

EVERYTHING READY FOR CELEBRATION OF ARMISTICE DAY

Tomorrow will be a big day in Medford with hundreds of out-of-town visitors. Most of the stores will remain open until 11 a. m., for the benefit of those who wish to shop.

Medford's business district is expected to present a patriotic appearance, when the merchants get out their flags. Many of the stores will also be decorated with special patriotic window displays in honor of the day.

Medford will have the opportunity of witnessing a regular "bull-fight" tomorrow when the legion "stunt" committee starts to function.

Ashland merchants plan to close their stores at 11 a. m. tomorrow in order to join with Medford in the big Armistice day celebration here.

Football fans will accompany their team to this city for the big game in the afternoon and the total Ashland representation will no doubt make an impressive showing.

MEDFORD LEGION HOLDS A RECORD BREAKING MEET

One of the biggest legion meetings in many months was held at the Armory last night. Many business matters were disposed of in rapid-fire order and final plans laid for the Armistice Day celebration of tomorrow.

An appeal for more members to join the ranks of those who have paid their 1925 dues in advance, resulted in the addition of 22 new names to the list of over forty now on the "honor roll."

The legion duck hunt, which is scheduled for next Saturday came up for discussion and many members signified their intention of participating.

Colonel Paine made a report on the Americanization program of Medford post, which is an important work. The matter of a permanent memorial for Jackson county soldiers who perished in the late world war was brought up and a special committee appointed to take care of this important activity.

Initiation of two new members was held and a number of visiting members were introduced.

Some rare old books of Civil War times were displayed by Legionnaire LeRoy, with a plan whereby the legion could realize a substantial sum of money through their sale.

The meeting closed with an appeal by Commander McElhose that every Legionnaire and ex-service man in Jackson county be in the parade, in uniform if possible; if not to "be there anyway without fail."

ARMISTICE DAY BALL TOMORROW A GALA AFFAIR

Armistice night will be fittingly observed tomorrow thanks to the elaborate plans of the Medford Legion. There will be numerous entertainment features, from dark until 8:30 p. m., the hour set for the grand opening of the Armistice ball.

To care for the big crowd, the legion has secured both dance halls of the Medford Natatorium and has engaged two orchestras. The large hall, the Oriental ball room, will be used for the big dance, while the small hall will house the French village where will be presented the entertainment features consisting of high-class vaudeville acts, music and song.

A staff of efficient decorators under Tom Sween, has been working day and night on this big feature and the results promise to surprise everyone.

A typical French cafe with real French maids and good things to eat will present a lure for those who wish to dine, and little French shops will intrigue even the most blasé passer-by to stop and look.

A peppy orchestra will supply American "jazz" for those who desire a change from the large hall and wish to dance "a la France."

Those who do not care to dance will find in the French village plenty of diversion to occupy the evening thus allowing more space in the larger ballroom for the real dance fans.

There will be no extra charge for the French village, one admission covering both feature attractions.

Armistice Day Parade Plans

The Armistice day parade committee have all in readiness for the largest parade ever held in Medford, five handsome silver cups have been procured for award to the prize winning floats in the parade.

The parade will form at 10:30 a. m. and will move East on Main street from the Washington school to Riverside, north on Riverside to Sixth street, west on Sixth to Bartlett, south on Bartlett to Main, west on Main to Hotel Medford, starting promptly at 11:05 a. m.

All commercial floats will form on Laurel street, headed by the city fire department. Decorated automobiles form on Main street, west of Laurel, and come floats and stunts on Mistletote street.

The division marshal of the parade will be stationed at the intersection of Main and Oakdale streets to help expedite the formation.

The line of march will include a large number of marchers and floats and military precision is expected to mark the proceedings.

Alex Sparrow veteran of the Spanish-American war will act as Grand Marshal. Twelve motor and oil companies have signified their intention of having enteries in the parade.

