EVANS VALLEY MAN CRUSHED TO DEATH BY FARM TRACTOR

BARN FILLED WITH HAY AND GRAIN IS BURNED TO GROUND

By Mrs. E. W. Scott.
 ROGUE RIVER, Nov. 11.—The community was shocked Tuesday, November 10, when it became known that Webber Neathammer of Evans Valley had met a tragic death by being crushed underneath a Fordson tractor. In some manner the tractor overturned while Webber was plowing.

REESSE CREEK, Nov. 13.—Monday morning, quite early, imagine their surprise and feelings when some of the family of J. L. Robertson looked out and saw their barn all ablaze. They could do nothing to save it. The barn was filled with hay, corn and other farm products, also their winter supply of potatoes, squash and such things were stored in the barn. We hear the tractor was turned and probably other machinery. The barn belonged to the Hamilton estate, but the contents to the Robertsons. I do not know whether there was insurance or not, but they surely have the sympathy of all their many friends.

Word was received here by a telegram of the death of Mrs. James Owens of Tappanish, Wash., an old resident of Rogue River. Mrs. Owens had been ill for the past two years. She was a member of Live Oak Rebeccah lodge and has a host of friends here who will mourn her passing.

Wednesday night about 15 of the Odd Fellows went to Grants Pass and had the pleasure of seeing the Grants Pass team put on the third degree. After the lodge session they enjoyed a fine banquet served by the Grants Pass lodge, and at a late hour returned to their homes and said they sure thought Grants Pass great entertainers, as they had enjoyed every minute.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Duncan of Central Point were Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. Duncan's brother, Earl Scott and family.

The many friends of the Clarno family will be glad to know of their return. They arrived in Medford Saturday evening, came out to Reesse Creek Sunday school Sunday morning and visited with W. H. Crandall and family. They expect to remain in the vicinity this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed Carter left by motor last Thursday for Berkeley, Cal., where they will visit a couple of weeks with Mr. Carter's sister. They will also visit other relatives and friends while away.

The health nurse visited the school Tuesday morning. She says most of the pupils are of normal weight, which was encouraging. The primary room gave a short program Tuesday afternoon after the recess. The grade pupils helped out with some patriotic songs. The program was as follows:

The Live Oak Grange met at their hall Saturday evening and at about 5:30 a basket supper was enjoyed, after which the Grange met and several new members were initiated by the Enterprise Grange of Wimer. More names were proposed and will be initiated later. Our grange is steadily growing and more interest being taken.

Flag salute, by all the pupils; songs: "Listening Swallows" and "The Bunch," by first and second grades; recitation, "Little Pansose," Cora Crandall; recitation, "Come, Little Leaves," Sidney Thurston; song, "Flag of Our Native Land," third and fourth grades; recitation, "Try Again," Edison Crandall; recitation, "Autumn Fires," Norman Lewellyn; recitation, "Red in Summer," Robert Brittain; songs, "Bobby Shasta" and "Moon Lullaby," first and second grades; recitation, "Our Flag," Stewart Shearin; song, "A Round, Indian Baby," third grade girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott and Mrs. M. R. Bliss were Grants Pass shoppers Thursday.

The higher grades sang "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "Star Spangled Banner."

Mrs. James Milton left last week for Marshfield, where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Allan McGregory and family.

There was no school Wednesday, Armistice day.

P. H. Adams left recently on a business trip east.

The parent teachers will meet Friday afternoon instead of night, on November 20. All parent-teachers and patrons are expected to attend. The teachers expect to give a Thanksgiving program before Thanksgiving and invite all the parents and friends.

A very jolly party of friends met at the home of Mrs. Shepherd last Thursday evening and from there went to the home of her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Hodkin, and surprised them, it being their 16th wedding anniversary. A pleasant evening was spent and all left wishing Mr. and Mrs. Hodkin many more years of wedded happiness.

The subject for Sunday school next Sunday will be "Paul's Arrest in Jerusalem." Come and learn about Paul. There was a nice crowd out Sunday, but let us have a larger crowd this coming Sunday. The memory verse, "If a man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed," 1 Peter 4:16.

Mrs. A. T. Melvain returned Saturday from an extended stay at San Francisco, where she has been taking a course of study on the late hairdressing and cutting, also marcelling and she will now be pleased to see all her friends and patrons at her beauty shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Louden has been poorly all summer. Saturday afternoon she fainted while in the barber's chair, but is some better.

Mr. and Mrs. Chapman of Tappanish, Wash., have been visiting at the home of Bob Burkhart, but have gone on to California for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Nealy took dinner Sunday at H. Watkins.

The Odd Fellows are making plans now for a dance to be given in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bellows visited at the Vestal home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred O'Kelly took a wild goose chase into Klamath Sunday, but we failed to see the geese.

Hain't It the Linnit
 THEFTFORD, Eng. Land — King George and others in his hunting party have killed 1000 pheasants and 1,000 partridges in one day.
