

Local Notes

Much favorable comment was expressed among the spectators of the demonstration given by the fire department yesterday afternoon at the Hotel Medford building, when they executed many "hair-raising stunts." Fire Chief Elliott commenced the afternoon program by sliding down a 200 foot rope stretched from the top of the building to a tree in the city park. Later Fireman Robert Rhinesberg jumped from his third story into a life net held by fellow firemen. In addition, a ladder and life line stunt were also made. The program was concluded with a demonstration of the power of the Stutz pumper, which shot water fully 20 feet above the building against a strong wind.

HELPED THROUGH CHANGE OF LIFE

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during This Critical Time—Benefited Greatly

Baltimore, Maryland.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help me through the change of life and for a broken-down system. I had been complaining a long time and dragging along had tried other medicines which did not help me much. I read in the newspapers of the Vegetable Compound and after taking a bottle I felt better. I did not stop with one bottle, but took it through the whole critical time and am now practically a well woman. I have two daughters whose health was very bad before they married and I was worried about them. I got the Vegetable Compound for them and it helped them, and after they married it also helped them in bearing their babies. This is a great and good medicine for all complaints of women, and I recommend it to all."—Mrs. L. GINGRICH, 1375 N. Gilmore St., Baltimore, Maryland.

The Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for women of middle age. Let it relieve you of nervousness, that feeling of strain and those annoying hot flashes so common at this time.

3 MORE SPEEDERS FINED IN COURT

PRAYING PASTOR IS WITNESS AT HUNTLEY TRIAL

Rev. C. M. Dewey, who held the prayer meeting at the home of Hyman Huntley, on the night he is alleged to have slain Jesse James Gibbs, in a quarrel over attentions paid to Mrs. Hattie Huntley, was the chief witness at the morning session of the trial of Huntley on a charge of first degree murder. Dewey became confused, told two different stories, and asked the court for the right "to ask questions of the attorneys." The court informed the witness he was supposed to "answer, not ask questions."

Dewey testified that he held the meeting that figures so largely in the trial, "to reconcile the Huntleys," whose family life, the defense says, was torn with domestic storms, and "told Hattie Huntley to read her Bible." Dewey had advised Hattie "to pray alone." Both the witnesses

Tuesday testified that Mrs. Huntley had followed this admonishment, and entered the shed where Gibbs was sleeping, to pray "because the ground was wet, and Hattie feared her rheumatism would come back."

The state is expected to close its case today, unless Mrs. Hattie Huntley, wife of the defendant, and one angle of the "eternal triangle" alleged to have been a prompting motive for the fatal affray, is called. Mrs. Huntley can claim immunity as the wife of the defendant.

The defense will probably plead the "unwritten law," and self defense, and endeavor to impeach Mrs. Counts and the widow, by statements they are alleged to have made to friends of Huntley shortly after the stabbing.

Every session of the case finds a crowded courtroom of listeners, mostly women, including a number of Douglas and Coos county residents.

Another witness at the morning session was Coroner H. W. Ganser, who testified to facts concerning the finding of the body of Gibbs, the knife wounds thereon, and identified transcripts of testimony offered at the coroner's inquest, a defense effort to show that the testimony of Mrs. Counts, the mother-in-law varied from that given on Tuesday.

I. B. Riddle, county clerk of Douglas county, a defense witness was called to attest to the previous character of the defendant, which he said was good.
