

PRESBYTERIANS PLAN TO BUILD $50,000 CHURCH

The congregation of the Presbyterian church at a meeting held on Thursday evening, after a thorough discussion of the need of a new building to house their large and growing Sunday school, young people's work, boys' work and women's work, voted unanimously to take the first steps toward a new church building. A finance committee was appointed to canvass the congregation to raise if possible funds sufficient to finance a new building to cost in the neighborhood of $50,000. This committee was asked to report back to the congregation by the first of the year.

The plan to sell the Main street lot, where the present building is located, as soon as a satisfactory offer is secured for it, retaining the use of the building for a year if possible, until the new building is ready for use. Two offers are already in hand.

The present plan for the new building is to build around three sides of an open court, facing the park, on the lots just south of the present church, where the church owns four lots, making a space of 100 feet by 140. It will be modern and up to date in every respect.

The church has had steady growth under the four and a half years of the present pastorate, the membership of both Sunday school and church having practically doubled in that time, with every prospect that this growth will continue.

The Screen

Mix and Tony Leave Tonight.
The dynamic Tom Mix and his horse, Tony, closes at the Rialto tonight in "The Everlasting Whisper," a stirring drama of the northwest.

With Tony, Tom registers several thrills. The superb horsemanship of the film star again adds greatly to the enjoyment of the story.

A throbbing and tense dramatic story is unfolded in a way that is lauded by realism and color in "The Night Ship," which comes to the Rialto theater tomorrow matinee. This film is away from the stereotyped features both in its style of romantic construction and the cast, which includes Mary Carr, Robert Gordon, Margaret Fielding, Tom Santchi, Wilis Marks, Charles Sellon, Charles Mack and Mary Frances McLain.

At Hunt's Craterian.
Gloria Swanson in "The Coast of Folly" will be seen at the Hunt's Craterian for the last time tonight.

Miss Swanson plays a dual role, mother and daughter, and incidentally she wears many chic and charming gowns.

In the cast with her are Alex B. Francis, Dorothy Cumming, Jed Prouty, Eugenie Besserer, Arthur Hausman and Lawrence Gray.

Theatre

Prized by New York Papers.
The sensation of two continents, "White Cargo," is a vivid play of love in the tropics. In the reviews of the play the New York Telegram said: "It's a stronger and more logical play than 'Rain,'" and the noted critic, Burns Mantle, on the New York News, claims it to be a "vigorous and exciting drama." The New York Tribune quoted it as the "best play of the season," and the New York Herald said "a cloudburst of sensationalism."

The company that appears at the Hunt's Craterian on Monday night, November 16, contains an original cast of Broadway artists, the same that appeared in the larger cities of the country; in fact Earl Carroll, the producer, is noted for not changing in any way his casts when on tour, so theatergoers can rest assured that when "White Cargo" appears here it will be in its original entirety.

In Honor of the Great Event.
Birthdays are always important occasions, especially if one is very young or very old. Before the Youth's Companion will be one hundred years old, and the event is going to be made a memorable one for the Companion's many friends. So, although the date is not until April 16, 1927, preparations will begin with 1926.

In honor of its birthday the Companion will come to you next year at the new low price of $2. It will be dressed up in party clothes, with new cover designs, enlarged illustrations, new brilliantly clear type, and over 200 pages more than last year. It will contain 9 book length serial stories, fascinating mystery stories, tales of adventure on land and sea, the new "Make-It and Do-It" pages, radio, games, books and puzzles, interesting special articles, and the ever delightful children's page. Don't miss this great year of the Youth's Companion; subscribe now and receive:

1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1926, and
2. The remaining issues of 1925.

All for only $2.

3. Or include McCall's Magazine, the monthly authority on fashions. Both publications only $2.50.

RED CROSS DOING VALIANT SERVICE IN JACKSON CO.

It is a great privilege to be a member of the American Red Cross and to know you have a small part in the relief administered in record breaking time in every great overwhelming disaster that visits any part of this country, or any other, through the agency of the American or International Red Cross forces.

In addition to that, by your larger gifts, to know that you, through the local Red Cross office are helping to provide the necessities of life, to the sick and feeble and crippled folk of our community, who through misfortune are unable to provide for themselves; or are taking care of children, thrown out of a home by force of circumstances, until they can be placed in good hands.

There are thousands of ex-service men, who loyally gave the best of their physical manhood, who through wounds, sickness or misfortune have been compelled to look somewhere for aid. Your gifts go to assist them in the hour of their need until they can take care of themselves.

During the past year the National Red Cross has given assistance in 99 disasters. During the 44 years of its existence, it has expended $46,000,000 in relief work following disasters. Since the Armistice was signed, $53,000,000 has been expended in rendering service to disabled veterans of the World War and also to men of the regular army and navy.

Locally during the past year, $3978 has been expended in material relief which covers all kinds of calls. The secretary has traveled to every corner of the county looking into and caring not only for the multitude of cases coming to the attention of the office, but also caring for 138 cases for the county court. Miss Roberts, executive secretary, is constantly with our county judge in looking up and attending to county cases.

