MINIMUM WAGE LAW RULED OUT BY SUPREME C'T.

U. S. Supreme Court Declares Arizona Statute Is Unconstitutional — Volstead Act Is Again Upheld in All Its Details—Other Opinions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(A. P.)—The Arizona minimum wage law for women was held to be unconstitutional today by the supreme court.

The court's position was set forth by its action in affirming the decision of the lower courts on the issue. The attack upon the law was made by A. Sardell, owner of two stores at Nogales, who employed four women clerks and contended that if compelled to pay them each a minimum wage of $16 a week, as required by the state statutes, his business would be ruined.

Replying, the state held that he was not required to employ women and insisted that the law was a valid exercise of its police powers. The federal district court for Arizona held, however, that it was invalid and enjoined the state officers from enforcing it.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(A. P.)—The supreme court today affirmed on authorities cited the injunction issued by the federal district court at Chicago restraining enforcement of an order by the Illinois commerce commission in August, 1923, which would have made reductions in the rates of the Illinois Bell Telephone company for nickel coin box service in Chicago and that vicinity.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(A. P.)—The constitutionality of the Volstead act again was upheld and its provisions discussed in detail today by the supreme court.

A formal opinion in the Druggan case from Chicago, in which an appeal by the defendant recently was dismissed was made the occasion for the court's redefinition of its support of the validity of the dry law.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(A. P.)—The supreme court today dismissed for want of jurisdiction the attack upon the California syndicalism law by Charlotte Anita Whitney.

GERMANY PRAISED BY DELEGATES FOR LOCARNO SUCCESS

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—(A. P.)—The little town of Locarno, in Switzerland where last week the pact outlawing war was formulated and initialed was deserted today by statesmen. All those persons who had had a hand in framing the "security" pact either had returned to their homes to report to their chancelleries or were on their way thither.

The feeling of good will for the Germans so apparent at Locarno, was accentuated when Dr. Hans Luther, chancellor, and Gustav Stresemann, foreign minister, who were Germany's chief plenipotentiaries, arrived back in Germany.

The ministers for Great Britain, France and Belgium were at the station to meet them. Expressive of the sentiments of Austen Chamberlain, the British foreign secretary, Lord Abernon, congratulated Dr. Luther and Dr. Stresemann on the spirit of honesty and integrity shown at Locarno.

"The German government," said Lord d'Abernon, "always will be accorded the honor of taking the initiative which led to the Locarno negotiations."

Jacob Gould Schurman, the American ambassador, was among others who extended personal congratulations to Dr. Stresemann on the outcome of the negotiations.

M. Briand, the French foreign minister and Mr. Chamberlain were the last of the delegates to leave Locarno. Both statesmen appeared highly satisfied over what had been accomplished.

Tomorrow morning the world is to be given full details in the published texts of the various treaties of what the allies and the Germans have agreed to for making secure for all time the peace of Europe.

The treaties, which will be signed in London December 1, include an addition to agreements by France, Germany and Belgium, not to attack one another, a suggestion for a reduction in armaments, a policy known to be favored by President Coolidge.

None of the European governments has as yet made known its ideas with regard to the holding of another armament conference in Washington. Japan approves of the idea but believes the moment is not propitious for such a gathering, as there are nations which are not ready at the present to enter into a discussion of arms limitation.

NEW APARTMENT HOUSE WILL OPEN FEBRUARY FIRST

The work of constructing the big three story Schuler apartment house, corner of West Sixth and Oakdale streets, has been progressing fast for some time past because of the nice weather and the large force of carpenters and concrete men employed, and the systematic plan of rushing the work.

While the forms for the walls are going up, at the same time concrete is being poured for the first story, the concrete having already been poured for the foundations and large basement, and the permanent floor laid for the first story. Ira Schuler hopes to have the structure under roof before the permanent bad weather comes.

W. S. Jewett, long associated with Frank Clark, is the architect and Larkin Reynolds, the well known builder, is the superintendent of construction. It is confidently expected by Mr. Schuler and associates that the structure will be finished and all its many suites ready for occupancy by Feb. 1st.

HEARING LAST CASE IN FEDERAL COURT

The last case on the docket of the district federal court, in session here, is being heard today, involving a damage suit of approximately $1800 against Clement Bradbury of Klamath Falls by C. F. Garber of Grants Pass.

The plaintiff alleges that Bradbury maliciously converted several tons of hay and several hundred pounds of oats, barley and wheat, owned by Garber, to his own use. The defense is represented by Attorney Manning of Klamath Falls and the plaintiff by Attorney Duncan of Grants Pass.

The case, which commenced this morning, is expected to be completed today or early tomorrow.

3 MORE AUTO CRASHES OVER THE WEEK END

Three minor auto collisions in the city marred the joys of week-end motoring for several local motorists. Saturday evening Miss Myrtle Vincent collided with F. V. Horton on East Main street. The same evening W. H. Cheadel struck P. S. Nelson at the intersection of Jackson street and Riverside avenue. The latter, according to City Traffic Officer G. J. Prescott, was not observing traffic rules. While in the act of passing James Campbell of Lakeview, Saturday afternoon, Thomas Belcher of Central Point collided with the Lakeview motorist on North Riverside, according to the accident report filed.

GERMAN DIGNITARY NEWSPAPERS GUEST

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—(A. P.) Back among type cases, breathing with keen relish the odor of printer's ink and handling the "stick," with the dexterity of a master type setter, Herr Paul Loebe, president of the German reichstag, renewed his acquaintance with the printer's trade in the composing rooms of the Herald and Examiner.

