

ILLEGAL FISHING TACKLE IS FOUND AT GOLD RAY DAM

While workmen were engaged in cleaning out several stone pools of the fish ladder at the Gold Ray dam, under the supervision of Wm. R. Coleman, state fish superintendent, what they found and removed from there caused the latter to utter a Rip Van Winkle club roasting scream.

Never was Bill so scandalized, discomfited and disappointed in his hitherto faith in local mankind of the Jackson county variety. He is now suspicious of everybody and has heartily joined in the movement to bring Billy Sunday, the evangelist, to the county next summer for a series of meetings.

In only these three pools of the fish ladder was found the accumulation of 18 years of illegal fish poaching, a large collection of old junk in the shape of rusted spears and snags of all kinds, including various combinations of huge hooks and a watch, which the law violators lost while trying to take fish. If other pools of the ladder were also cleaned out enough such tackle would probably be found to start a good sized junk yard.

The collection is on exhibition in one of the chamber of commerce show windows, prior to being sent to the state game commission headquarters to become a permanent exhibit there.

In the meantime, Mr. Coleman said, he announced this morning that any man who desires can claim ownership of any article in the collection, and then suddenly perking up while gazing on the collection, exclaimed, "Well, I'll be swanned!"

MEDFORD COTTAGE IS BURNED DOWN

Fire, attributed to defective wiring, practically gutted a three-room cottage at 823 East Ninth street, owned and tenanted by Mrs. Blanche Meeker, at 3:30 this morning. The loss, estimated to exceed $2000, is covered by insurance.

The fire started in the attic, according to Mrs. Meeker, who states she was awakened by the crackling of the flames. Opening a ceiling entrance she discovered the attic to be entirely ablaze, sparks and flames issuing forth from the entrance. Having no phone, she managed to awaken a neighbor, who sent in the alarm.

The fire department responded with the Stutz pumper and Pope-Hartford fire truck and after an hour of fighting the fire was out. Every room of the house was gutted with the exception of the front room, which was damaged by water.

Mrs. Meeker states that she smelled rubber burning shortly before r-tiring, suggesting the fact that rubber insulation on electric wires due to a short circuit was smouldering.

Even though the fire occurred in the cold and early hours of morning, many spectators rushed to the scene, several of whom were scantily clad, braving low temperature to see the fire. The glow was plainly visible in all parts of the city.

A house near the blazing Meeker cottage was scorched but not materially damaged.

CAR STOLEN AT EUGENE FOUND

A Chrysler sedan, stolen from W. T. Boyd at Eugene Sunday evening, was recovered yesterday on the Greenspring mountain road a short distance from the Pacific highway by State Traffic Officer C. P. Talbot. It was for this car that the officers were searching when they surprised the alleged Portland hoodlum Monday morning, who had gone to sleep in his car loaded with 25 cases of gin and whiskey.

While the officers were making the arrests, the Chrysler sedan, it is thought, speeded by unnoticed. The stolen car was in good shape, according to officers, when recovered. However, it was lying on its side, having left the road while going at a high rate of speed. People living nearby say they saw two men run into the brush after the accident.

STANFORD, U. OF W. AND BEARS WITH O. A. C. LEAD LIST

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—(A. P.)—The football business is "looking up" in Pacific coast circles. Results of last Saturday's contests brought out rather forcibly the fact that at least four teams are going to make a mighty bid for Pacific coast conference honors.

They are, Stanford, whose 13 to 9 victory over Southern California was the surprise of the day; Washington and California. Washington, by holding the powerful Nebraska eleven to a 6-6 tie easily entered the lists as a leading contender for the conference title. O. A. C. undefeated as yet, while the Bears, defeated the week before by the Olympic club somewhat redeemed themselves by winning from St. Mary's 6 to 0.

California plays its first conference game next Saturday, taking on Oregon at Portland. A slight breathing spell will be offered the following week when the Bruins meet Pomona. Washington State will be the second conference opponent for California after which other "crucial" games of the year will take place when the Washington Huskies undertake to smother the Blue and Gold. The fourth conference clash will be the "big game" with Stanford, November 21.

California's squad, the number as yet undetermined, will board a train for Portland Wednesday night. Hard practice today and tomorrow, as on Monday has been prescribed by Coach Andy Smith. There were no injuries in the St. Mary's game and the Bears should hit Oregon in fine shape.

Captain Tut Inlay, out of the game through injuries in the start of the season, is expected to get into the coming contest possibly for the four full periods. He was sent in for little more than a period last Saturday and appeared to be in fine condition.

U. OF S. C. BACK IS STAR SCORER ON PACIFIC COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—(A. P.)—Morton Kuer, backfield man of the University of Southern California, stands first among the point scorers of Pacific Coast conference football teams this season, with nine touchdowns, for 64 points, to his credit.

The high scores run up by U. S. C. against smaller opponents in its early season games, let Howard Elliott of the same team claim second place with 49 points, eight touchdowns and a single point by conversion by kicking goal.

George Wilson, University of Washington halfback, in three college games which Washington has played, has rolled up seven touchdowns for the same total as credited to Ingram of Gonzaga.

Fifth on the list is Earl Jabs of California, with five touchdowns against Nevada. Schulmerich of Oregon Agricultural college has scored 27 points for his team, with three touchdowns and nine points by conversion of kicks. Hilder of the University of Washington is credited with 26 points, with four touchdowns and two points by conversion.

Four touchdowns each have been scored by Nevers of Stanford and Edwards of O. A. C., while three touchdowns each are credited to Denman of O. A. C., Morris Badaro of U. S. C., and Beckett of the University of Washington.
