

MAYOR OF SOFIA IS ASSASSINATED

SOPIA, Nov. 13.—(A. P.) M. Madjarow, mayor of Sofia and son of the Bulgarian diplomat, Michael Madjarow, was assassinated today by a former municipal employee, who had been discharged recently. The assassin committed suicide.

Mayor Madjarow's father was one of Bulgaria's leading statesmen before the war, being at various times minister to Russia and Great Britain and holding several portfolios in the Bulgarian cabinet. He was well known for his pro-ally attitude prior to Bulgaria's entrance into the war on the side of the central powers.

Jack Horton Promoted To Assist. Supervisor

Jack Horton, grazing inspector with the Crater national forest for several years past, has been promoted to assistant supervisor of the Umatilla national forest, with headquarters at Pendleton. He will leave with his family for that city early next week to take up his new duties.

While here Mr. Horton had been acting assistant forest supervisor to Hugh B. Rankin at different times. He entered the forest service in 1915 and since then has served in various sections of the state.

Free Vaudeville Tonight. Medford camp, Woodmen of the World, will give a free vaudeville show tonight at the high school auditorium for members and their friends. Man's Trouble Arrested

"The past 4 years I have been going down, down, down with catarrh of the stomach and had to give up work a year ago because of my weakened condition. I suffered terribly from bloating and colic attacks. Myr's Wonderful Remedy was recommended to me. I took a course of it and am now feeling fine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists. Adv.

Half the world is half asleep. It is terrible to feel all day long as if you were in a constant state of weariness. Yet thousands do, because constipation is destroying their energy—even their interest in life. Only Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brings sure and safe relief from this disease.

"Poor Betty! She always looks tired"

BETTY was the office mystery. Once pretty, her beauty now lay masked behind an unwholesome complexion. Once vivacious, she now seemed eternally tired—a drooping figure of disappointment and dismay. Too bad she didn't realize that it was constipation which was stealing her strength. But many men and women rid themselves forever of this devastating disease, by the simple, pleasant means of eating two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day—or in chronic cases, with every meal. As Kellogg's ALL-BRAN journeys through the system, its fiber remains unchanged. It is what doctors call a bulk food—a bulk food which sweeps the intestine clean—a bulk food which absorbs and carries moisture through the intestinal tract, stimulating natural, healthy action. Something habit-forming pills and drugs can never do. Serve Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with milk or cream, sprinkled over cereals; cooked with hot cereals; in soups, or made into the many recipes given on the package. Delicious with fruit, baked apple, etc. Caution: Only ALL-BRAN brings sure results. A part-bran product can only be partially effective. Kellogg's is the one, only and original ALL-BRAN. All grocers sell it. Buy a package today. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to bring permanent relief or the grocer returns the purchase price. Served in leading restaurants and hotels. The original ALL-BRAN—ready-to-eat

Returns From Berkeley Game Here Tomorrow

Returns of the Washington-California football game at Berkeley tomorrow will be broadcasted play by play from the front of the Craterian theater by the Virgin radio and the Craterian theater. Scores of cars bearing Washington students passed through the city this morning enroute to the game. Many local fans will leave this afternoon and evening for Eugene to see the annual O. A. C. U. of O. game.

Among the local football fans O. A. C. is the favorite to win by two touchdowns and California is favored to win from Washington. Interest in the coast games overshadows the big games in the east and middle west by a large margin.

HUNTLEY'S SONS TESTIFY

(Continued from page one.) kill him as sure as my name is Hattie." He said he had heard Huntley call for help, but did not know what he said. Mrs. Allen McClanahan, who lives a block away, corroborated the youth.

Robert McClanahan, a member of the grand jury that indicted Huntley, testified on the night of the stabbing he had been awakened "by a right smart fuss going on around the Huntley's," and had heard Mrs. Huntley shout, "If he touches Jess I'll kill him, as sure as my name is Hattie."

McClanahan also testified that he heard Huntley call: "How you fellows come up here!" The witness said that Mrs. Huntley was cursing and told the vile names she is alleged to have applied to Huntley.

George Quine, county judge of Douglas county and for ten years sheriff, testified to the good character of Huntley. It also developed from the testimony of Mrs. Vera Rice that State Senator B. L. Eddy of Douglas county had interested himself in the Huntley defense and had made a trip to this city to visit him.

Mrs. Vera Rice of Dillard testified that she was an old friend and neighbor of the Huntley's and that when she heard of the affray she came to see Huntley in jail, and "Hattie at her home." She said that Huntley could not read or write, and that she often read letters from Mrs. Huntley to him. Efforts of Mrs. Rice to testify to the family storms of the Huntleys were blocked by state objections.

The most picturesque witness of the afternoon session was Grant Clayton. Clayton admitted that he had been a star witness in the Dr. Braumfield murder case, but strenuously denied he was aiming to assume the same role in the present trial, as hinted by the state. Clayton said he had known Huntley "for a little better than 33 years" and "still owed him a little money."

Clayton testified that he had examined the woodshed last Wednesday where Gibbs slept and where Mrs. Huntley went to pray after the visit of Mr. Dewey and the prayer meeting, and produced a paper sack full of chips he had gathered. He testified that he had knelt down in the woodshed and that "no toe, or knee tracks" remained. He said it was impossible for cloth prints to show in the litter. The mother-in-law and the widow both testified that after the fatal melee they had seen the tracks of "Hattie's knee and toes" on the dirt. The defense maintains that the shed, alleged to have been used as a trysting place, was covered with litter. He also told of bruises he saw on Huntley's face two weeks after the affair, and on his shoulders the last week.

Alton Rice testified to the good character of Huntley in Douglas county. The witness said he had heard of the defendant "being implicated in the killing of a boy named Akers at a dance." He had known Huntley and his wife for a score of years.

The defense objected to the state referring to the fracas as a "murder," and was sustained by the court.

In the neighborhood of 20 witnesses are still to be called by the defense. The trial will last well into next week.

The Screen

By Ye Press Agent.

"Pony Express" at Craterian.

If the sensational enthusiasm of those who witnessed the local premiere of James Cruze's mighty film-mount western, "The Pony Express," at the Hunt's Craterian theater yesterday, may be accepted as a criterion, then the directorial wizard, who gave the world "The Covered Wagon," has produced another epic screen masterpiece.

"The Pony Express" has the historical realism and majestic sweep that distinguished its famous predecessor, but it is more colorful of a spectacle and more thrilling a romance than the picturization of Emerson Hough's great novel.

Not only has Cruze succeeded in giving a graphic, unforgettable picture of the stirring achievements of these rugged heroes, who established the first active communication between the east and the west, but with their terrific hardships, dangerous escapes and glorious victories as a dramatic background, he has deftly interwoven an irresistibly appealing love plot that lends a softening influence to the dynamic action.

To say that the characterizations fully measure up to the greatness of the story is to pay a well deserved tribute to the wholly delightful performance of Betty Compson as the heroine; to the histrionic ability and two-fisted manliness of Ricardo Cortez in the role of the fearless pony express rider; to the artistry of Ernest Torrence, whose portrayal of the eccentric religious fanatic is a memorable piece of acting; to the veracity of Wallace Beery, who adds to his laurels by playing a happy-go-lucky vagabond with a rollicking Chaplinesque touch, and to the host of minor players who acquit themselves with distinction.

The production marks another milestone in the history of motion pictures.

The advance sale of seats for "White Cargo" opened today at the Hunt's Craterian and from all indications a capacity audience will greet the appearance here of this noted success.
