

BABY CLINIC IS HELD AT ASHLAND, MANY EXAMINED

ASHLAND, Nov. 20. — Thursday was baby day in Ashland. The town celebrates a variety of different days and weeks for different interests, but one of the most interesting of all, is the baby day or baby clinic, which comes once a month. The clinic is held under the efficient supervision of the county health unit, which is composed of Dr. V. S. Geary, Miss Jennings, and Miss Beard, nurses, and Miss Koppe, secretary. Each month registration is made at the public library prior to the clinic, and when it is necessary, transportation is furnished for mothers who find it difficult to attend. On Thursday there were nineteen babies registered and seventeen appeared for examination. The plan is to give each infant a general examination, which may reveal any defects which may have escaped the mother. Then free medical advice is given where there is need, and return visits are made at the direction of the physician. The mothers seem eager for the advice and are genuinely grateful for the help.

A group of Ashland women have been faithful in advancing the work of the clinic. Among the workers on Thursday were members of the Ashland health committee, Mrs. H. O. Anderson and Mrs. D. Peruzzi, who made records of the various cases. Mrs. Fred Wagner and Mrs. C. W. Tilton gave the use of their cars in carrying mothers and babies to and from the clinic.

Possibly none of our public work gives more far reaching results than the time and effort spent in making strong healthy babies for the babies. Superintendent George A. Brisson will give an address before the Parent-Teacher circle of the Bellview district on Friday evening of this week. The talk will be an incident of education week.

Mrs. Ella B. Mills left on Thursday evening for Los Angeles, California, where she intends to spend the winter months.

Dan Kay, W. J. Oldfield, H. C. Stock and Merritt Randals formed a party for duck shooting in Klamath county. They returned Wednesday evening and reported a very successful trip.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Roberts announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Royena, to Mr. Dennis W. Myers of Needles, California. The wedding took place November 14th, at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. J. R. Benson, at Myrtle Point, Oregon. Rev. Charles H. Hulst read the impressive ring ceremony.

Mrs. Benson's home was beautiful with decorations of ivy and chrysanthemum. The bride was beautifully attired in white and carried a lovely bunch of white chrysanthemum. The bride's attendant, Miss Pearl Hendricks, wore pale green satin. Guests at the wedding were relatives of the bride and groom.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Myers returned to Ashland on Sunday. The newly married pair will be at home to their friends at Needles after December first.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Lockhart and daughter, Jean, of St. John, Washington, are visiting in Ashland with Mr. Lockhart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lockhart on the Boulevard.

Ashland Boy Scouts will be busy Saturday morning gathering up bundles of discarded clothing that Ashland people will donate to the Near East Relief. Shipping tags were distributed on last Saturday to be used for bundles wrapped and ready for shipment which are to be collected on Saturday, November 21st. Others who have used clothing to donate may call No. 211 or 253-Y.

Paul G. Goheen of Sherwood, North Dakota, is here to spend the winter with his sister, Miss Edna Goheen, who teaches at the Junior high school.

Miss Mary Woods has gone to Los Angeles to spend the winter.

J. P. Dodge and Sons, furniture dealers, are making interior improvements on their store building. The plastering on the ceiling was dropping off, so a fine, new metallic ceiling has been added, which not only protects the contents of the room from falling plaster, but also adds to the appearance of the room.

Mrs. Emily Bartges, mother of Mr. W. H. Bartges of this city, passed away on Monday at her home in Portland. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bartges were called to Portland Sunday in response to the news of their mother's illness.

Rev. P. K. Hammond has gone to Portland to conduct the funeral of Mrs. Bartges which was held from the Finley chapel on Wednesday afternoon.

Education week was observed by the Ashland Commercial club with a dinner at the Lithia Springs hotel. There were 1000 members of the club present to listen to an earnest address by Roy H. Hewitt, assistant professor of political science at the Oregon Agricultural college. Mr. Hewitt made an eloquent appeal for the education of the youth of the country against war. The speaker insisted that such a program of education would, by stripping war of its glamor and glory put an end to strife.

Music numbers varied the program. Both Lawrence Wagner and Kenneth Hobson were heard in solo numbers which were a delight to their audience.

NATIONAL GRANGE EXPECTED TO FAVOR INCOME TAX CUT

SACRAMENTO, Cal. Nov. 20. — (A. P.) A general summary of the business which will come before the delegates to the National Grange convention before the closing minutes tonight, was given out today by officers of the organization.

All of the questions to be touched upon are national ones. Briefly outlined the resolutions are as follows:

The repeal of the recent raise in parcel post rates; a petition to the government asking that more funds be set aside for protection against European cattle diseases and the corn borer; general resolutions asking for reduction in taxes, particularly income taxes and a request that the war debts be paid in full.

The resolutions already out of the hands of committees and awaiting the opening of the session for debate include:

Appropriation introduced by Jesse Newsom of Indiana which if passed, will place the Grange on record against ship subsidy; T. H. Dwyer's Muscle Shoals resolution asking that the government complete its arrangements as to the purchase of the property; two resolutions on child labor, one introduced by Harry A. Eaton of Ohio, against the bill, and another by G. A. Palmiter, asking the support of the Grange for the question; a resolution by H. M. Sawyer of New Hampshire requesting that co-operative bodies be exempt from taxation and a resolution opposing establishment of a director of education as a member of the cabinet in Washington.

PARIS, Nov. 20. — (A. P.) — Premier Painleve took the floor in the chamber of deputies this forenoon and declared that the chamber must finally decide between a procrastinating financial policy and an immediate settlement of the financial situation.

The country can wait no longer, the premier said. Replying to his critics, he declared that they had no projects to offer. His proposals, he said, had at least the merit that they really existed.

THE DATE TREE

Nov. 20, 1497—428 years ago—Vasco da Gama rounds the Cape of Good Hope on the first voyage to India. At that time European commerce with India was being carried on by caravans across the Sahara desert, but the Portuguese navigator, like Columbus, believing that there might exist a sea route to that country had set out in search of it. After rounding the Cape, da Gama proceeded up the east coast, where, after hurricanes and mutinies, he at last encountered a native of India and was piloted by him through the Indian Ocean, reaching Calicut after a voyage of 301 days.
