

KIWANIANS MEET AT ASHLAND FOR BIG CELEBRATION

ASHLAND, Ore., Oct. 26.—Last Friday night the Kiwanis club of Ashland held a hotel celebration party at the new Lithia Springs hotel. The formal opening was held some weeks ago by the management but this larger event was of particular interest to Kiwanians, inasmuch as the Kiwanis club was largely instrumental in conceiving and planning the hotel, which was built by a committee of ten Kiwanians as directors of the Lithia Hotel company. To the Friday night party were invited the Kiwanis clubs of Medford and Klamath Falls and the ladies of the members of all three clubs. About twenty persons were present from Klamath Falls and several more than this number from Medford. About 75 all were seated at dinner in a dining room of the hotel, which was just about filled to capacity with about 125 places at tables holding from two to six or eight persons each. Earl Loveland favored the group with two pleasing vocal solos and the Lowe brothers, newboys of Ashland, formerly from Medford, sang without accompaniment and were enthusiastically recalled. President McCoy of the Ashland club gave a brief address of welcome, assuring the visitors of his pleasure at seeing so many in attendance. He then called on President Glenn Fabrick of the Medford club for a two-minute speech. Mr. Fabrick responded in well chosen words befitting the occasion. C. E. Gates of Medford was also called on and told of interesting experiences at the recent harbor meeting at Crescent City.

Next President McCoy asked Dr. George Massey of Klamath Falls to speak for their club. The doctor stated that he could not talk two minutes, but nevertheless he filled the time with interesting expressions of appreciation. Lester Sabin, secretary of the Klamath Falls Chamber of Commerce, was asked for a few words and responded in his usual effective way. Dr. Soule of Klamath Falls interested the company with an introduction of Captain O. C. Applegate, the veteran Indian fighter from Klamath Falls.

During the evening at the tables each man present was asked to rise, repeat his name and place of residence and introduce his lady. It developed that William Howard Taft and wife of New York was present in the person of the redoubtable Hart Miller and Mrs. Miller. Also the guests were surprised when Walt Hughes introduced his two lady friends as prominent movie actresses and himself as Doug Fairbanks, "all from Hollywood."

Colored paper caps were distributed by Earl Crow and Randall Woods of the committee on arrangements. In all present, Irving E. Vining, president of the state chamber of commerce, gave an interesting talk about the location and development of the project resulting in the construction of the hotel by Ashland men and largely with Ashland capital. John M. Thorne, a banker from Roseburg and now regional director of Kiwanis clubs for this district, gave a splendid talk on the aims and objects of Kiwanis. Following the dinner the company repaired to the ballroom and mezzanine floor for dancing and visiting until nearly midnight.

Vernon Caroy, son of George Carey of Graham street, returns Sunday night to his post on the battleship Idaho in San Pedro harbor. After a few weeks spent at San Pedro and Bremerton, the Idaho will make a cruise to Chile, on the South American coast.

Miss Sylvia Greenleaf of Medford was a week-end guest of Mrs. Walter Herndon on Beach street in Ashland. Mrs. C. A. Newman of Chiloquin, Ore., has been the house guest of Mrs. George A. Cunnings, who resides at the Meatin apartments. Mrs. Newman returned to her home Sunday and was accompanied by Mrs. Cunnings, who will visit for a few days at Chiloquin.

Mrs. Louis Dodge, Mrs. B. L. Powell, Mrs. A. M. Humphrey and Mrs. Walter Herndon will leave for Portland on train No. 15 Monday evening to attend the state convention of Parent-Teachers organizations. Mrs. Dodge is state vice-president of the organization and will give the address of welcome for the state and will also preside at the annual banquet. Mrs. Powell represents the local junior high school circle. Mrs. A. M. Humphrey is from the high school circle and Mrs. Herndon goes as a representative from Hawthorne school.

The local chapter of the P. E. O. Sisterhood held a delightful luncheon Saturday at the home of Mrs. B. C. Forsythe on Terrace street. The usual business session occupied the attention of the members, and plans were perfected for Friday of this week, when the chapter will have as its guest Mrs. Beesie Mickey of Portland, who is state organizer for the sisterhood.

Captain Oliver Applegate was an Ashland visitor Friday when he came to this city from Klamath county in answer to an invitation from the local Kiwanis club to Klamath Falls members to be present at the entertainment Friday night.