Those who will have floats or decorated cars include the following: G. A. R., Womans' Relief Corps, D. R. T., Daughters of Veterans, American Legion Auxiliary, Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., High School, Royal Neighbors, Salvation Army, Elks Club, City Fire Department, City W. C. T. U., Department, Jacksonville, Phoenix and Talent, Williams & McCurley, Foster & Kleiser, First National Bank, Reddy & Co., Wm. Hammett Plumbing Co., Marsh Grocery, The Torgery, Louie's Cash Grocery, Heath Drug Store, Crater Lake Confectionery, Groceteria Feed and Seed Co., Model Pharmacy, Golden Rule Store, Medford Furniture and Hardware Co., Sniders Dairy, White Sewing Machine Co., Sanford & Co., Scotts Cycle Shop, Jackson County News, Eads Transfer, Hanson Coal Co., Banks Electric Store, Kinney Furniture Co., Monarch Sew & Feed Store, Hubbard Brothers, Davis Transfer Co., Western Auto Supply Co., Cozy Nook, Modern Plumbing & Sheet Metal Works, and Colonial Bakery, Auto Parts Supply Co., Medford Service Station, Palmers Music House, Williams Implement Service, Craterian Theatre, Pictor Gage, California Oregon Power Co., and Weeks & Orr.

COUNCIL REFUSES TO ALLOW SHOE SHOP ON AVENUE

The property owners of the entire length of Riverside avenue, especially those in the section immediately involved, breathed a sigh of relief when it became known that the city planning commission, at a public hearing last night displayed its intention to keep that thoroughfare not only free from the encroachment of business as much as possible, but to keep it as slightly as possible.

Hence at the hearing petitioning the commission to change North Riverside between Jackson and Maple streets, from a residence zone into a business one, the commission turned down the petition, which had been presented by V. Amoros for the purpose of allowing him to build a shoe shop at 619 North Riverside.

The property owners and others in the section in dispute were well represented at the hearing. Amoros's petition was signed by only 11 signers, including three or four from one family, but the protest petition against it was signed by 27 property owners of the entire district.

The commission in making its unanimous decision held that there was no occasion to upset this residence section by admitting business, and that no emergency existed to grant such a change.

It was the second time such a petition presented by Amoros had been rejected, and last night's action was final. However, it was reported at the city hall this forenoon that Amoros had called there and declared that he intended to ignore the commission's ruling and build at the disputed location anyway.

If he attempts to do so the commission will order his arrest at once and fight the matter out in the courts. The authority given the city planning commission in functioning is regarded as legally secure since the recent decision handed down by the state supreme court upholding the Portland city planning commission.

FINED FOR RACING FROM E. P. DANCE

Racing proved expensive to four motorists returning to this city from the dance held at Eagle Point Saturday night, for when they pleaded guilty in Justice Glenn O. Taylor's court yesterday, following their arrest by State Traffic Officer J. J. McMahon and Deputy Sheriff Lewis Jennings on the Crater Lake highway near the city limits, each was fined $15.

According to the officers, the four cars, three of which were Ford coupes, were traveling at rates ranging from 40 to 45 miles per hour in efforts to make the best speed. Officers Jennings and McMahon stopped three, while the fourth attempted to leave the scene, only to be stopped later by Jennings after a short chase.

The three arrested first are Fred A. Puhl, N. G. Bowen, and Edward Barkuff, while John Jensen was the fourth. All are local youths.

AUTO RUNS WILD, 3 CARS SMASHED

An auto collision involving three cars occurred at Central Point yesterday afternoon when L. E. Tillman of Portland, driving a Hudson, connected with the "trackless train," crashed into a Buick driven by Peter Vanderplank at the intersection of Pine and Third streets, while the latter was attempting to turn around.

After being struck the Buick continued to run in a circle and struck a Buick sedan, owned by Dr. W. H. Heckman, which was parked near the curb.

The three cars were badly damaged, according to State Traffic Officer C. P. Talent, who arrived on the scene shortly after the accident occurred. Tillman is said to have accepted the blame for the unfortunate affair.

LOCAL RED CROSS DRIVE RECEIVES SPLENDID SUPPORT

Up to noon today $2829 had been collected in cash and pledges by the ten teams of solicitors, composed of business men, working in the interest of the annual Red Cross drive which commenced yesterday. A total of $2650 of this amount is cash, while the remainder is pledged. The result of the drive so far is a record for the first two days of any drive ever launched.

The entire amount was solicited from the business district, leaving the residential and outlying districts of the city yet untouched. The donations range from $1 to $100, with the average hovering about the $5 mark.

