notice from Kenneth S. Butler, foreman in charge of Cart No. 1, United Bureau of Mines, that the car will arrive at Grants Pass on October 25th and will remain here until November 7th for

INDIAN COUPLES FOUND GUILTY OF ROBBING HOUSE

Thurman Jackson and his wife, Dorothy, and Fred Hood and his wife, Bessie, Klamath Indians, were found guilty of larceny from a dwelling by a jury in the federal court this afternoon and sentenced as follows:

Thurman Jackson and Fred Hood to serve one year in the Multnomah county jail and pay a fine of $1000.

Their wives to serve six months in the Multnomah county jail and pay a fine of $500.

The quartet were accused of entering the home of Mrs. Eva Hall on the reservation and stealing clothing belonging to Mrs. Amy Knight. The jury fixed the value of the stolen property at $26.

The defendants were given until 1 o'clock to furnish $2000 bonds each, pending a motion for a new trial.

Local Mining News

Tom Wason of the Brittany mine on Fiddler's Gulch, was in town Monday buying supplies for the winter's work.

Ben and Bill eGorge are opening up the old Shadey property on the divide between Day creek and Fiddler's Gulch. Old man Shadey took out approximately $25,000 in 1909 and 1910 from this property, so the bureau is advised.

Young and Stillman continue work on ledge on Fiddler's Gulch now showing width of 54 feet, with assays showing around $10 in gold.

John Serling's place property on Day's Gulch has been leased to Max Tufts and Fred Hart for the season.

The N. H. Lattimer estate of Seagle has leased its placer property on Footh Creek to Messrs Moss and Corberrie.

The famous old Layton placer on Farrish Gulch, operated for several years by Austin Wilson, has been leased for the coming season to Wimer and Matteny, so the bureau is advised.

F. A. Bates has leased the Lance placer mine on Footh creek.

Many mining engineers are in the field investigating the mineral resources of this section.

P. S. Woodin and Senator Miller are attending the organization meeting of the new Oregon Mining Survey, created by the last legislature to supersede the old state bureau of mines, the meeting being scheduled for October 14th in the office of Governor Pierce, Woodin, with W. W. Elmer, mining engineer of Portland, George R. Weigand of Baker and the dean of the School of Mines constitute the new board.

The Bunker Hill mine brought in an additional cleanup this week of goodly proportions.

Insist that your bullion shipments be plainly marked as coming from Oregon when making shipments, else the California banks, through whom some shipments are made, will take credit for the state of California, and Oregon loses credit in all governmental statistics—statistics that real mining men rely on to a great degree in making investments.

Increased prospecting for new properties is evidenced by the fact that mining men who do a good deal of scouting about the district report that practically every old cabin in the mountains is occupied by prospectors. This is a healthy condition and means much to the development of the district as the prospector is the forerunner of a mining camp.

John R. Bailey, owner of the Afterthought in the Applegate district, spent a day in town the fore part of the week. He and his son, Ross, are engaged in extending development on the property.

P. B. Wickham, general manager of the Western Metal Mines company, with large consolidated holdings in the Galice district, is spending some time in Portland in the interest of his company.

J. T. Logan has started a crew at work preparing the Osgood placer mine in the Tallima district for the season's operation. This property is an old producer and was purchased last spring by Mr. Logan from Frank H. Osgood of eSattle.

COPCO FORUM TO GIVE ITS ANNUAL PARTY

October is the big month in the yearly calendar of the Copco Forum, for during this month is held the annual meeting and big "feest" at which the election of officers for the ensuing year takes place.

This year a chicken dinner, during which vaudeville entertainment will be provided, followed by a short business meeting and then by a dance, will be given in the large Masouie hall next to the Copco building.

All local Copco employees with their husbands, wives or "sweeties" are expected to attend, along with many from the outside divisions.