Plan to make the Jackson County Red Cross your good Samaritan agency for the coming year, by giving the funds into their hands, which you will rejoice to know are being invested in helpful service to humanity. Christ came, and he ministered unto, but to minister and give his life a ransom for many. This agency is a ministering agency.

$20,000 Per Criminal.
The president of the Chicago crime commission comes out with the startling statement that one percent of the city's population are following criminal pursuits. That the cost of crime in that city is so great that the city could well afford to pay each of its 30,000 crooks an annual salary of $20,000 to go elsewhere. And a judge of the greatest criminal court in the United States is the most lawless nation on earth, and added that the vast majority of these criminals are under nineteen or twenty.

The Church Is Making Great Progress
In the few days in which we have witnessed victories are being won by the heroes of the cross. We are seeing and having part in the greatest forward movement of the century. The response to the appeal of the gospel was never heartier or more satisfying. There are enough victories being won to encourage the most fearful and to fortify the most timid. If we read only of the sin and shame of the world and see nothing of the victories of the cross, our vision is sadly obscured. There is an encouraging view that one well might make a long pilgrimage to see. The heaven of Christianity is at work.—The Texas Christian Advocate.

In Great Britain.
The Arch bishop of Canterbury has announced plans for a nation-wide revival. It is to begin Armistice week. He is calling the people of England to return to a more deeply religious life and feels that the time is ripe for a great spiritual revival. All over the world among Christian people there is a calm insistence that the undercurrents of a great spiritual awakening is near at hand.

The Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America is made up of representatives of nearly thirty denominations. At the New Orleans convention the Protestant Episcopal Church voted again upon becoming a member of this body. The vote of the Bishops was 50 in favor and 50 opposed. A two-third vote was necessary. The decision was a victory for the High Church of the Episcopal Church.

Poor Old Editor.
It is reported that one of the fastidious newly married ladies of this town keeps bread with her gloves on. This incident may be somewhat peculiar, but there are others. The editor of this paper needs bread with his shoes on, he needs bread with his shirt on, and unless some of the delinquent subscribers to this "Old Rag of Freedom" pony up before long, he will need bread without a thing on, and Wisconsin in no Garden of Eden in the winter time.—Melrose (Wis.) Chronicle.

In a series of pictures before me, entitled "The American Red Cross in Action, Always Ready," I see the very services of helpfulness that I am sure each one of us would like to be doing if we had the time and the money. It is for that reason carried out so efficiently, that the impulses of our hearts might sympathetically, that the wonderful Red Cross organization exists and has been brought to its high state of perfection.

In every corner of this great land, the Red Cross is in action as the Good Samaritan of the hundreds of thousands of people who contribute in a small or large way to this un denominational, unsectarian, international, unselfish agency of mercy. Watch the notice of the next great disaster to be reported in the newspapers, which overwhelms a community beyond its ability to take care of itself, and see how quickly the Red Cross forces are on the ground with their funds and trained workers to organize and administer relief economically and efficiently. That is because it is made possible by the fact that Medford and Ashland and the thousands of other cities and towns and country districts over the land, respond so loyally to the appeal presented at the annual roll call for funds for local and national relief. Let the spirit of this coming week on the part of each one of us, be that of Him who came, not to be ministered unto, but to minister.

Rough Sailing For Runners.
The Associated Press reports that the coast guard's dry navy has captured 238 sea-going vessels and about 400 prisoners since its concentration against rum smugglers was started seven months ago. More than $10,000,000 worth of rum has been captured. And not with an actually "dry" official in the lead the sailing is going to be rougher still.

EX-GOBLIN'S PAL OFFERS ALIBI ON MURDER CHARGE

NOBLEVILLE, Ind., Nov. 6.—(A. P.)—An alibi for Earl Klenck in the Stephenson murder trial was put forth by the defense today in the testimony of James Carter, sheriff of Marion county (Indiana). Klenck, D. C. Stephenson and Earl Gentry, are charged with first degree murder in connection with the death of Midge Oberholzer of Indianapolis. Klenck is said to have assisted in the girl's abduction.

Carter testified that Klenck, then a Marion county deputy sheriff, was working with him on tasks of the sheriff's office during much of the time when Miss Oberholzer's alleged abduction was taking place. He related Klenck's movements over much of this period in some detail.

The defense swung suddenly from the expert testimony it had been employing to support its contention that medical treatment would not have availed to save Miss Oberholzer's life unless administered within six hours after she swallowed poison. At Hampton the girl took poison, keeping her deed secret from her alleged captors for some hours.

Dr. John W. Williams of Indianapolis said he believed the girl's death due to the poison she swallowed and denied the efficacy of remedial treatment after six hours, the time given by the defense as having elapsed between her act and her revelation of it.

SAFETY OF NATION AS IMPORTANT AS ECONOMY, CLAIM
NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—(A. P.)—Warning that further material cuts in naval appropriations would impair the efficiency of the navy was given here today by Chairman Hale of the naval committee, addressing the National Security league.

"There is no economy," he said, "in cutting down the life insurance, the life guaranty of the country," adding that in his opinion the greatest factor in the world for peace is a rich and powerful America insisting that peace shall be maintained.

