WILLOW SPRINGS

There was a large attendance at the Halloween party at the Willow Springs school house last Saturday evening. Everyone enjoyed the program and the mock trial was a great success. The school rooms were prettily and appropriately decorated by the teachers and children. Supper was served by the ladies, after the program.

Mrs. H. M. Hush, who was so ill at a local hospital, is much improved and able to be moved to her home.

Mrs. Earl Ilett is keeping home for her father, D. M. Grisham of Central Point, while Mrs. Grisham is visiting her daughter in Klamath Falls and her son's family at Weed. She is expected home this week.

William Penninger underwent a successful major operation at a Medford hospital last Monday. Although he is still very weak his condition is good and it is hoped that he will make a rapid recovery.

J. D. Collier passed away late last Monday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Eugene Blackford.

Mr. Collier's home was in Phoenix and he came here about six weeks ago so that his daughter and family might help care for him. He has been in very poor health for some time.

The funeral was held at the Phoenix church on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Friends and neighbors in this vicinity extend sympathy to the bereaved family.

Henry Kuenzli, retired commander U. S. navy, of Seattle, Wash., and his brother, Edwin Kuenzli of Milwaukee, Wis., motored down from the former city last week and were here guests for three days at the J. W. Birkholz home. Edwin Kuenzli and Mr. Birkholz were school mates back in Wisconsin and have known each other since early childhood.

Plumber Thought He Needed New Pipes

"My stomach and intestines were always full of gas and I often had severe colic attacks. The pain and soreness caused me to think I needed a new set of pipes. Since taking Mayr's Wonderful Remedy all this has disappeared and my only trouble now is to make enough dough to buy all the food I'd like to eat." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists, adv.

SARDINE CREEK

Quite a few invited guests spent a pleasant evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Smith Saturday evening, Halloween. A bounteous lunch, consisting of sandwiches, pickles, pumpkin pie, mince pie and coffee was served, when all went their way home, hoping for more of such pleasant gatherings.

Mrs. Nina Dusenberry and children attended the Halloween dance and supper given by the L. O. O. F. and Tebeccas in Gold Hill Saturday night and report a very enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Durke drove over Sunday from their home near Talent to get Mrs. Durke's father, J. H. Ring, who is in very poor health and take him out where he can be nearer a doctor. "Dad" Ring, as he is familiarly known, has been spending the summer with a daughter at McCloud, Calif., but returned to his old home here about a month ago.

Sam Dusenberry has moved his family from Hill, Calif., where he has been employed for some time, and is visiting at the home of his brother Ralph, for a few days. He and Ralph drove to Klamath Falls Wednesday, to look for employment for the winter.

Fred Guy, our rural mail carrier, has been enjoying a visit for the past few weeks with his father and brother, who drove down from their home in Spokane, Wash. They are very much in love with our winter climate here, they talk of disposing of their property in Spokane and locating in the Rogue River valley.

J. U. Smith narrowly escaped losing his home by fire one morning last week, when the flues burned out. First the flue from the cook stove burned out and that started the fire place flue, which made things lively around there for awhile. It being early in the mornin' and the roof damp with a heavy dew and the fact that they had a hose to keep it wet, was all that saved it from being a serious fire. As it was, it burned for nearly three hours.

Ellis Call and W. H. Riggs of Ashland were visitors here one day this week, where the latter, who recently came from Los Angeles, is looking for a location.

S. A. Dusenberry, who has been trucking near Hill, Calif., the past summer, has moved his truck home, as the rain and snow over there the past week, makes the roads impassable for trucks.

There's heart-deep western welcome in every savory sip

WHOLE-SOULED hospitality and "a cup of wonderful coffee"—these are twin traditions of our great western empire. You get the connection the moment you moisten your lips with a warming sip of Hills Bros. Coffee, that fragrant seal-brown brew the West claims as its own.

Aroma, flavor, strength, freshness—the Quality Quartet that has won so many friends for this unusual coffee, from the Pacific to the Mississippi. Ask for Hills Bros. by name and look for the Arab on the can. Hills Bros. Coffee is economical to use.

Break the vacuum seal of a tin of Hills Bros. Coffee. Inhale that rich, rare aroma! Brew a cup and taste that marvelous flavor! Comb the continent and you will find no flavor to compare with this. That's why they call it The Recognized Standard.

Mix and Tony At the Rialto

Tom Mix has a role of a different sort in "The Everlasting Whisper," a fast moving story of the northwest, at the Rialto.

There are thrills enough to satisfy any taste, and the story is given added interest by a pretty romance in which Tom improves himself an ardent and persuasive wooer.

Allice Calhoun, as the heroine, is most captivating and lends a feminine appeal to this picture.

The climax is a realistic flight in a cave high up in the mountains where Tom mixes it freely with a gang of outlaws. It is a good, old fashioned melodrama, with a convincing finish.

Robert Cain makes a most suave and hateable villain, while Tony, the celebrated horse, comes in for his share of the honors.