Fred Leonard of Lewistown, Mont., is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Oldfield. Mr. Leonard is here investigating local business and climatic conditions with a view to moving west. Mr. Leonard is a brother of Mrs. Oldfield.

Miss Grace Knopp, who shortly ago filled the position of Spanish teacher in the local high school, has taken a year's leave of absence from her position in order to enjoy European study. Miss Knopp traveled on the continent during the summer and is spending the school year in Madrid, where she is doing intensive study in the Spanish language.

Bill M. Dodge and sister, Mrs. H. C. Galey, returned Saturday afternoon from Portland and Eugene. Mr. Dodge had been in attendance at the state convention for undertakers. Mrs. Galey visited with friends in Portland and at Eugene paid a visit to her son, John Galey, who is a student at the state university. Mrs. Will Dodge, who accompanied her husband to Portland, will remain in that city for an indefinite visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. Robert McMillan.

Clarence Lane, who resides on the Boulevard near the Hawthorne school, is moving his house to the rear of the lot to make space for a modern apartment house which he plans to erect some time during the coming year.

The Vining theater has been improved and redecorated to make it conform to the best accepted plans for the modern theater. The renovation is nearly completed under the direction of H. F. Scheres and the work involves an expense of $10,000. Finishing work in decoration is in the hands of Charles Weissenborn of Seattle, who several years ago did the original decorative work on the Vining. Some of the boxes have been removed and the seating capacity on the main floor has been increased. The theater was closed after the final show on Sunday night and will not reopen until Wednesday in order to allow time for the final touches. New carpets are being laid on the main floor by J. P. Dodge & Sons. The final touch will be given by the installation of the new lighting fixtures and the hangings of silk plush in orange shades.

H. B. Hunt, proprietor of the Vining, intends to extend the winter program by the appearance of several popular road shows. The first of these attractions will be "Able's Irish Rose," a musical comedy, scheduled for November 9.

The parents who are workers in the Hawthorne Parent-Teacher circle gave a most delightful party Friday night honoring the teachers of the Hawthorne school and the annex. The affair was given at the parish house, which was gay with Halloween decorations. The program consisted of musical numbers and readings. Miss Lolita Pierson, a favorite with Ashland people, gave fine selections on the piano. Miss Huesy sang most acceptably in a solo. Dr. Mattie B. Shaw gave a reading which delighted her audience and also presented her pupil, Miss Lola Gilmore, who gave a pleasing number. Miss Harold Atkins and Miss Estella Jones were heard in a piano duet, and Mrs. Foley and Miss Sylvia Greenleaf of Medford both gave readings which were a delight to their audience. Miss Greenleaf presided at the witches' cauldron and gave out fortunes which revealed the future to the guests. Halloween games completed the evening's fun and Halloween refreshments were served.

After Darrow's Legal Laurels

William Scott Stewart, (above), youthful Chicagoan, bids fair to eclipse the fame of Clarence Darrow as a criminal lawyer. He cleared William D. Shepherd, alleged germ murderer; saved Bernard Grant from the gallows; and was the father of the insanity plea that saved Gene Geary. Now he is defending Wesley Westbrook, accused in the alleged Druggan-Lake jail delivery plot.

ROAD DISTRICT NO ENCROACHMENT SAYS SPOKESMAN

The Oregon State Highway Commission is to hold a public hearing at Jacksonville on Friday, October 26, for the purpose of feeling out the sentiment of people regarding the erection of a super road district to be organized to build a road to the Oregon Caves from Williams creek.

Medford, Jacksonville, Ruth, Provoit and Williams Creek citizens appear to be extremely anxious to have a super road district organized and to get the highway commission and the forestry service to lend their assistance to the completion of this link.

On the surface, the construction of a road from Medford to the Oregon Caves may appear to be an encroachment upon the rights of Grants Pass and of the Caversmen who have spent thousands to advertise the Oregon Caves as an exclusive Josephine county attraction, but a more broad minded view of this program will bare the fact that the whole of southern Oregon is to be benefited by any new road development which will make the wonders of southern Oregon more accessible to southern Oregon's tourists.

Development and progress in southern Oregon as a whole depends upon the spirit of cooperation between each southern Oregon city in fostering anything that will help all, or any part of southern Oregon.

