L. OF N. ORDER IGNORED IN BALKAN ROW

Greece Continues Invasion of Bulgaria and Bombard Petrich Despite Peace Move—Sofia in Mood for Pour Parliaments With Athens

(By the Associated Press.)
 Notwithstanding intervention by the League of Nations, the Greco-Bulgarian crisis seemed to be growing more acute today with news of troop movements reported on both sides.

The Greeks, following their advance to Petrich, in the Trunna valley, are reported to be moving against the Rupel pass, which they claim has been used by Bulgarians as the route for incursions into Greek territory.

Authoritative sources in Sofia say Bulgaria is determined to resist any further advance by the Greeks, deciding to make a stand as far as her limited military strength permits. The Bulgarians are sending a new protest to the League of Nations. The meeting of the league council which is to inquire into the dispute is set for Monday afternoon in Paris.

GENEVA, Oct. 24.—(A. P.)—The Greek government made its first gesture toward the League of Nations since the outbreak of the Greco-Bulgarian trouble by communication to the league secretariat today of a telegram saying Bulgarian troops occupied a blockhouse situated on Greek territory north of Demirhisar.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Oct. 24.—(A. P.) Large contingents of Greek troops continue to be sent toward the Bulgarian border, the Bulgarian telegraph agency announces. It considers this an indication that the Greeks intend to enlarge the scope of their present offensive.

The government says that Greeks have pierced Bulgarian territory to a depth of more than seven miles on a 20-mile front.

Bombardment and invasion of Bulgarian territory by the Greeks have continued, notwithstanding steps taken by the League of Nations toward peace.

Just as the world has begun to believe that hostilities along the Macedonian border have ceased and that the warring factions would remain quiescent until the council of the league settled the controversy, the Greek artillery late Friday afternoon loosed a rain of shells against the already sorely stricken town of Petrich and Greek troops advanced farther into Macedonia.

The Athens government is of the opinion that the fresh maneuver was made before the Greek commander received the orders to cease hostilities but to remain in the positions occupied by the Greeks until Bulgaria had acceptably replied to the Greek demand for indemnity and an apology.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Oct. 24.—(A. P.) Bulgaria is sending troops into the war area and has decided to make a stand as far as her limited military strength permits, in case the Greeks continue to invade the territory granted her under the treaty of Neuilly. This is stated in authoritative circles here.

The agency declares that the population is highly excited, and that feeling is growing that a limit must soon be set to the retreat of the Bulgarian forces.

"If the Greeks are not constrained to halt their offensive," says the agency, "the Bulgarian army, though not possessed of much material, will not look on a much longer passively at violation of the national soil and will defend itself."

The Bulgarian government has sent a note to Athens reiterating its denial that Bulgarian troops have at any time violated Greek frontier outposts, regretting that it cannot enter into direct parleys with Greece and confirming its desire to await

Sat. Eve. Post's Story on 'Shenandoah' Is Questioned by Navy

FIND GRAVE OF GIRL IN EUREKA MURDER PUZZLE

Half-Breeds With Scratched Faces Held—Posse Unclears New Angles—Dog of Victim Slain—Think Beauty Shop Girl Held for Days

EUREKA, Cal., Oct. 24.—The body of Miss Carmen Wagner, 18, Ferndale beauty parlor proprietor, for whom posers have been scouring the backwoods and hills near Eureka for many days, was found yesterday in a rudely made grave in an isolated wooded section 75 miles east of here.

The young woman had been shot to death. Her dog "Pronto," shot thru the head, was found buried a few feet from where his mistress lay. Henry Sweet, the companion of Miss Wagner on a hunting trip, was found dead beside his parked automobile several miles from the point where Miss Wagner and her dog were found. The finding of Sweet's body several days ago, led to the search for Miss Wagner, which ended yesterday. The body of Miss Wagner will be returned to Eureka today.

Soon after the discovery was made, the posse arrested Walter David, 24-year-old half-breed Indian. Unexplained scratches on his face, declared to resemble fingernail marks was the direct cause of his arrest. Search was under way today for Jack Ryan, 22, half-brother of David.

Whether or not the arrest of David furnished a key to the mystery was not clear today. The finding of her body and the arrest of the half-breed Indians resulted in the creation of a new series of questioning regarding the circumstances which led to the girl's fate. The authorities believe Sweet was killed for a roll of currency he carried and Miss Wagner and her dog were carried away and shot to death when a search was started and the countryside was being combed for them.

Was she taken captive by the man who killed Sweet and held until he was thought dangerous to permit her to remain alive longer? This is the question authorities will endeavor to answer today.

CONVICT'S FATE UP TO JURY

Final Arguments for Kelly and Willos Made This Morning—State Asks Death—Defense Springs Surprise in Plea—Holman's Death Accidental

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 24.—The trial of Ellsworth Kelley and James Willos, convicts charged with Tom Murray with the murder of Guard John Sweeney in the prison break of August 12, went to the jury at 12:14 o'clock today, following a morning of arguments by the opposing attorneys.

For the state District Attorney John Carson demanded of the jury that in justice to the people of the state of Oregon and in justice to the defendant Murray, already sentenced to hang for the murder of Sweeney, that they return a verdict of guilty of first degree murder without a recommendation for life imprisonment.

The prosecutor attacked the plea of the defense that neither Willos or Kelley participated in the actual killing of Sweeney, pointing out that the law requires that all parties to a criminal conspiracy in which murder is committed are equally guilty and susceptible to the same penalties.

