PROSPECT HIGH TO HAVE NEW GYM FOR BASKETBALL

PROSPECT, Oct. 21.—Prospect school teachers spent a three days session at Medford last week in attendance at the county teachers institute. They reported a very profitable and entertaining time.

The improvements on the road on the south side of the Rogue river near Prospect are progressing nicely, and every one hopes that they will be finished before the winter rains set in.

The school bus is now being driven by Mrs. Fred Bortz of Cascade Gorge who is taking the place of Miss Lola Clarke. Lola Clarke is now working at Stewart Weeks' but will soon be back on her job of driving the school bus.

Since so many logs have been trucked over the Red Blanket road it's corrugated like a washboard. It takes the Red Blanket school bus ten to fifteen minutes of "hanging" to get to Prospect over this rough road. If it is ever graded it will be a regular highway.

Many hunters are going back to their homes as the hunting season has closed. It seems that the "old-timers" did not have as good luck in getting the bucks this season as the "Greenhorns" had. However a number of our residents have a fine fat buck to their credit.

The Prospect high school basketball team will have a new modern gynasium to play their games in this year. The gymnasium is now under construction and will be finished in plenty of time for practice before the basketball season starts. The gymnasium will have an oak floor, shower baths and dressing rooms, and it will also be steam heated.

Hallowe'en will soon be here with witches, cats, and pumpkins. Upon Saturday night, Oct. 31, a short snappy program will be given by the Prospect school, following which a number of refreshment booths will be opened. Much amusement will be afforded by the old fortune telling witch. Meanwhile a dance will also be in progress.

The two new rooms, also a good basement and heating plant that were being built during vacation are completed. The high school under Superintendent Cook and Mrs. Pearson have moved into them and are using one for general assembly and one for recitation. The pupils of the grade school under Mrs. Cook, are now occupying the old rooms. This is a much better arrangement over last year and is greatly appreciated by the pupils and teachers.

The people of Prospect and vicinity are glad to announce the organization of a Sunday school at Prospect on Oct. 11, by Rev. Amos. The following officers were elected: Mr. Cook, superintendent; Mrs. Pearson, vice-superintendent, and John Grieve, secretary. Sunday school services will be held from 2:30 to 3:30 Sunday afternoons, following which will be a church service by Mrs. Young.

Prospect is going to have another building. The new one is being built on Mrs. Pearson's property at the intersection of the Red Blanket road and the Crater Lake highway. Work is already begun on the building by some of Mr. Gordon's carpenters and when the new gymnasium is finished it is expected that he will put his whole crew to work on this building.

The freshman initiation of the Prospect high school was held at the wigwam at James Grieve's, Saturday 19, 1925 at 7 p. m. There were seven freshmen initiated. A few common tricks were played on them. Altho the stunts were old, the freshmen did not fail to bite. The rest of the evening was spent in playing games, roasting wieners before the huge fireplaces and dancing.