The attractions of southern Oregon are so great that no one city has a right to claim them as exclusively their own. Crater Lake belongs to all of southern Oregon, the Oregon Marble Caves belong to all southern Oregon and Rogue River belongs to all southern Oregon. Any new road leading to or from any of these attractions will benefit all of southern Oregon by developing an increased direct interest that will reap results in increased publicity and in the increased number of tourists who will come to visit the whole of this vacation wonderland.

All of southern Oregon should help in getting the road built from Williams Creek to the Oregon Caves. All of southern Oregon should help in getting the road straightened and widened from Gold Hill to the Crater Lake highway and in the near future all of southern Oregon should assist in bringing about the construction of a super scenic and economic highway down the beautiful Rogue River to the sea.—Southern Oregon Spokesman.

GOLD HILL HAS CHEVROLET DEALER

Charles E. Ogle, a well known business man of southern Oregon, has been secured by the Pierce-Harrison Motor Co., Inc. to handle the sales and service for the Chevrolet in Gold Hill. The new firm will be known as the Ogle Chevrolet company of Gold Hill, and will operate a well equipped garage on the Pacific highway in that town.

"We are especially fortunate in securing Mr. Ogle to represent us in the northern section of the valley," said Mr. McWilliams of the Pierce-Harrison Motor Co., Inc. "He is well known locally and will be in a position to render high-class service for our line in Gold Hill, as well as handle Chevrolet sales in that territory."

The opening of a branch in Gold Hill is the first step in an active campaign by Pierce-Harrison to further Chevrolet sales in this part of Oregon. E. L. Kollenborn, factory representative of the Chevrolet company, was in Medford last week conferring with the local Chevrolet management. Mr. Kollenborn was extremely optimistic over the outlook for future Chevrolet business and said that the factory at the present time was operating on a capacity scale to meet the enormous demand for these popular light cars.

TOLO HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. A. Bowers of Albany, Ore., were weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Whitestone. The ladies are sisters.

Large Attendance Crater Lake Sunday

Sunday being an ideal fall day a large number of people drove to Crater Lake. A majority were from Medford and southern Oregon, but cars were noticed from five different states including Ohio.

The lake never looked more beautiful, the roads were ideal and the forests are all dressed in their fall attire.

Although the lake at the lake is closed, a large number of tourists and home people are visiting the lake daily, and many stay in Prospect all night, going or returning. James Greive says he had 20 visitors Saturday night and will be able to take care of all who desire to see the lake during this fine weather, both for meals and rooms.

The Screen

By Ye Press Agent.

At the Hialeho. A remarkable entertaining comedy, "The Trouble with Wives," closes at the Hialeho tonight. So far as this film is concerned, it would appear that the trouble with wives is jealousy. Yet no wife could be blamed for doubting her spouse after circumstantial evidence discovered by Florence Vidar as Tom Moore blundered into one dangerous situation after another.

Tom Moore is seen in a part well suited to his cheerful Irish personality, and Esther Halden gives an excellent performance as the shoe designer.

"The Paemakers," and education-at film and Bertrand Wortman are additional items on the bill.

In "The Midshipman," which will be shown at the Hialeho theater, beginning tomorrow Secretary of the Navy Wilbur is seen giving diplomas in the graduation scene. Also Rear-Admiral L. M. Nulton, captain H. E. Cook, Commander Jones, Commandant Jack Kimpson, Captain Haskely and Lieutenant Commander Lowry.

"Teaser" at Craterian. Laura La Plante and Pat O'Malley—the two extremes in screen, prove a very acceptable combination, as seen in "The Teaser," sensational, comical, now playing at the Hunt's Craterian—and she plays a typical modern flapper.

From that point on every development is a veritable scream. The effort of the flapper to break up the attachment of her sister to the line of flirting with all the married men in their set to annoy the aunt who interfered with her love plans—complications in the way of a domestic scandal—and efforts of the cigar drummer to become a social light by taking lessons in etiquette from a deposed Russian duke—these all add spice to the clever story.

The cast is more than exceptionally good. Hedda Hopper, Vivian Oakland, Margaret Quibby, Wyndham Standish, Walter Mitchell, Byron Munson and other standard artists.

And through the show is Raymond Ballard and his brilliant work at the organ.

New Gymnasium For Prospect School

Work on the new gymnasium for the Prospect school is progressing rapidly. It is 40 by 80 feet with high ceilings in the main room for basket ball and other athletics. There is also another part for a good sized stage; also shower baths and other conveniences. A new addition to the school building was completed this summer and all the buildings will be steam heated. There are 25 students in the high school and over 20 in the grades.