"Should these two defendants escape the death penalty voted out to Murray simply because they held back and allowed him to commit the act which opened the way to their liberty?" Carson asked. "There is no evidence of either of them holding back and refusing to take advantage of the deed he committed. The responsibility of upholding the officers who have sworn to serve your interests rests with you in this case, ladies and gentlemen of the jury, and I trust that you will not be found delinquent in your duty."

To the contention of the defense that neither of the defendants contemplated any killing, or understood that there was to be any violence, Carson countered with quotations of the testimony of Willos and Kelley themselves to the effect that if cornered they would shoot their way out of the difficulty in which they might find themselves if it threatened their capture.

Will R. King for the defense, concluded his final argument this morning along the same lines as outlined by him yesterday and most of his statements this morning were repetitions and elaborations of statements made yesterday. He sprang a surprise however, in laying the shooting of Guard Mill Holman to Wright Gardner, another guard who rushed into the tower and pulled Holman down and outside.

"It is my theory of this incident," said King, "that Gardner was excited and his testimony shows this, when he entered the tower. That he grabbed a shotgun in the tower and in his excitement accidentally discharged the gun."

SOVIET SEEKS TO STIR NEGRO TO RACE HATE

Russian Agitators Active at Labor Congress—A. F. of L. Denounces Meet and Purposes—President Upholds Barring Countess

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—(A. P.) Communist agitators are seeking to bring the American negro into the revolutionary fold.

The American negro labor congress which is meeting in Chicago tomorrow, is shown in the descriptive literature, of which official note has been taken in Washington, to have been organized chiefly by communists, with backing from Russia, for the purpose of "awakening to revolutionary significance" the negroes of America.

The negro trade unionists whose participation in the union has been refused have been warned by the American Federation of Labor, through its president, William Green, to refrain from any connection with it.

In a statement denouncing the whole purpose of the congress, which in the manifesto proclaims the purpose also of redressing what it regards as the social grievances of American negroes, Mr. Green declares, "It will not be held to benefit the negro but to instill into the lives of that race, the most pernicious doctrine—race hatred."

A number of trades unions have been "deceived into sending delegates," Mr. Green said in warning "all negro members of trade unions, that they are being led into a trap that will eventually be their undoing."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The refusal of the state department to permit Countess Karolyi to visit this country is regarded by President Coolidge merely as an attempt to administer the law barring aliens known to hold revolutionary views.

The president has received no information on the case, but he is confident that the department's action was taken to protect American interests.

PRESIDENT ASKS MORE HOME RULE

Mr. Coolidge Sees Signs 'Parents Are Breaking Down'—Urges Action by Pulpits and Pews—Gives Address to Y. M. C. A. Congress

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—(A. P.) The present day need of the American youth is more home control through parental action, President Coolidge declared today in addressing the forty-second international congress of the Young Men's Christian association of the United States.

Mr. Coolidge praised the work of the association as a "step in the right direction," at a time when, "there are too many indications that the functions of parenthood are breaking down."

Describing the home as the "cornerstone of the nation," the president declared that control of the nation's youth from this source is preferable "to attempt in some way" to constantly increase "the government's responsibility for the rearing of children."

"Too many people," he continued, "are neglecting the real well-being of their children, shifting the responsibility for their actions, and turning over supervision of their discipline and conduct to juvenile courts."

"It is stated on high authority, that a very large proportion of the outcasts and criminals come from the ranks of those who lost the advantage of normal parental control in broken homes who were denied the necessary benefits of parental love and direction."

Reviewing the founding and work of the Y. M. C. A., the president asserted it recognizes that "wherever there are young men, there is a field," for its activities, adding that "probably no other lay force asserts so large an influence upon the young people."

"It is increasingly true that the hope of the future lies in the youth of the present," he said, and urging this truth, the associations through countless study circles and open forums prepared the youth both for personal betterment and a wiser discharge of public obligations.

"One of the chief characteristics of Christianity is that it is a militant and crusading faith," the president continued. "Those who have become partakers of its inspirations and its consolations have been constantly speaking its truths among their associates. If that faith is to maintain its vitality that work must go on."

"It is not enough that there would be action in the pulpits—there must be reaction in the pews. It will not be sufficient to have exalted preaching by the clergy unless there is exalted living by the laity. Your Christian association represents an effort to augment in every field the lay forces and to translate the truths of religion into the life of the people."

The president also valued the Y. M. C. A. as one of the strongest bonds of common interest, "between Canada and the United States," stating it has contributed to a greater harmony of interest between neighboring nations.

"It is a great instrument for domestic improvement and international progress," he said.

Those who reprove the American people and their government "for an alleged failure to assist other peoples and who are making the loudest complaints," on this score, Mr. Coolidge said, "probably never took the trouble to ascertain what we have done and what we are doing."

"It is gratifying beyond measure to realize," he concluded, "how the steady, courageous, generous hand of the real American continues to reach out to those in need. Those who work stamp America with a continuing effort, working for moral regeneration."

In charging the jury Justice Faber said they must not allow any opinion as to improper relations between the actress and the jurman to influence their decision.

"The question for you to decide is whether Miss Bennett was the pursuer or the pursued," he said.

As to the amount of damages in the event of a verdict favoring Mrs. Frey, he said that no matter how wide a man's experience might be, it was almost impossible for him to put a money valuation on love.

Mrs. Margaret Frey, the plaintiff, sat with bowed head, clasping and unclasping her hands, during the summing up by attorneys. Miss Bennett left the court room smiling.