Immediate expeditions were urged by Hale for widening and deepening the entrance to Pearl harbor, development work at Sand Point, Washington, and if possible the determining of a site for a new naval base on the Pacific coast and the acquisition of land for that purpose.

"It is believed to be of great importance to the navy," he said, "to have a naval operating base on the Pacific coast that in some measure would correspond to the naval operating base at Hampton Roads on the Atlantic coast. With such a base established and with the strengthening and improvement of Pearl harbor, the Pacific coast would, I believe, be adequately protected and the expenditures, covering as they will a period of years, would not require excessive appropriations in any one year."

OREGON U. ENJOYS FOOTBALL REST

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 7.—While other conference teams were in action today, the University of Oregon football squad took a rest and enjoyed it all the more after the two hard games of the past two Saturdays.

Next week will be homecoming, and the Oregon Agricultural college men will furnish the opposition for the homecoming game. Since the Aggies are given odds of six points to win, Coach Dick Smith is planning to put his warriors through their hardest paces of the season during the first part of the week. The day or two of rest and the big game of the year.

$325,000 FIRE LOSS AT SEATTLE DOCKS

SEATTLE, Nov. 6.—(A. P.)—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a grain elevator at Smith Cove here today and threatened two of the largest commercial piers in the world, valued at several million dollars. The loss was put at $325,000.

Thousands of persons watched the monster flames which began at 4 o'clock in the morning. Virtually all the Seattle fire department was utilized but only two fireboats, the Duwamish and Snoqualmie, were able to combat the flames with any success because of the location.

LIQUOR DECLINES, BUT ALCOHOL IS ON THE INCREASE

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—(A. P.)—A report of the congressional investigation of enforcement of the Volstead law was given the Anti-Saloon league convention today in the report prepared by Representative Grant M. Hudson of Michigan, chairman of the committee.

The information was gained from thousands of questionnaires sent out by the committee to federal and state officers, social and welfare organizations and leaders in industrial and commercial life.

It is very doubtful if any brewer in the United States today can successfully operate a so-called near-beer business, Representative Hudson said, "unless they run it in connection with some other business or violate the law. The law should be amended so as to make all manufacturers of commercial beverage plants obtain a general permit. So long as there are breweries there will be attempted violations."

The control of the genuine whiskey supply in the country, Representative Hudson said, is quite effective now, 22,000,000 to 33,000,000 gallons still in bond are in concentration warehouses, and the previous leaks fairly well stopped. Even the distribution of this is growing less, he said, because four states—New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and California are credited with more than sixty per cent of the total prescriptions issued for liquor for medicinal purposes. There are 23 states, the questionnaire brought out, where physicians cannot prescribe liquor.

The committee of congressmen estimated that there is a leakage of about six million gallons of denatured alcohol a year into bootleg channels for re-distillation of the 135,877,752 produced last year. The production of alcohol has grown tremendously, he said, since the advent of prohibition increasing from slightly less than one hundred million gallons in 1920 to nearly 136,000,000 last year.

"The great weakness of the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment," said Representative Hudson, "has been lack of adequate penalties. The system of fines operates only as a license law. The increasing number of convictions compared to the total number of cases indicates a growing determination to stamp out law violations."

The questionnaires, Representative Hudson said, were almost unanimous in their expression of the benefits received from prohibition, the replies quoting figures on decreased pauperism, increase of prosperity among working men, increase in home owning and life insurance.

"There is a divergence of opinion in the matter of the death rate from alcohol," the committee report showed. "In 1922 the death rate had been 2.6, about one-half the rate when prohibition became effective, but this was an increase of almost one per cent over 1921, and 1923 brought the death rate up to 3.2. The lowest rate in the five wet years was 4.1 in 1915."

"How much of this increased percentage in 1923 and 1924 is due to synthetic liquors is hard to estimate, but the fact is that there is not left any of the old alcoholism of former days."

ALLIES DISSATISFIED WITH GERMANY'S NOTE
PARIS, Nov. 7.—(A. P.)—Finding the last German note on the disarmament issue unsatisfactory, the allied council of ambassadors today decided on the text of a communication asking the Berlin government for more precise information on some phases.

The ambassadors' request is based on a report of the inter-allied committee under the chairmanship of Marshal Foch.

A communication issued after the ambassadors' meeting said it was hoped the new note would elicit a reply from Germany that would permit the allies to consider early evacuation of the Cologne bridgehead.

End Bunion Pain Forever

No Need to Suffer Another Day Those Agonizing Torturing Pains.

There is one simple yet inexpensive way to reduce inflamed, swollen toe joints and get them down to normal and that is to apply Moore's Emerald Oil night and morning and people who suffer from such enlargements would be wise to reduce them before they reach a more or less chronic stage.

Ask any first class druggist for an original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore if this wonderful discovery does not give you complete satisfaction you can have your money refunded.

Special note: People who want to reduce swollen or varicose veins should get a bottle of Emerald Oil at once. Applied night and morning as directed they will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal. adv.