The budget outlined for the ensuing year by the local Red Cross involves $8000 and, according to present indications, this amount will be exceeded by several hundred dollars when the drive has been completed. A total of $300 is expected from outside communities, such as Phoenix, Talent, Central Point and Jacksonville; $1200 will be donated by the county, $500 by the city and $1500 is yet expected from donations by individuals in the city.

Thursday's campaign covering the residential and outlying districts will be launched by several teams, composed of local women.

The canvass will include four generals, each having charge of four captains. The organization, as follows: Mrs. James Owen, general; Mrs. R. J. Couray, Mrs. Delroy Getchell, Mrs. Charles Brown and Mrs. A. B. Cunningham, captains; Mrs. L. E. Williams, general; Mrs. M. Alford, Mrs. L. O. Humphreys, Mrs. Jonas Wold and Mrs. Satchwell, captains; Mrs. Leonard Carpenter, general; Mrs. Kenley, Mrs. Walter Bowen, Mrs. Ralph Bottelle and Mrs. Donald McKee, captains.

Each captain will in turn have three assistants who will visit each residence in the city, as well as the farms and ranches in the county. Their campaign is expected to be over by Saturday.

Red Men Celebrate Here Next Saturday

The Redmen's lodge of this city will be host next Saturday to visiting Redmen from Oregon and northern California, in what promises to be the biggest meeting held by the order in this section in years. State officials of high rank will be in attendance. During the ceremonies there will be a banquet, parades, initiations and a general all-around good time. The final arrangements will be completed at a meeting to be held tonight.

WIFE THREATENS TO WRECK BOY WITH LOVE NOTES

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Nov. 10.—(A. P.) Counsel for Mrs. Alice Jones Rhineland, now being sued for annulment of her marriage to Leonard Kip Rhineland, on the ground of fraudulent representation of her race, today admitted in open court that their client had some colored blood.

The admission was made by Lee Parson Davis, chief of defense counsel, at the opening of his outline of what the defense expects to prove. He said:

"The defense counsel hereby withdraws the previous denial as to the blood of this defendant and for the purposes of this trial and to shorten the trial admits that the defendant has some colored blood."

Davis then asked Supreme Court Justice Morschhauser to instruct the jury to disregard that portion of the outline of the plaintiffs case made yesterday by Isaac N. Mills, which referred to the mental development of young Rhineland. He also objected to the portion of Mr. Mills' outline which cast reflection on the "good name" of the defendant. Justice Morschhauser refused to instruct the jury on these points, holding that they were relevant.

Mr. Davis contended it was young Rhineland's father, Philip Rhineland, who was behind the annulment suit.

"The Rhineland millions," he said "not Leonard's but Philip's, are back of this move to crush a concededly humble family to save what they consider to be an ancient name, trailing back to the Huguenots of New Rochelle. It is not enough that they should enter this humble home and take this girl, but because father gets cross about it he had to drag her in the mud."

Mrs. Rhineland's counsel said young Rhineland forced his attentions for months on Alice Jones, had accepted night after night the hospitality of her family and had met many of her relatives. When the question of marriage arose Mr. Davis quoted him as saying: "We'll have to keep this secret."

Alice Jones frequently had expressed doubt as to the advisability of the marriage. Davis asserted.

Davis said that in meeting Alice's relatives he must have seen traces of negro blood in them.

"But yet they say," he continued, "that he had no suspicion that there was colored blood around."

Mr. Davis intimated that he might produce letters written by young Rhineland to his future wife, if the plaintiffs continued to introduce her letters to him.

"If they wish to start throwing mud," he told the jury, "I'll wreck this boy by his own letters."

AILMENTS OF YOUNG GIRLS

Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound School Teacher's Experience

Evanston, Wyoming.—"A few years ago I had troubles every month such as girls often have, and would suffer awfully every time. I was teaching school and it made it hard for me as I had to go to bed for two or three days. One day my mother suggested that I take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and it did wonders for me. In the course of a year I married and after my first baby was born I got up too soon and it caused a displacement. This troubled me so that I could hardly walk or do my housework. I knew what the Vegetable Compound did for me before so I took it again. It strengthened me and now I have five little kiddies. The eldest is six, the baby is five months old and I have twin boys three years old and a boy of five years. I do all my own housework, washing and ironing, and I never felt better in my life. I owe my health to your wonderful medicine and I recommend it to all my friends."—Mrs. VERBENA CARPENTER, 127 2nd Avenue, Evanston, Wyoming.
