EDEN PRECINCT HAS AN EPIDEMIC OF ACCIDENTS

By Mary O. Carey.
EDEN PRECINCT, Oct. 29.—Owing to the recent accident of Mr. Carey's, I have not written a letter for some time. Mr. Carey is able to sit up in bed at this writing, this being the third week after the accident.

There seemed to be a wave of accidents among the older men of this locality lately. M. J. Norris of Coleman creek suffered severe bruises about the legs and body when his team ran away while he was hauling wood last week. One wheel of the wagon ran over his legs and the lower part of his body. At last reports Mr. Norris is doing very nicely.

The other man was A. N. Right of peach fame, near Phoenix. Mr. Right has been for many years a familiar figure at the public market. He was also injured by a runaway team. Mr. Right is, like both Mr. Norris and Mr. Carey, well along in years.

Mrs. Wilbur Jones of Klamath Falls left for her home last Sunday after spending a week in her old home surroundings. Mrs. Jones was Miss Nellie Rose before her marriage, and spent her girlhood days on the Colver Donations near Phoenix and loves to come home occasionally and enjoy strolling over the old home.

Ed Hamlin and Walter Standliffe this summer raised several tons of sweet potato squashes on the Standliffe land across Bear creek from Phoenix. The land is under the ditch and will raise anything in the garden line.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Baryburg of East Eden spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Marsh Garrett.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Oatman of Medford were calling on C. Carey and wife last Sunday. Also Mrs. A. I. Phillips, H. G. Shearer, Mrs. H. P. Bush, Reverend Nelson of Phoenix, while several others called at the door. Mr. Carey is able to sit up for a few minutes at a time now.

Words cannot tell how we appreciate the kindness of all those who have rendered assistance and have spoken words of comfort in this severe trial. Truly the pioneer spirit never dies out of those who have lived for so many years in the valley. It seems that I was misinformed as to the sale of the Eva Careless place near Phoenix, as the man went back east and did not take up his paper or the nice little home for which he had made overtures.

Bert Bell of Alturas, Calif., came over to Phoenix to Dr. Malmgren's, for treatment of rheumatism, from which he was a great sufferer. He reports great improvement.

As there were no Eden Precinct items last week I failed to send in the announcement of two deaths which we regret to mention in our little community, that of Mrs. Heller, better remembered as Mrs. William Carey, of Talent. Mrs. Heller has been a great sufferer for the past two years, and death came as a relief to her. Her many friends did all they could to comfort her in her suffering and were near her to the last.

Will Denham, a most loved and respected citizen, was stricken very suddenly while at work in his shop. Mrs. Denham was away from home at the time, visiting her son in California. The entire community mourns with her in her sudden sorrow.

Holdridge brothers will begin the picking of their fine big apple crop this coming week. They have as heavy a crop as can be found in the valley. They are mostly Newtowns. Mrs. Turner of Glendale was in the valley one day last week. She was accompanied by her mother who is 82 years old and is spry enough to climb out of and into a car.

Mrs. Dr. Miller has returned from her business and pleasure trip in the east, and says she had a most enjoyable time, but found her husband, Dr. Miller, quite under the weather when she came home.

Pete Baryburg and his son Fred were among the last of the hunters to come back from a hunting trip at the close of the season, but they were unsuccessful.

Mrs. E. O. Reese came home from Sacramento a few days after her father was injured by the auto truck on the highway between Talent and Phoenix. Mrs. Reese will remain some little while at her father's bedside.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Jackson have sold their home at Sacramento and have come back to Medford to make their home again. The Jacksons are former Medford residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Will High of Talent have been out to Dorris, Calif., to attend to business and visit among old friends, where they formerly resided. Mr. High was able to drive his car himself, which is remarkable after his recent injury.

Jack Lovelady, who formerly resided in Talent, came in from Klamath county to spend the winter in Talent on account of his health and declining years. Mr. Lovelady lived in Talent some 40 years ago.

KLAMATH COUNTY AN ALL YEAR MKT. FOR LOCAL FARMS

GOLD HILL, Ore., Oct. 29.—F. L. Caton, the old-time truck driver for the Jackson County Creamery company at Gold Hill, was here during the week looking after his business matters. He reports that he has been on the Dunsuir route all summer with an occasional trip to Klamath county. It is the consensus of opinion among his customers for the creamery company that the Pacific highway through northern California and the highway to Klamath county is a boon to the Rogue river valley in providing a ready and all-year market to the valley agriculturists and horticulturists. He reports that regular trips will be maintained to these very important points all winter by his company.

A. T. McIlvain, the real estate broker of Rogue River, was in Gold Hill during the week on business. He reports that he is purchasing the A. S. Boyer estate property at Rogue River, consisting of the old hotel, dwelling and livery stable buildings, which he will at once remodel and put in good condition. This property was the most likely looking and best located premises in Rogue River a few years ago, but since Mr. Boyer died a few years ago and Mrs. Boyer last year, the property has fallen in bad repairs and the court ordered it sold to save it from the tax liens which would soon be foreclosed on the property. The visitor reports a general resumption and considerable activity in the quartz mines around Rogue River, and that the lumber industry is taking on new life.

The construction crew of the California Oregon Power company have been in Gold Hill the past week making many changes in the local sub-station which is due to the increased business out from Gold Hill since the present station was equipped several years ago. The three main transformers at the station have been replaced with much larger ones and those removed were loaded on flat-cars and shipped to Yreka to be used at that point. With the present equipment at the Gold Hill sub-station another unit will soon have to be added to supply the increased demand for power by the local mines, which are being developed and the old properties which will be rehabilitated.

Joe Beal, the local miner, was in town the first of the week from the Pleasant creek district, where he is employed by the Shirley Holding company of New York City, which is operating here under the title and firm name of Shibly Mining company, with R. C. Demster engineer in charge. This company is seeking for a large dredge placer deposit in this district and is the same company that recently tested the Sleepy Hollow farm just below Gold Hill at the junction of Sardine creek with Rogue river, with drills. They found this ground sufficiently rich in placer gold, but the deposit was not sufficient to accommodate the equipment contemplated for this district. The company has transferred its operations to Pleasant creek since quitting the Sleepy Hollow site. The new tract which they are prospecting with drills is out ten miles from Rogue River and extends for a distance of four miles on the left hand fork of Pleasant creek. The crew consists of six men. Joe reports that Robertson, a Grants Pass prospector, has made a very important

Kiwanians Visit Pre-Cooling Plant

After the Kiwanians' dinner Monday, the members visited the Medford Pre-cooling and Storage company in the south Medford factory district and were shown over the plant by Manager Hamlin. Many of the guests had not visited the plant before and were amazed at the completeness of the installation. It is one of the largest new business enterprises of southern Oregon built in 1925, and is a great asset to the fruit and vegetable industry of the valley.