Herr Loebe, who was a delegate to the interparliamentary meeting at Washington is in Chicago with other members of the German delegation as guests of prominent Chicago businessmen of German extraction.

He is a printer by trade and addressed the employes of the print shop as "colleagues," shaking hands with each.

FOOTBALL NO LONGER MADE OF PIGSKIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—(A. P.)—It is all wrong to call a football a "pigskin," instead it is a "calfskin." The misnomer has stuck since the ancient days when a hog's bladder was kicked around the English village green. Later it was given a coat of pig hide to make it last longer.

Footballs now are made from cowhide, the best double grained quality, and have been for years. The process of their manufacture will be demonstrated during the convention of the National Tanners Council of America here November 2 to 7. The oval shape of the football also is due to its porcine ancestry, the bladder shape being retained.

OREGON SETTLES DOWN TO TRAIN FOR CALIFORNIA

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 19.—With the dawn of a new week grim determination today settled down over the University of Oregon athletic field where husky football warriors are training for the tilt Saturday in Portland with the University of California.

For several weeks the players have been keeping California in mind as they trained, but with actual arrival of the week in which the game will occur, a new feeling crept over them. To hold California down is a hard task for any team, and the Oregon men are determined that they will be the ones to do it if they can.

Oregon won Saturday from Pacific university by a small score of 13 to 6, in a slow and uninteresting game.

Oregon's second string played the game through with the exception of the first quarter when the Oregon points were all gathered in so the mere points do not mean anything to the Oregon fans.

SPORT BRIEFS

(By the Associated Press.)

An unkind fate which trailed Frankie Frisch of the New York Giants with injuries has pursued him to the semi-pro diamond. He had a chance to be a hero in Hackensack, N. J., when he came to bat in the ninth with two on bases. He struck out.

Honus Wagner, famed shortstop of the Pittsburg Pirates in bygone days, fared much better. Playing first base for his All-Stars in New York he garnered two singles and scored a run. His team won, 3 to 2.

Georges Carpentier, most popular European fighter ever to visit these shores cannot stay away. According to California boxing promoters, the French war hero has signed articles to fight Jimmy Delaney of Los Angeles in January.

Babe Ruth, deep in the Maine woods stalking deer, hasn't yet been heard from regarding the new home run clouting record of Tony Lazarre in the Pacific Coast league. Tony surpassed Ruth's mark by a single circuit blow when he made his sixtieth homer yesterday.

Women golfers are planning to organize their own national association. Mary K. Browne, wizards of courts and links, is one of the sponsors of the idea and the U. S. G. A. is willing.

KILL COYOTE IN CITY OF SALEM

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 19.—William McCarroll, engineer at the state school for the blind, located in the heart of one of Salem's residential districts, this morning shot and killed a coyote in the state school's chicken pens at the rear of the school. Mrs. Mildred Mortensen, laundress at the institution, was directly responsible for the slaying of the coyote. She saw the animal in the pens and slammed a gate on it. McCarroll was called and dispatched the animal with a rifle.

HEAVY TAX CUT URGED

Protect the Producer.

Mr. Mellon sought to defend the treasury's debt retirement policy which has been attacked by some democrats on the ground that if the debt were retired less rapidly, greater cuts could be made in taxes.

"While, taking the people as a whole, it is immaterial when the war debt is paid," he said, "still as between the different classes of people, the investing class holding the bonds and the producing class from whom a larger part of our taxes are collected, the inequality exists. We should not tax too heavily the producers to pay the security holders. It is for this reason that we have sought a balance between debt reduction and tax reduction."

MEDFORD SHOWS REAL CLASS IN KLAMATH GAME

The Medford high school football team defeated the Klamath Falls high school at Klamath Falls Saturday afternoon, 23 to 0.

The locals were outplayed in the first quarter, when the weight of the Klamath team told, but settled down in the second quarter and scored tehir first touchdown, near the end of the half, with a long pass from Williams to Singler.

In the second half, the Medford team opened up with a series of off tackle plays and passes, and Herriot went across for the second touchdown. The third touchdown came when Williams, scooped up a Klamath fumble, and raced for another score.

In the final quarter, with the game on ice, Medford gave Klamath fans something to talk about, when Conrad kicked a place kick from the 40-yard line.

The Medford interference and line were in better working order, than at any time this season, and gained three times the yardage of their opponents. The locals played "percentage football," waiting for the breaks, and taking them.

At Ashland Saturday, the Grants Pass and Ashland teams played to a six-six tie.

Next Saturday, Medford plays Grants Pass at Grants Pass, and the following Saturday meets Marshfield high on the Holly street grounds.

PACIFIC HIGHWAY IN JACKSON COUNTY TO BE IMPROVED

"A comprehensive maintenance program for the Pacific highway in Josephine and Jackson counties has been outlined by the highway department, following the visit here yesterday of S. Baldock, maintenance engineer of the state highway department," says the Grants Pass Courier. "The work will result in improved highways in this portion of the state. Mr. Baldock was taken over the roads yesterday by J. G. Bromley, resident engineer.

"Shoulders on the highway in the two counties will be widened in both counties. Fences are to be moved back to the right-of-way line in every instance. A new location from Wolf creek hill to the town of Wolf Creek will be sought and the highways changed to eliminate many curves.

"Stone will be placed on all shoulders along the highway and broken and corrugated portions of the pavement will be resurfaced.

"In addition, the right angle turns on both sides of Central Point are to be eliminated by new grades, removing these danger points. The work will be done this winter."
